BACKGROUND

BACKGROUND

In 2026, Arlington County engaged Zilo International Group LLC to conduct a comprehensive resident survey in support of the County's continued commitment to data-driven planning, performance management, and service excellence. Arlington County is a highly engaged and diverse community within the Washington, D.C. metropolitan region, with a longstanding emphasis on responsive governance, high-quality public services, and continuous improvement across departments. This engagement reflects the County's recognition that understanding resident experiences, not just measuring service outputs, is essential to effective, equitable governance, and that resident feedback is a critical input to sound decision-making at every level of County operations.

Contextual Background

The survey was conducted during a period of heightened public attention to government operations and community decision-making at the local, regional, and national levels. Broader public discourse during this period included ongoing conversations regarding trust in government institutions, transparency, public engagement, and the role of local government in addressing community concerns. This broader context provides important framing for interpreting survey results over time.

Project Purpose

The Arlington County Resident Satisfaction Survey was designed to collect comprehensive data reflecting resident perceptions, experiences, and priorities related to County services, programs, and community conditions. The survey builds upon prior efforts, enabling longitudinal comparison while incorporating updated areas of focus aligned with current and emerging community issues. By maintaining continuity with previous survey cycles, the County is able to assess not only where things stand today, but how resident sentiment and service perceptions have evolved over time.

Project Overview

A total of 1,613 completed surveys were collected through a multi-modal approach encompassing mail, phone, online, and in-person outreach. This approach was designed to maximize participation and broaden representation across geographic areas and demographic groups, with particular attention to populations that are often underrepresented in traditional survey efforts. The resulting dataset achieves a 95% confidence level with a margin of error of approximately $\pm 2.4\%$, providing a strong and reliable statistical foundation for analysis and interpretation.

The findings serve as a planning and decision-making resource, enabling Arlington County to evaluate service performance, identify gaps, and prioritize investments in a way that is grounded in the lived experiences and expectations of residents. The survey was designed to capture the full range of interactions and experiences residents have with their County government. Key areas of focus included:

- Satisfaction with core County services, including public safety, transportation, infrastructure, parks and recreation, libraries, and human services

BACKGROUND

- Perceptions of quality of life, including safety, affordability, mobility, and community well-being
- Trust in and transparency of County government and its decision-making processes
- Communication and engagement preferences, including how residents access information and interact with the County
- Awareness of and satisfaction with the County's equity and climate-related efforts
- Barriers to service access, awareness, and utilization

Project Context

The 2026 Resident Satisfaction Survey was conducted in February and March 2026. Arlington County's location across the river from Washington, D.C., makes it particularly subject to impacts of decisions by the federal government, including workforce layoffs and immigration policy, leading to an overall lack of trust in government at any level. Locally, Arlington experienced a once-in-a-lifetime snowstorm in January 2026 that impacted residents views of street maintenance and some County services. While these factors should not change how the results are viewed, they provide import context with which to view response trends.

METHODOLOGY

Zilo International Group employed a research-driven methodology to ensure the 2026 Arlington County Resident Survey produced accurate, reliable, and actionable findings. The approach was grounded in established survey research principles and tailored to Arlington's specific community context, accounting for the County's demographic diversity, the geographic distribution of its residents, and the breadth of services and issues the survey was designed to evaluate.

From the outset, the methodology was structured to capture as broad and representative a cross-section of community perspectives as possible. Outreach was designed to reach residents across neighborhoods, housing types, time in the County, and demographic groups, with deliberate attention given to populations that are often underrepresented in traditional survey efforts.

Decisions at every stage were guided by a shared commitment to methodological integrity and inclusive engagement, with the goal of producing findings that reflect the full range of voices across Arlington's diverse community. The resulting body of resident input is intended to serve as a meaningful and trustworthy resource for County leadership and staff as they navigate decisions around service delivery, resource allocation, and policy priorities in the years ahead.

1. Survey Design and Preparation

The survey instrument was developed by Arlington County and informed by departmental priorities, prior survey efforts, and current community needs. The questionnaire was designed to capture resident experiences, perceptions, and priorities across a wide range of County services, programs, and quality of life indicators.

The survey was administered in both English and Spanish to support accessibility and inclusive participation. It covered fifteen subject areas, including County services, governance and trust, communications, customer service, racial equity, climate policy, public safety, human services, parks and recreation, public works, transportation, utilities, libraries, economic development, and code enforcement, reflecting the full breadth of the County's operations and the depth of information being sought.

The instrument drew on a mix of question types suited to different analytical goals: Likert-scale and satisfaction rating questions to measure perceptions of service quality and performance; importance-ranking questions to identify resident priorities within service categories; behavioral and frequency questions to understand how residents access and use County services; demographic questions aligned with federal standards to support equity analysis; and an open-ended question inviting residents to share anything else they wanted County government to know.

Where possible, the design maintained continuity with prior survey iterations to support trend analysis and longitudinal comparison, allowing the County to assess how resident perceptions have shifted over time alongside the current findings.

METHODOLOGY

2. Sampling, Outreach, and Data Collection

Zilo implemented a multi-modal data collection strategy designed to maximize participation and capture a broad and diverse range of resident perspectives. The survey was administered through mailed invitations, online participation, telephone outreach, and in-person engagement, providing multiple accessible pathways for residents to respond while balancing structured outreach with inclusive community access.

A central component of the methodology was coordinated engagement with community partners and stakeholder organizations across Arlington. Outreach was conducted through a wide network of civic associations, nonprofit organizations, educational institutions, business groups, and faith-based organizations. Many partners supported survey promotion through newsletters, email distribution lists, and direct community engagement, significantly extending the survey's reach beyond traditional distribution channels and helping connect with residents less likely to respond through mail or online methods.

In-person outreach was a particularly significant component of data collection, with approximately 20 days of on-site engagement conducted across a wide range of community locations throughout Arlington. Sites were intentionally selected to maximize geographic and demographic reach and included County library branches, community and recreation centers, human services facilities, food assistance sites, and high-traffic community events, such as local farmers markets. This level of was instrumental in reaching residents who may be less likely to participate through traditional channels, thereby broadening the diversity of perspectives captured.

All data collection activities were conducted in accordance with standardized protocols to ensure consistency, data integrity, and a positive participant experience. This included neutral and unbiased administration of the survey instrument, procedures to minimize duplicate responses across collection modes, and clear, consistent communication regarding the purpose of the survey and the confidentiality of responses.

Through this approach, a total of 1,613 completed surveys were collected. The resulting dataset achieves a 95% confidence level with a margin of error of approximately $\pm 2.4\%$, providing a strong and reliable foundation for analysis and interpretation of resident feedback.

3. Data Quality Assurance

Zilo implemented a structured quality assurance process to ensure the integrity, consistency, and reliability of the dataset prior to analysis. Data quality was treated as a foundational priority throughout the project, recognizing that the value of resident feedback depends not only on the volume of responses collected but on the accuracy and consistency with which that data is processed and prepared for use.

All responses, regardless of collection mode, were systematically reviewed and integrated into a single, cohesive dataset. Paper surveys completed through in-person and mail channels were carefully transcribed and independently verified for accuracy, with particular attention paid to ensuring alignment with responses captured through digital and telephone channels. This cross-modal integration required deliberate attention to formatting and consistency.

Quality assurance procedures included a thorough review of all responses for completeness and internal consistency, verification of data entry across all records to minimize transcription error, and standardized coding and formatting to ensure uniform treatment of responses throughout the dataset. Records were also reviewed to identify and address potential duplicate submissions across collection modes, maintaining the integrity of the overall response pool.

Once cleaned and verified, the dataset was organized and structured to support aggregation and reporting across all survey topics. These steps were taken to ensure that the findings presented in this report rest on a solid, well-vetted foundation, and that County leadership and staff can draw on the results with confidence.

4. Data Analysis and Reporting

Zilo conducted a structured analysis of survey responses to evaluate resident perceptions, service performance, and community priorities across Arlington County. The analysis was designed to move beyond a simple presentation of results, focusing instead on identifying meaningful patterns, areas of strength, and opportunities for improvement in a way that is directly useful to County leadership and staff.

Responses were organized and reviewed across all service areas and topic sections, with results contextualized against prior survey findings where applicable. This longitudinal perspective allows the County to assess not just where things stand today, but how resident sentiment has shifted over time, providing a more complete picture of performance trends and emerging priorities than a single point-in-time snapshot can offer.

The survey included one open-ended question inviting residents to share anything else they wanted County government to know. Responses were reviewed and synthesized to identify recurring themes and representative feedback. While the survey was primarily quantitative in design, this qualitative input adds texture and nuance to the findings, offering context that satisfaction ratings alone cannot always capture. Full responses are included in their entirety in Appendix A.

To maintain consistency with prior survey reports and support valid trend comparison, "don't know" responses were excluded from selected charts and visual summaries. This treatment ensures that results are directly comparable to previous findings and that satisfaction ratings reflect a consistent base of respondents across survey cycles. The complete dataset, including all response categories, was provided to Arlington County, ensuring full transparency and enabling any additional review the County may wish to conduct.

METHODOLOGY

Findings were synthesized into a clear, accessible report integrating narrative analysis with visual summaries, designed to give County leadership a practical and well-grounded basis for decision-making across planning, policy, and service delivery.

Methodological Integrity and Considerations

The methodology employed for the 2026 Arlington County Resident Survey reflects a deliberate and adaptable approach to community data collection, one that prioritized both rigor and inclusivity at every stage. The combination of multimodal distribution, broad partner engagement, and an extensive in-person outreach effort produced a dataset that captures a wide range of resident perspectives across neighborhoods, demographics, and service experiences.

As with any voluntary survey effort, achieving perfect demographic alignment presents inherent challenges. Residents who choose to participate may differ in meaningful ways from those who do not, and no outreach strategy can fully eliminate this dynamic. Additionally, social media targeting and contact lists previously used to identify potential participants are no longer permitted. The steps taken throughout this project, including targeted engagement with hard-to-reach populations, partnerships with community-based and faith-based organizations, and on-the-ground presence, were designed to mitigate these limitations as much as practicable and reflect industry-standard approaches to maximizing participation and representativeness.

The resulting dataset provides a reliable and meaningful foundation for understanding how Arlington residents experience County services, what they value most, and where they see room for improvement. When considered alongside other data sources available to the County, these findings offer a valuable and actionable perspective to inform planning, budgeting, and policy decisions in the years ahead.

KEY FINDINGS

KEY FINDINGS

The Key Findings section provides a high-level synthesis of the most significant results from the 2026 Arlington County Resident Survey. Rather than presenting data question by question, this section distills the most meaningful patterns, trends, and takeaways across all survey topics, offering County leadership and staff a concise and accessible entry point into the full findings. It is organized to highlight areas of strength, identify persistent challenges, and surface the themes that emerged most prominently from both the quantitative ratings and the open-ended responses submitted by residents.

*Satisfaction levels are calculated as the sum of respondents who selected “very satisfied” or “satisfied”

*Agreement levels are calculated as the sum of respondents who selected “strongly agree” or “agree”

County Services

The County services section of the survey encompasses a wide range of programs, services, and resources that the County provides to its residents on a day-to-day basis. This includes public safety services (police, fire, and emergency medical services), infrastructure maintenance (streets, water and wastewater services, and stormwater runoff systems), recreational activities (parks, recreation programs, libraries, and arts/cultural programs), and administrative functions (code enforcement, customer service, and public communication).

Survey data reflected positive resident perceptions of a multitude of County services, with 81.9% of residents indicating that they were satisfied with the overall quality of services provided by the County 79.5% with the overall image of Arlington. The quality of library services was highly regarded by many residents, reporting 89.4% satisfaction. Similarly, residents had a positive perception of the quality of fire and emergency medical services, with data showing 89.1% levels of satisfaction, which was also the highest ranked area of importance among residents (57.2%).

Other areas of high satisfaction included County parks/recreation/sports programs and facilities (83.5%), police services (77.5%), arts/cultural programs (76.4%), and customer service received from County employees (75.9%)

Enforcement of County codes and ordinances (43.4%) and management of traffic on County streets (45.9%) were the two lowest rated in satisfaction, serving as areas that may require additional County attention.

Overall, residents displayed an optimistic attitude towards many of the County services, with high points, such as library services and fire and emergency medical services.

County Governance

The County governance component of the survey refers to the structure, leadership, and systems by which the County is directed and managed. This includes the roles and responsibilities of the County Board and employees, as well as the system governing how decisions are made, policies implemented, and information communicated to the public.

KEY FINDINGS

Residents demonstrated moderate levels of agreement across the County governance questions. A majority of residents (71.0%) reported being familiar with the County's form of government and County Board structure, while 63.8% indicated that they trust information provided by the County.

Still, the survey reveals a level of distrust from residents, with just half of residents (49.5%) that trust County elected officials and slightly more than half of residents (55.9%) that trust the County manager and County employees.

Overall, the findings suggest that while residents are generally familiar with how the County operates and show some confidence in official communications, there are opportunities to strengthen trust in County leadership. Enhancing transparency, communication, and public engagement may help improve resident confidence in governance over time.

Communication and Engagement

The communication and engagement segment refers to the various channels and methods that the County utilizes to communicate information to the public. This included digital platforms (County website, social media, newsletters), traditional media (print materials, local radio, news outlets), and community-based outreach (Civic/Condo Association).

The top three primary sources that residents used to gather information about County issues, services, and events were the County website (62.8%), print/online media (57.2%), and Inside Arlington (47.4%). Residents also provided other write-in responses, highlighting other resources that they use to gather information that were not listed in the survey. The most common methods that residents listed were word of mouth, email subscriptions, Reddit, and library newsletters.

The survey data reveals that respondents rely on a multitude of different resources to learn about important County issues and events, reflecting the importance of a multimodal communication strategy to effectively reach and engage residents.

Customer Service

Among residents who contacted the County in the past year, satisfaction varied notably depending on the channel used, with in-person and phone interactions outperforming digital and formal channels by a meaningful margin.

In-person contact at a County office or facility and contact by phone were the highest-rated channels, with satisfaction at 69.8% and 70.2% respectively, suggesting that direct, person-to-person interactions continue to be the most effective touchpoints for resident service. Email (57.0%) and Report-a-Problem (57.7%) performed moderately, while the County website's Contact Us form received a somewhat lower satisfaction rating of 54.6%.

Mailed letters (50.0%), contact through the Constituent Services team (36.2%), and contact through the

KEY FINDINGS

County Board Office, at a Board meeting or Open Door Monday (39.0%) received the lowest satisfaction ratings in this section. The relatively low marks for the Constituent Services team and Board-level engagement channels are noteworthy given their role as direct conduits between residents and County leadership, and are consistent with broader open-ended feedback expressing frustration with the responsiveness and accessibility of County government.

Overall, the results suggest that residents are most satisfied when they can engage with County staff directly and in real time, while more formal or digitally mediated channels present an opportunity for improvement in both responsiveness and user experience.

Race and Equity

The race and equity section of the community survey covers the County's efforts to ensure that all residents, regardless of race, ethnicity, religion, ability, gender, sexuality, income, or other characteristics, have equitable access to County services and resources. This includes the County's efforts to promote equitable outcomes across a wide range of areas, such as budgeting, policy development, communication, public safety services, recreational programs, housing, transportation, and more.

Overall, more than half of residents (58.5%) were very familiar or somewhat familiar with the County's efforts to advance racial equity, while the remaining respondents indicated that they were unfamiliar.

Across the areas evaluated, residents were most satisfied with the equitable access to library services (82.1%). Other highly-rated areas included fire, emergency, and medical services (76.4%), parks and recreation programs (75.1%), and green spaces (69.6%).

In contrast, lower levels of satisfaction were reported for equitable housing options (42.5%), the development of the County's budget (47.9%), and efforts to address environmental burdens (51.5%). These findings highlight areas where residents may perceive gaps in equitable outcomes.

Overall, the results highlight that residents were satisfied with the equitable offerings of several services areas, particularly those related to public safety and community amenities, but there are opportunities to strengthen both awareness and confidence in the County's equity efforts, especially in more complex or systemic areas such as housing, budgeting, and environmental conditions.

Climate Policy

The climate policy component of the survey refers to the County's efforts to address climate change and promote environmental sustainability. This includes initiatives aimed at reducing contributions to climate pollution, providing guidance to residents, encouraging collective action, and strengthening community resilience to climate-related impacts.

The survey reveals that residents had the highest levels of awareness for the County's efforts to provide practical guidance to individuals (82.2% very aware or somewhat aware). Three-quarters of respondents (74.9% very aware or somewhat aware) were aware of the County's efforts to explain its actions to reduce the contribution to climate pollution.

Overall, a majority of residents expressed awareness across all areas of climate policy included in the survey. These findings suggest that County efforts to communicate climate initiatives are reaching a broad audience, particularly in areas related to individual action and climate mitigation.

Police Services

The police services component of the survey focuses on public safety and the quality and effectiveness of police services. This includes safety in different settings across the County (neighborhoods, commercial areas, areas with nightlife) and aspects of police services (crime prevention, traffic law enforcement, community engagement).

Respondents had perceptions of high levels of safety in the County (84.3% very safe or safe), with residents reporting the highest safety ratings within their neighborhoods (89.7% very safe or safe).

Residents also expressed high levels of satisfaction with the quality of local police service (80.4%), which was identified by 50.4% of respondents as the most important police-related factor. This suggests a strong alignment between resident priorities and perceived service quality. Additionally, residents reported positive perceptions of the overall competence of police department employees (76.6%), as well as officer's attitudes/behavior in their interactions with the community (75.2%).

Overall, the findings indicate that residents feel safe and view police services positively, particularly in areas related to service quality and professionalism. The alignment between what residents value most and their satisfaction levels suggests that current policing efforts are effectively meeting many community expectations, while continued focus on key service areas can help maintain and build upon this confidence.

Emergency Preparedness

The emergency preparedness section of the survey discusses the County's resources to ensure public safety during emergencies and non-emergencies. This includes the County's 9-1-1, non-emergency services for public safety assistance, and emergency alerts.

Altogether, residents had positive perceptions of the County's emergency preparedness efforts. Satisfaction levels were high for both the County's 9-1-1 and non-emergency services for public safety assistance (79.0%) and the County's emergency alerts shared during emergencies (76.9%).

These findings suggest that residents have confidence in the County's ability to respond effectively to emergencies and provide timely communication during critical situations. The consistently high ratings indicate that core emergency response systems are functioning well and are viewed as reliable by the community, underscoring the importance of maintaining these services to support preparedness.

KEY FINDINGS

Human Services

The human services portion of the survey addresses the County's ability to support residents on a variety of aspects that impact their daily life. This includes services and programs aimed at supporting individuals with mental health, developmental, and substance use needs; helping older adults age in place; assisting residents in meeting basic needs; and promoting access to affordable childcare.

Residents expressed moderate levels of satisfaction for a multitude of areas regarding human services. On average, residents had satisfaction levels hovering around 50-60%, with relatively higher satisfaction ratings for promoting positive physical and mental health for infants, children and youth (57.3%) and helping residents meet their basic needs (56.0%).

In contrast, residents expressed lower levels of satisfaction regarding the availability, accessibility, and quality of affordable childcare, which received the lowest rating (39.8%).

Overall, the findings suggest that while the County is meeting resident needs in several core human service areas, but there are notable opportunities for improvement, particularly in expanding access to affordable childcare. Strengthening services in lower-rated areas may help improve overall satisfaction and better support residents across different stages of life.

Parks and Recreation

The parks and recreation section of the survey discusses the availability of the County's recreational amenities, programs, and natural resources. This includes amenities and services such as parks, walking and biking trails, athletic fields, sports and recreation programs, special events, and off-leash dog areas.

Parks and recreation is one of the strongest performing sections in the entire survey, with satisfaction ratings consistently high across all the surveyed items. Walking and biking trails received the highest satisfaction rating in the section at 86.0%, the largest share of strong positive responses among all parks and recreation items. Maintenance of County parks followed closely at 84.3%, and community and nature centers (82.7%), and outdoor athletic fields (82.0%), all reflecting deep and consistent resident appreciation for the County's core park infrastructure.

Off-leash dog areas received the lowest satisfaction rating in this section (62.1%), though they remain a generally positive component of parks and recreation services.

Overall, parks and recreation stands out as one of the County's most consistently well-regarded service areas, with no significant areas of concern and dissatisfaction remaining minimal across the board.

Public Works

The public works component of the survey refers to the County's maintenance of physical infrastructure and public buildings. This includes maintenance of major and neighborhood streets, sidewalks, County facilities, and public lighting, as well as seasonal services such as snow removal.

Adequacy of street lighting in commercial/retail areas garnered the most satisfaction (77.5%) from residents. This was followed closely by maintenance of County facilities (75.1%), overall cleanliness of County streets and public areas (72.6%), and street lighting in neighborhoods (69.9%).

By contrast, snow removal had the lowest satisfaction levels. Both aspects regarding snow removal received the satisfaction levels below 50%, with snow removal on County streets (not including Interstates) receiving 45.9% satisfaction and snow removal on County trails (not including W&OD) receiving 41.5% satisfaction.

Overall, the findings indicate that residents are generally satisfied with the County's maintenance of public infrastructure and facilities, particularly in areas such as street lighting, facility maintenance, and overall cleanliness of public spaces, while there are opportunities to review and strengthen seasonal maintenance operations.

Transportation

The transportation section of the survey highlights the multitude of factors impacting resident transit. This includes factors such as ease and convenience of getting around the County, safety, cost, availability and quality of transportation options, and mode of transportation (walk, bike, drive).

Quality of Metro rail services was the most highly regarded transportation item, receiving 83.2% satisfaction. Other well-recognized categories included ease of traveling within Arlington County (72.6%), Arlington's transit system ART (71.6%), and Metro bus services (71.1%).

Parking-related items in contrast, were among the lowest rated by residents. Specifically, the cost of public parking received 37.1% satisfaction and availability and ease of parking in commercial areas received 47.8% satisfaction.

Driving was the most frequently used mode of transportation (83.6% very often or often). This reliance on personal vehicles, combined with lower satisfaction related to parking, highlights a potential area of tension between travel behavior and available infrastructure.

Overall, the findings point to a transportation system with strong public transit performance but continued opportunities to better align infrastructure and parking management with residents' travel patterns and needs.

Utility Services

The utility services portion of the survey assesses the quality, reliability, and effectiveness of essential public utility services provided by the County. This includes waste services (trash collection, curbside recycling, yard waste removal, and food waste recycling) and water-related services (drinking water supply, wastewater and sewage treatment, and stormwater infrastructure).

Overall, satisfaction levels across most utility service categories were relatively high, hovering around 75% satisfaction. Drinking water services was among the highest rated service, receiving 77.1% satisfaction. Other similarly well-received services included yard waste removal (75.9%), residential trash collection (75.6%), and wastewater and sewage treatment (74.5%).

In contrast, lower satisfaction was reported for stormwater infrastructure (62.0%) and food waste recycling services (67.2%).

Overall, the findings suggest that residents are largely satisfied with core utility services, particularly those related to water supply and waste collection. However, lower ratings for stormwater infrastructure and food waste recycling indicate potential areas for continued improvement.

Libraries

The library portion of the survey refers to the County's library resources, programs, and facilities, as well as barriers that may prevent usage. This includes a wide range of services such as borrowing materials, attending programs and events, using study and meeting spaces, accessing technology and digital resources, participating in reading programs, and utilizing specialized services and collections.

Overall, the County's library system was one of the most well-regarded County services, earning very high marks across the survey. Among residents who had used the library within the past year, they most commonly used it to check out books or other library materials (85.2%). Other frequently used services included spending time in a library for activities such as reading, relaxing, and meetings friends (72.4%), along with using the library app (50.6%) and accessing Wifi (40.4%).

Among residents who had not used library services in the past year, the most frequent reasons were that visiting the library was not part of their routine (43.9%) and/or they were too busy to use library services (31.7%). Some residents also provided write-in responses, most commonly citing not needing library services, preferring digital options, or purchasing books personally.

Overall, the findings suggest that the library system is widely valued by those who use it, with strong engagement in traditional lending and in-person services. At the same time, non-use appears to be driven largely by lifestyle factors and personal preference rather than service dissatisfaction, indicating opportunities to further promote awareness of available offerings and highlight the library's broader range of digital and community-based resources.

Economic Development

The economic development component of the survey examines the County's efforts to support a strong and sustainable local economy. This includes initiatives aimed at attracting and retaining high-quality jobs, promoting and growing businesses, and encouraging quality development and redevelopment within the County.

Resident satisfaction was generally moderate across the surveyed items, with a majority of residents expressing positive views on County's ability to attract jobs, businesses, and visitors. Residents had the greatest satisfaction for the County's capacity to retain high-quality jobs, citing 57.4% satisfaction. Following closely behind, the County's ability to attract visitors and promote Arlington County as a destination received 55.4% satisfaction.

Conversely, residents felt more uncertainty towards the County's efforts to support and grow Arlington's small businesses along with attract quality development and redevelopment, reporting 41.1% and 43.5% satisfaction respectively.

Overall, the findings suggest that residents view the County's economic development efforts moderately positively in terms of job retention and destination promotion, while perceptions are more mixed regarding small business support and development activity. These results point to opportunities to strengthen communication and initiatives.

Code Enforcement

The code enforcement component of the survey examines the County's enforcement of regulations that support community health, safety, and quality of life. This includes the enforcement of property maintenance standards, construction site conditions, noise regulations, and food safety in restaurants.

Residents held positive perceptions of the County's ability to enforce cleanliness and safety of food in restaurants, which received 75.1% satisfaction. In contrast, satisfaction levels were lower across the remaining enforcement areas, with all falling below 50%. Enforcement of property maintenance received 43.9% satisfaction, noise regulations received 40.3%, and enforcement of construction site conditions received 39.0%.

These results indicate potential opportunities to strengthen visibility, responsiveness, and public understanding of enforcement activities related to property maintenance, construction conditions, and noise regulations.

Open-Ended Question

The open-ended portion of the survey allowed residents to provide additional comments and feedback for Arlington County Government beyond the structured survey questions. This addition recognizes that while structured satisfaction measures are useful for tracking performance and trends, they do not fully capture the context or detail behind resident perceptions. Open-ended responses provide qualitative insight that complements the quantitative findings and offers a more complete understanding of resident views.

The volume of responses was substantial, and the feedback included a wide range of topics and perspectives. Residents used this opportunity to elaborate on survey ratings, raise issues not covered elsewhere in the instrument, and provide input on County services, programs, and broader community conditions. Responses reflected a broad cross-section of viewpoints across neighborhoods and demographic groups.

Several topics generated a notably large volume of responses and warrant specific mention. The proposed closure of Barcroft Gymnastics was the most frequently referenced specific issue, with respondents raising concerns related to program continuity and the decision-making and communication process. Discussion of this issue coincided with the County's annual budget meetings, where public advocacy and discussion ultimately contributed to the decision not to close the program.

The deer management program also received a significant number of comments, with residents expressing differing views on the approach and the extent of public engagement. These topics were frequently cited in relation to broader themes of communication, transparency, and resident participation in County decision-making.

The themes that emerged most prominently are summarized in the survey findings. Full responses are included in their entirety in Appendix A.

Demographic Questions

The demographic profile of survey respondents reflects a respondent pool that skews toward long-term, higher-income homeowners, a pattern consistent with prior survey cycles and typical of voluntary community surveys. Nearly three-quarters of respondents (72.4%) own their home, and 54.2% live in single-family residences. Almost half have lived in Arlington for 20 or more years, and 42.6% report household incomes of $200,000 or more.

Racially and ethnically, 67.3% of respondents identified as White, followed by Asian (9.3%), Hispanic or Latino (8.2%), and Black or African American (6.4%), with 12.1% preferring not to respond. While this distribution is broadly consistent with prior survey cycles, it does not fully reflect Arlington's diverse population. Despite deliberate outreach efforts, including in-person engagement at human services facilities, food distribution sites, and community events, participation from racial and ethnic minority communities remained limited. The current political climate, including concerns about data privacy and immigration enforcement, created additional barriers to participation among some groups. This is an important limitation to consider when applying findings to equity-related planning, and reinforces the value of continued investment in culturally responsive outreach in future cycles.

English was the primary home language for 94.5% of respondents, with Spanish second at 4.8%. Female respondents made up 52.9% of the sample and male respondents 39.2%. Nearly 10% of respondents reported having a disability. Household age representation was broad, with particularly strong participation from households with school-age children and residents aged 65 and older. Just under 12% of respondents own or operate a business in Arlington County.

KEY FINDINGS

Closing Remarks

The 2026 Arlington County Resident Survey reflects a community that is broadly satisfied with the quality of life Arlington provides and genuinely invested in its continued success. Residents expressed strong appreciation for the County's core strengths, particularly the library system, fire and emergency medical services, parks and recreation, and public transit, all of which earned consistently high marks and reflect the value of the County's long-standing commitment to high-quality service delivery.

The historical data tells an encouraging story. Satisfaction has rebounded meaningfully across several service areas since 2022, with notable gains in police services, human services, and overall service quality pointing to real and tangible progress. These improvements reflect the efforts of County leadership and staff, and provide a strong foundation on which to continue building.

At the same time, the findings offer a clear-eyed view of where residents see room for growth. Traffic enforcement, code enforcement, transparency in decision-making, and the cost of living remain areas of concern that residents raised consistently and with conviction. Addressing these priorities, not incrementally, but with the same commitment that has produced results in other areas, represents the County's greatest opportunity to deepen resident confidence and trust in the years ahead.

The open-ended responses reinforce what the data shows: Arlington residents are engaged, thoughtful, and proud of their community. Their feedback reflects a high bar, one set by residents who care deeply about where they live and who want their County government to meet them there.

Taken together, these findings provide County leadership with a rich and actionable understanding of resident experiences and priorities, a strong platform for the strategic decisions, investments, and conversations that will shape Arlington's future.

Among residents who selected "Other (please specify)," write-in responses most commonly cited simply not needing library services, preferring digital options, or purchasing books personally. Beyond identifying additional reasons for non-use, several respondents used the open-ended field to express strong support for keeping libraries open, particularly the Cherrydale branch, which was mentioned repeatedly as an essential neighborhood resource. The survey was conducted during the County's budget meetings when public advocacy regarding the Cherrydale branch was ongoing and ultimately contributed to the branch remaining open. Some raised concerns about safety and comfort in library spaces, citing the presence of homeless individuals in restrooms and common areas. Others expressed frustration with shortened hours, long wait times for physical books, limited e-book purchasing, and programming some described as politically one-sided. On the positive side, a number of respondents praised Arlington's library system overall, highlighted the Libby app, and encouraged the County to increase rather than reduce library funding. OPEN-ENDED QUESTION

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

Resident feedback reflects genuine appreciation for Arlington County's overall quality of life, alongside clear and recurring priorities for improvement that cut across neighborhoods, demographics, and tenure types.

Public safety and transportation emerged as the most consistently raised concerns. Residents described unsafe road conditions, red-light running, speeding, and what many characterized as insufficient traffic enforcement by ACPD. Frustrations with congestion, parking availability and cost, and the reliability of transit options were closely intertwined with these safety concerns, and together represent the single largest cluster of feedback in the open-ended responses.

Housing affordability was one of the most significant and polarizing topics in the survey. Responses were sharply divided, some residents support increased density and faster development to address housing costs, while others expressed strong opposition to policies such as Missing Middle zoning, citing concerns about neighborhood character, tree loss, and whether new development is genuinely producing affordable units. Across both camps, frustration with the County's communication and process around development decisions was a near-universal theme.

The cost of living and tax burden surfaced repeatedly, with many residents noting that rising property taxes and fees are not consistently matched by perceived improvements in service quality. This sentiment was closely linked to broader concerns about government transparency and responsiveness, particularly the sense that resident input is gathered but not meaningfully reflected in decisions.

At the same time, residents were emphatic about the importance of maintaining core infrastructure and basic services. Road maintenance, sidewalks, snow removal, and trash collection were cited as foundational expectations, and several respondents used the open-ended field to document what they viewed as recent failures in these areas.

Parks, libraries, and community programs received the warmest feedback across the survey. Residents across the spectrum described these services as central to Arlington's identity and quality of life, and among the most important things worth protecting in the County budget.

Key Takeaways

Traffic Enforcement & Pedestrian Safety

Traffic enforcement and pedestrian safety was the single most frequently raised concern across all open-ended responses. Residents reported red-light running, speeding, and dangerous intersections throughout the County, with many expressing the view that ACPD does not consistently enforce traffic laws. Some respondents specifically noted police vehicles speeding on residential streets. E-bikes, scooters, and delivery vehicles blocking travel lanes were cited repeatedly as growing hazards that have not been adequately addressed. Crosswalk conditions, sidewalk accessibility, and pedestrian infrastructure were also raised as concerns , particularly in the aftermath of the January 2026 storm, which left some residents walking in roadways for weeks due to uncleared sidewalks.

Housing, Development & Zoning

Responses on housing, development, and zoning were sharply divided. Many residents opposed Missing Middle housing, arguing that it primarily benefits developers, undermines neighborhood character, and fails to produce units that are genuinely affordable. Others strongly supported increased density and faster upzoning as necessary steps to address the County's housing costs. Despite this division, frustration with the County's communication and decision-making process around development was a near-universal sentiment, shared by residents on both sides of the debate. Among homeowners, McMansion-scale construction, lot coverage, and tree loss from teardowns were recurring and specific grievances.

Property Taxes, Spending & Budget Priorities

Property taxes, spending, and budget priorities generated substantial feedback. Many residents expressed the view that taxes are rising faster than service quality, with a common criticism being that the County funds discretionary programs while core services deteriorate. The proposed closures of Barcroft Gymnastics and Cherrydale Library generated exceptionally high response volume, residents overwhelmingly opposed both, describing the process as opaque and the cuts as shortsighted. A vocal subset urged the County to reduce spending on DEI and climate initiatives before cutting core services, while a smaller number took the opposite view, encouraging the County to raise revenue and invest more broadly in community programs and infrastructure.

Libraries, Parks & Recreation

Libraries, parks, and recreation received the warmest and most consistent praise across the entire survey. Many residents explicitly thanked County staff by name and described these services as what makes Arlington worth the cost of living. The potential closure of Barcroft Gymnastics and Cherrydale Library dominated feedback within this theme, with responses overwhelmingly urging the County to find alternatives before moving forward with either cut. Long waitlists for recreation programs were also noted as a persistent frustration, with some residents calling for expanded capacity rather than reductions.

Trash, Recycling & Snow Removal

The switch to a new trash contractor generated widespread frustration, with residents reporting missed pickups, bins left in the road, and trash spilled on streets. Many called for the previous contractor to be restored. Snow removal following the January 2026 storm was described in particularly strong terms, with residential streets left unplowed for days and snowplow mounds blocking driveways and bus stops for weeks afterward. Residents across neighborhoods characterized both situations as failures of basic service delivery, the kind of foundational expectations that, when unmet, significantly erode confidence in County operations.

Transparency, Governance & Community Trust

Concerns about transparency, governance, and community trust were raised by a notable number of residents across the political spectrum. The unifying sentiment was that the County does not genuinely listen to resident input, that engagement opportunities exist in form but not in practice. Specific frustrations included Open Door Mondays being dismissed as performative, the survey itself being criticized as biased, and the County Board being characterized as captured by developer interests or ideological agendas. Some respondents called for structural changes, including district-based board elections and an elected mayor. Missing Middle zoning and the deer management program were cited repeatedly as flashpoints where resident input was visibly disregarded.

Affordability & Equity

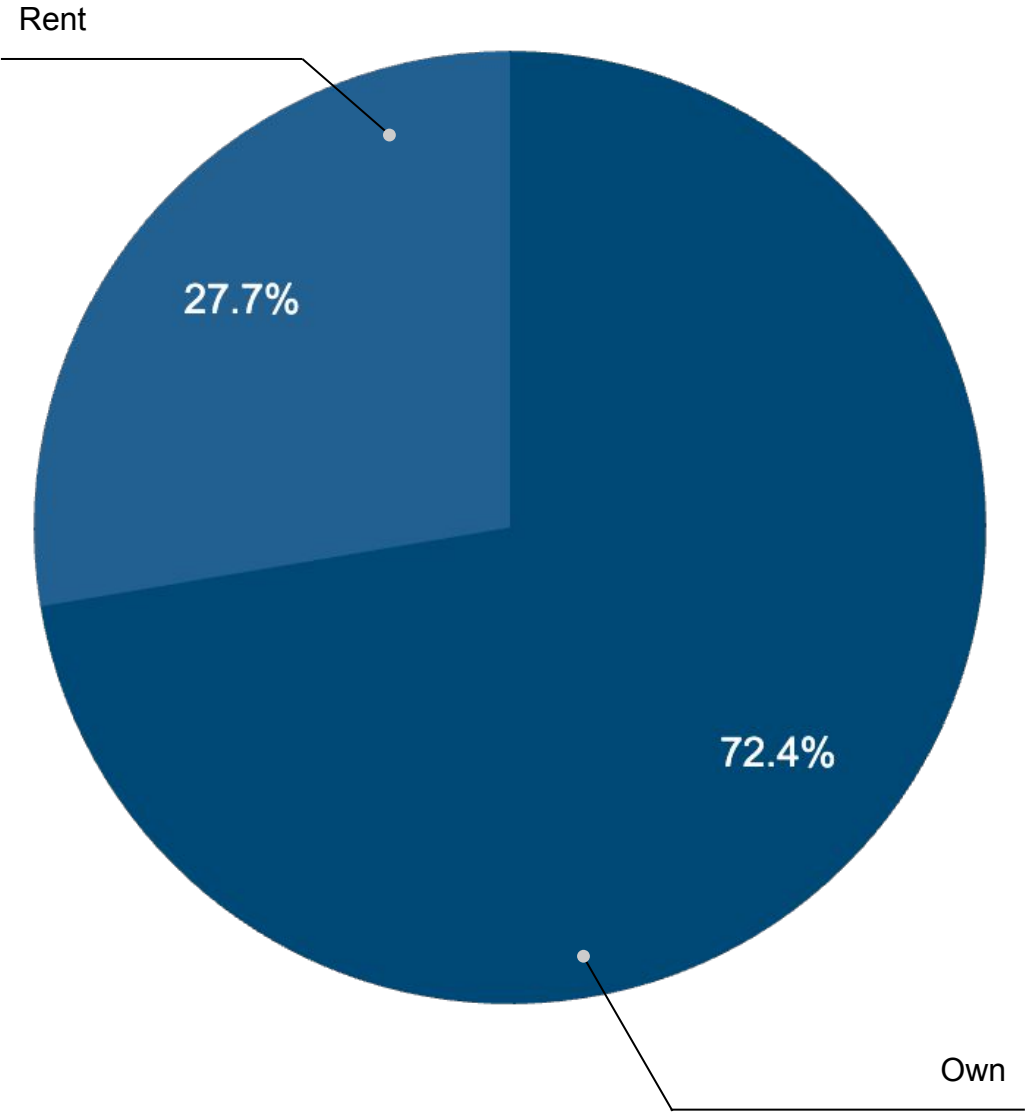

Rising rents, property taxes, and housing costs were described as pushing out long-time residents, seniors, and working families, a concern that surfaced across multiple question responses throughout the survey. Several respondents noted that affordable housing programs fail to serve those who fall just above income eligibility thresholds, leaving what some called the "lower middle class" without meaningful options. South Arlington was frequently mentioned as underserved relative to North Arlington, with residents expressing frustration about the geographic inequity of County investments and attention. A smaller but vocal group took a different view, opposing County equity and DEI programs as wasteful or ideologically driven rather than addressing residents' practical needs.

*Full responses to the open-ended question (Question 25) are included in their entirety in Appendix A. The appendix preserves the full text of each submission without editing or summarization, allowing County leadership and staff to review resident feedback directly and in the respondents' own words.

QUESTION 27

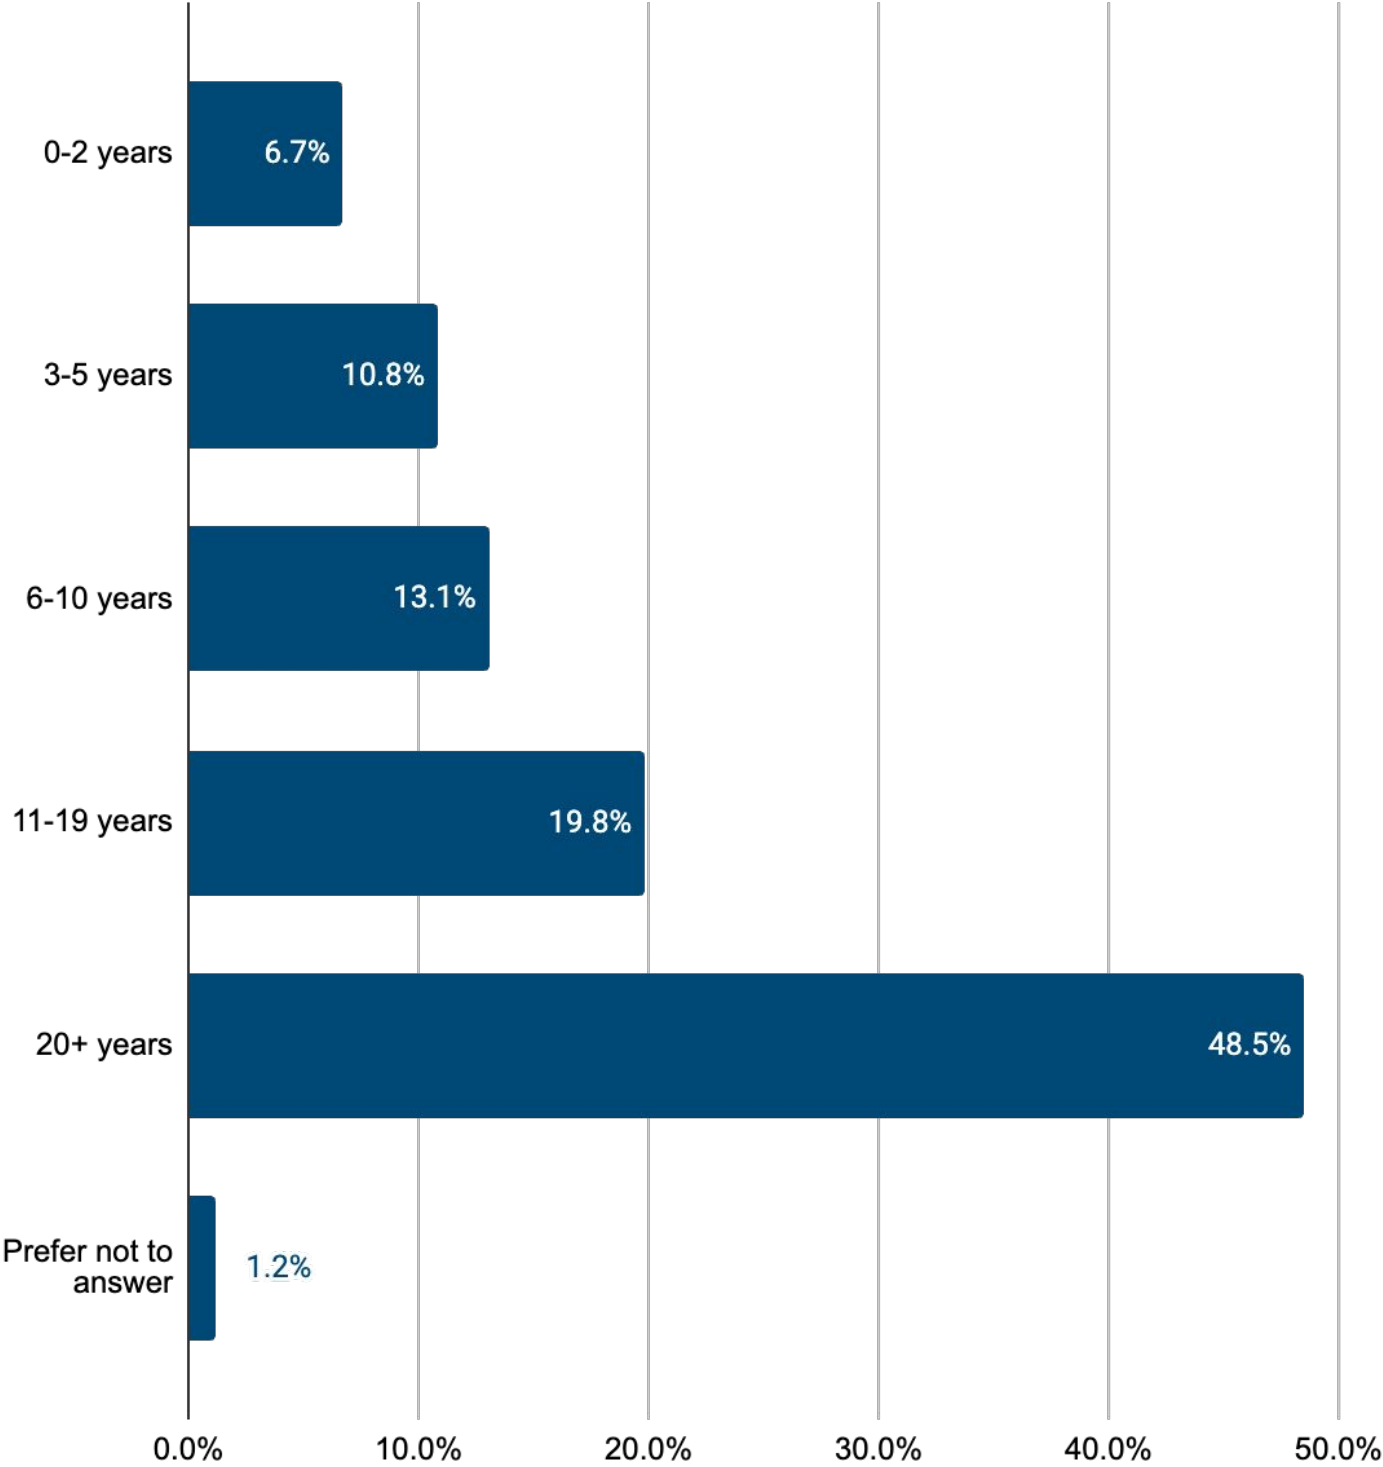

Which of the following best describes your current home?

Among residents who selected "Other (please specify)," write-in responses described living situations not fully captured by the listed categories, including cooperative apartments, basement units, assisted living facilities, and households where owners rent out a secondary unit. Several respondents used the open-ended field to share broader housing concerns. Long-term homeowners noted they can only afford to remain in Arlington because they purchased decades ago, and frustration with rising property taxes, HOA fees, and rental rates appeared across multiple response types. A number of respondents expressed opposition to increased density, Missing Middle zoning, and accessory dwelling units, urging the County to preserve the character of single-family neighborhoods. A smaller number took the opposite view, noting that families with children are increasingly priced out and relocating to neighboring counties. A few respondents declined to answer substantively, with at least one describing the question as an overstep, reflecting some wariness about demographic data collection. Full responses can be found in Appendix A.

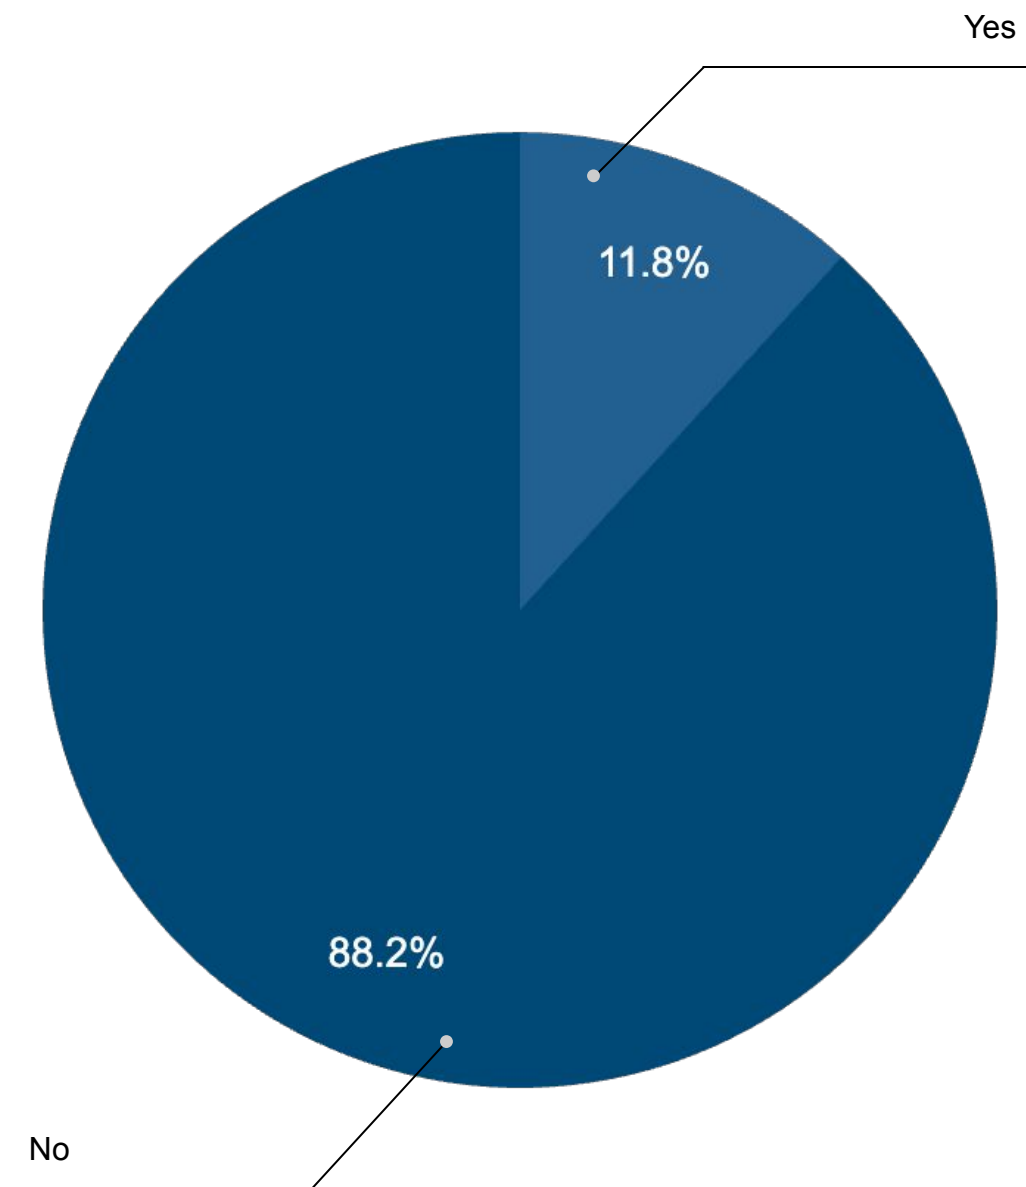

QUESTION 28

QUESTION 29

Among residents who selected "Other (please specify)," write-in responses reflected a range of identities not captured by the listed categories, including those who identified as American, Italian, Indigenous African American, Anglo-Saxon, or of mixed or multi-ethnic heritage. Several noted difficulty fitting their identity into this question. The most common theme, however, was reluctance to answer at all. Many respondents expressed that the question felt unnecessary or inappropriate, with sentiments along the lines of questioning why race is relevant to a county services survey. A number also used the field to state a broader view that all residents should be treated equally regardless of race or ethnicity, and that survey responses should carry the same weight across groups. Full responses can be found in Appendix A.

QUESTION 31

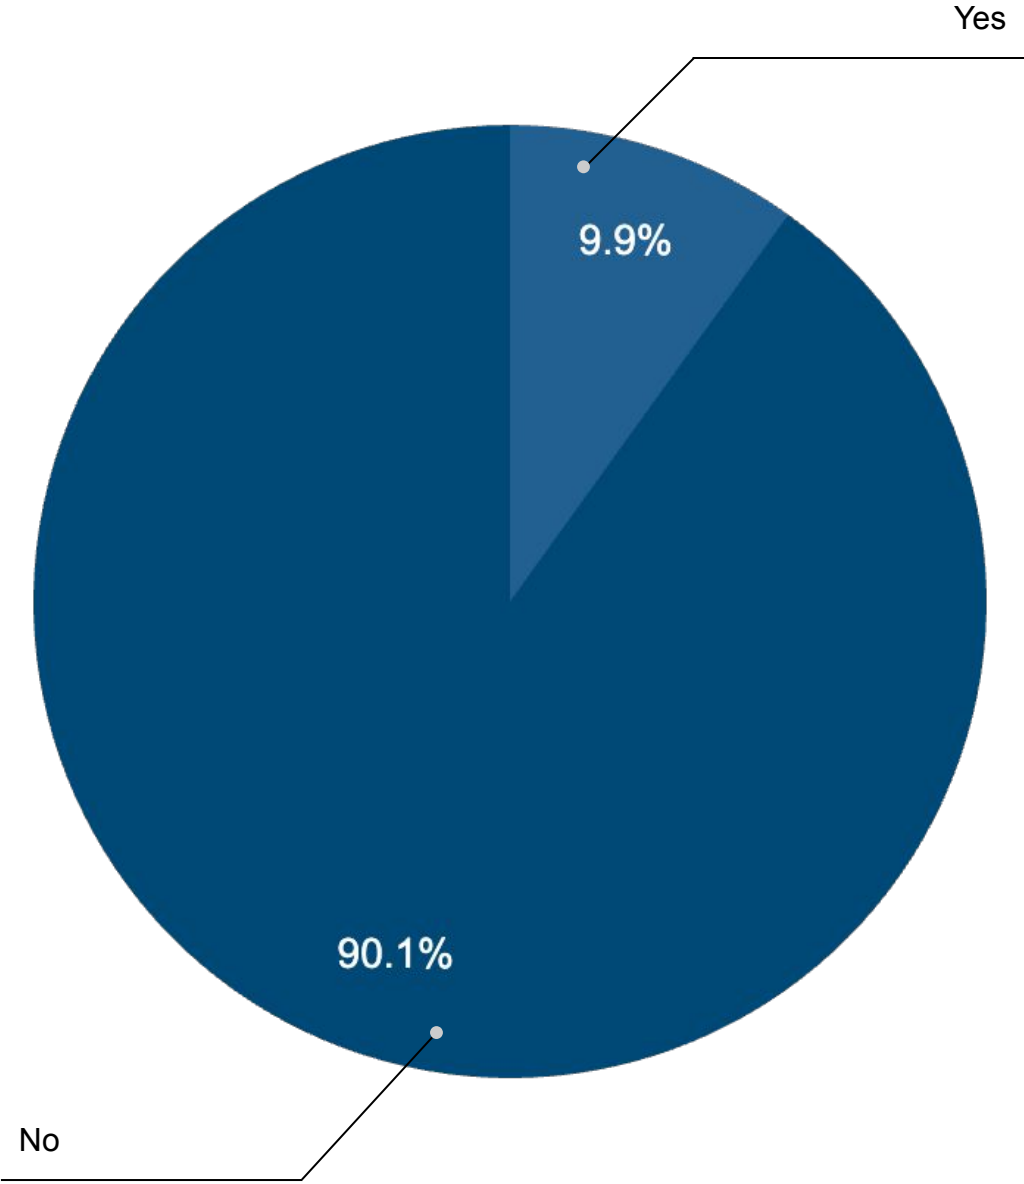

What is the primary language spoken in your home?

Among residents who selected "Other (please specify)," write-in responses identified a range of languages spoken at home not captured by the listed options, including Turkish, Hungarian, Italian, Nepali, Swedish, and various languages from South Asian, East Asian, Middle Eastern, and African language families. A smaller number of respondents used the field to express the view that English should be the primary language prioritized by the County, with some raising questions about the cost and effectiveness of ESL programs. Full responses can be found in Appendix A.

Major categories of services provided by Arlington County are listed below. Please rate your satisfaction with each item:

Data below reflects percentage of respondents who rated the items as Very Satisfied or Satisfied on a 5-point scale (excluding don't knows)

The 2026 results reflect meaningful progress across several key service areas, with satisfaction rebounding notably since 2022, with a number of categories showing the encouraging positive trend.

Fire and emergency medical services continues to be one of the highest rated services in terms of satisfaction among residents, with 89% satisfaction in 2026, a 5% increase from 84% in 2022, progressing closer to the 93% peak in 2018. Similarly, the library system continues to be one of the highest rated services among residents remained as one of the categories of highest satisfaction at 89%, a 6% increase from 2022 (83%).

Police services in the past year became the third highest category in satisfaction from residents, reaching 78%, a notable 8% increase from 2022 (70%), although satisfaction still remains below the 2018 record (85%).

County's human services was the category that saw the greatest increase in satisfaction between 2022 and 2026. Satisfaction improved by 13% from 48% in 2022 to 61% in 2026, nearly matching the 63% high in 2018.

Parks, recreation, sports programs and facilities remained relatively stable throughout the years, hovering between 81-85%, reflecting consistent resident satisfaction.

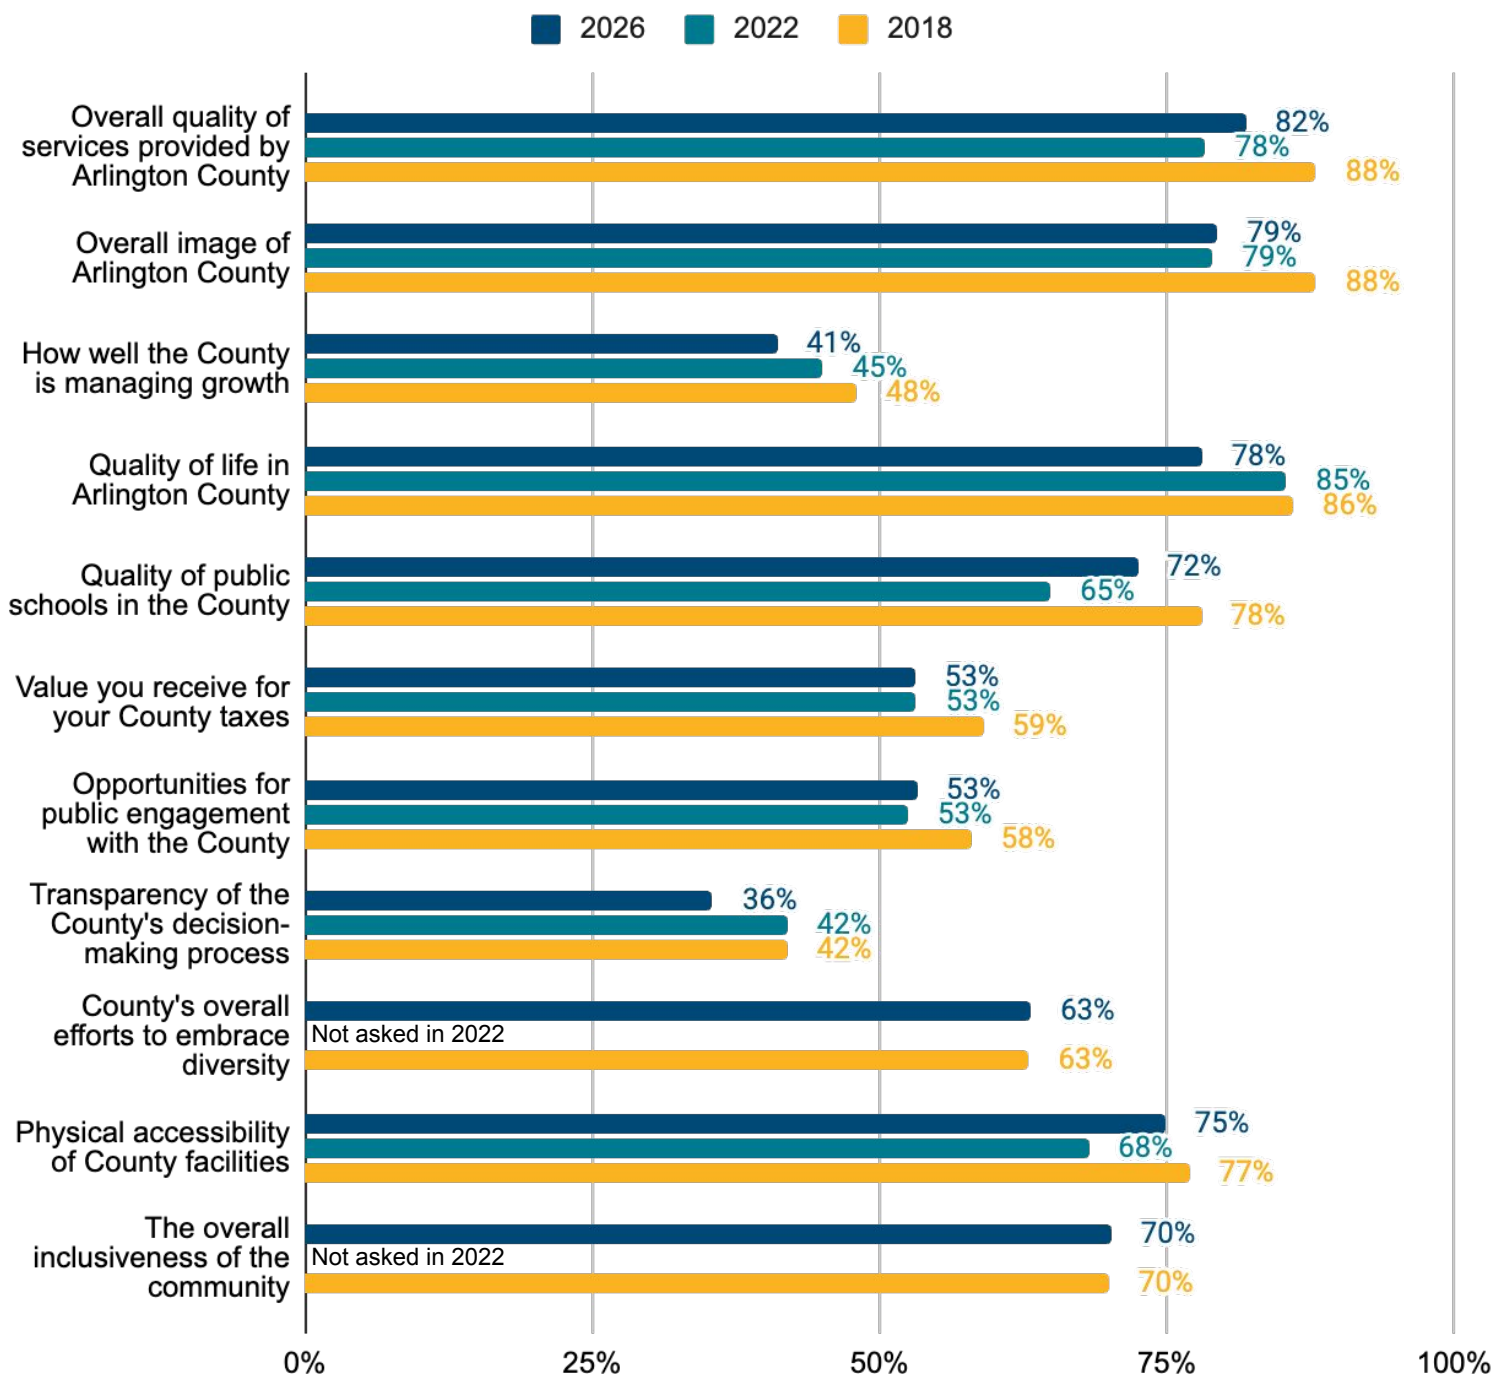

Infrastructure-related services present a continued opportunity for improvement. Maintenance of County streets dipped slightly between 2022 and 2026, from 59% to 56%. The satisfaction for the management of traffic flow on County streets remains the second lowest rated category, staying at 46% in 2018 and 2026. Code and ordinance enforcement remains the weakest-rated service. In 2026, satisfaction decreased to 43%, a 3% decrease from 2022 (46%), and a 12% decrease from 2018 (55%).

Overall, public safety and library services remain the County's strongest performers, and the gains recorded in human services and police satisfaction are particularly encouraging. Infrastructure services, particularly traffic management and code enforcement, represent the clearest areas for focused attention in the years ahead.

Several items that may influence your overall perception of Arlington County are listed below. Please rate your satisfaction with each:

Data below reflects percentage of respondents who rated the items as Very Satisfied or Satisfied on a 5-point scale (excluding don't knows)

Overall, the 2026 results reflect a modest recovery from 2022 in several areas, with residents remaining broadly positive about Arlington County's image, service quality, and quality of life.

The overall quality of services provided by Arlington County continues to be one of the highest rated items. Satisfaction reached 82% in 2026, a slight improvement from 78% in 2022, a sign that resident confidence is trending positively. Additionally, the overall image of Arlington County remains highly rated, reaching 79% between 2026 and 2022. Similarly, resident satisfaction over the quality of life in Arlington in 2018 remained a highly rated aspect, recorded at 78% in 2026. Despite this, quality of life has seen a gradual decrease from 85% in 2022 and 86% in 2018.

The categories particularly promising gains in satisfaction from 2022 to 2026 was the quality of public schools in the County, increasing from 65% in 2022 to 72% in 2026, and the physical accessibility of County facilities, increasing from 68% in 2022, to 75% in 2026. Although the two categories still remain under their record in 2018, the recent data presents meaningful improvements that suggest positive momentum within these areas.

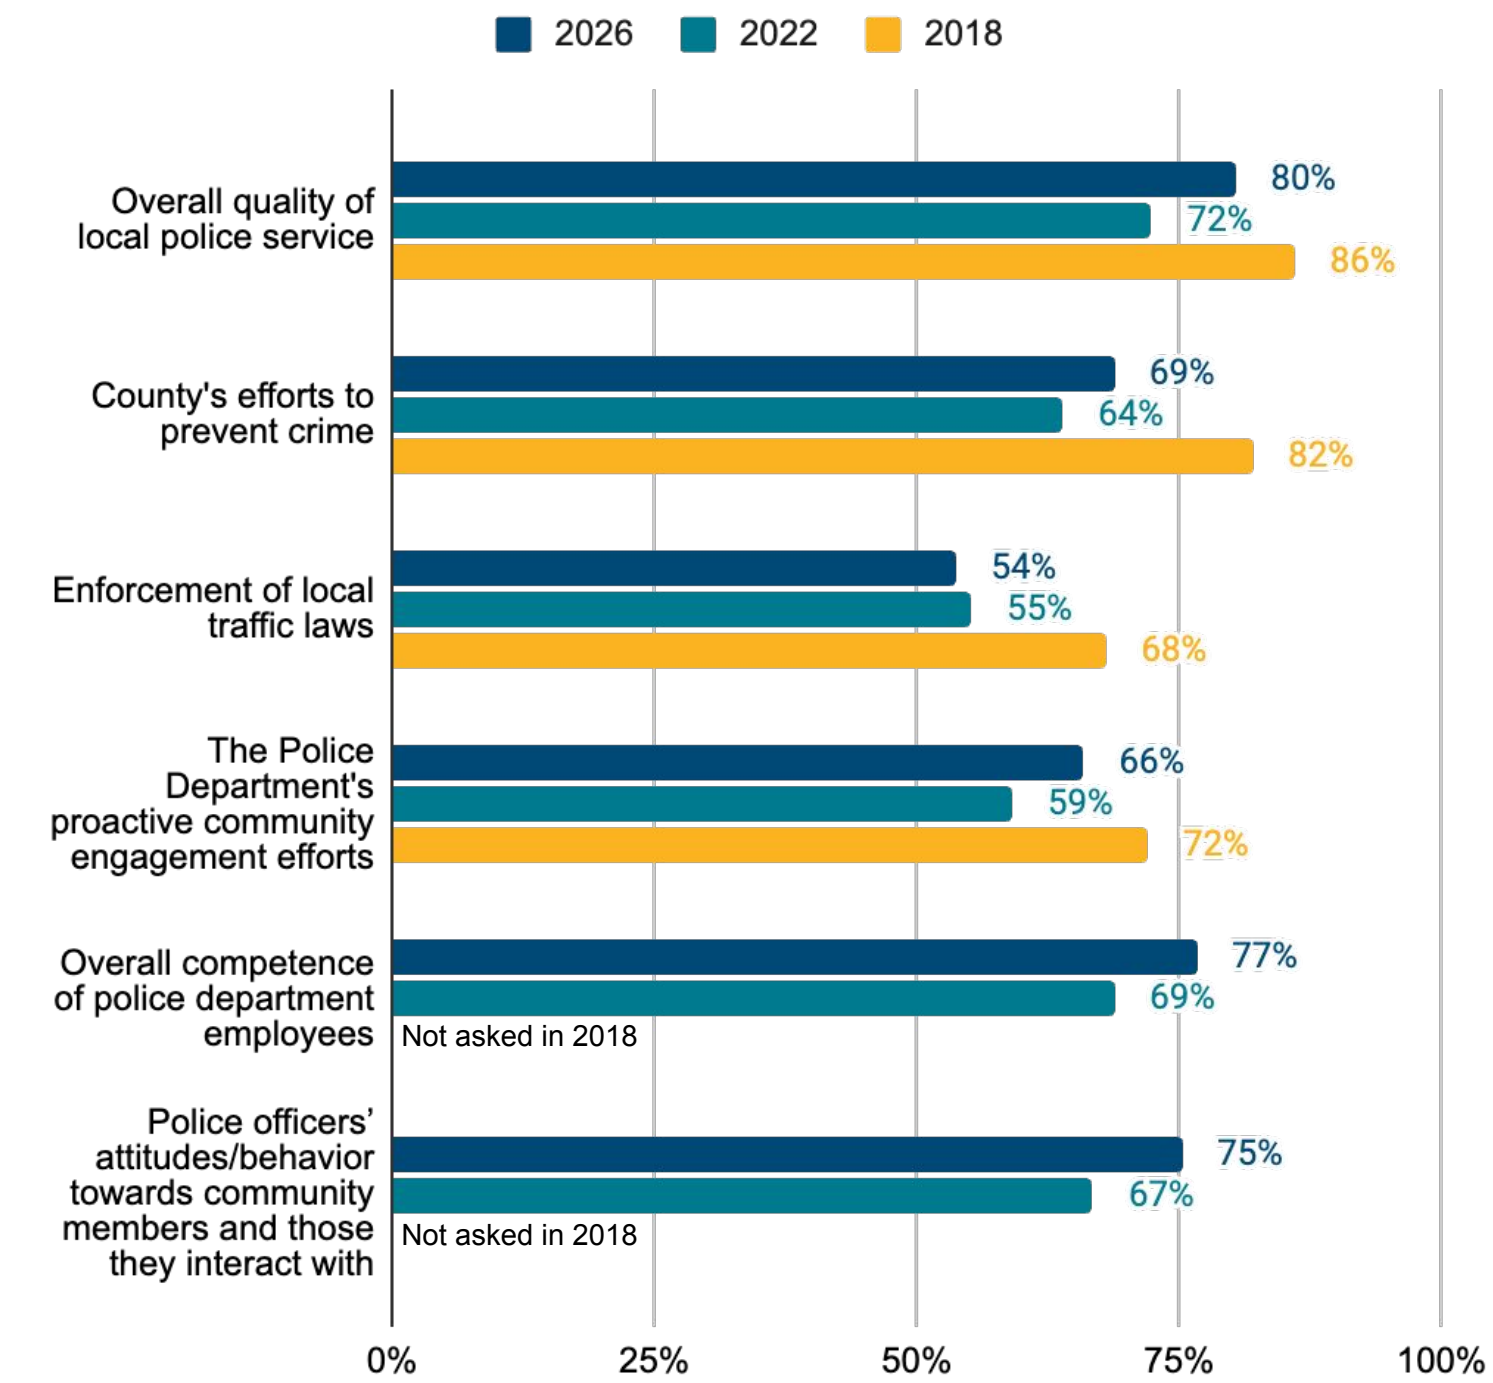

On the other side, resident satisfaction regarding how well the County is managing growth and transparency of the County's decision-making process has remained the lowest rated items from 2018 through 2026. In 2018, residents had the highest satisfaction rating for how well the County is managing growth (48%), although this has steadily decreased to 41% in 2026. Similarly, resident satisfaction for the transparency of the County's decision-making process was 42% from 2018-2022, a rating that has decreased to 36% in 2026.

In short, residents remain broadly positive about Arlington County's image, quality of life, and core service delivery. Strengthening transparency and community engagement around growth and development decisions represents the clearest opportunity to close the gap between resident expectations and their experience of County governance.

Several aspects of police services are listed below. Please rate how satisfied you are with each:

Data below reflects percentage of respondents who rated the items as Very Satisfied or Satisfied on a 5-point scale (excluding don't knows)

The recent survey results reflect strong and broad recovery across police-related satisfaction scores since 2022, with meaningful gains across nearly every category measured.

Overall quality of local police service was the highest rated aspect, reaching 80% in 2026, a 8% increase from 72% in 2022. Additionally, satisfaction with overall competence of police department employees and police officers' attitudes/behavior towards community members and those they interact with also reported notable improvement from 2022. These two categories reached 77% and 75% satisfaction respectively, becoming the second and third highest rated aspects of policy services. This data reflects the increasing positivity of resident perception on the department's professionalism and community presence.

Additionally, there was a sharp decrease in satisfaction among residents for the County's efforts to prevent crime. In 2018, residents had 82% satisfaction, a number that steeply decreased to 64% in 2022. In 2026, resident satisfaction showed a moderate rebound (increasing to 69%), a trend that suggests growing trust in the County's efforts to prevent crime. Despite this, continued progress within this area remains important, as crime prevention remains a high priority among residents (44% from Question 13).

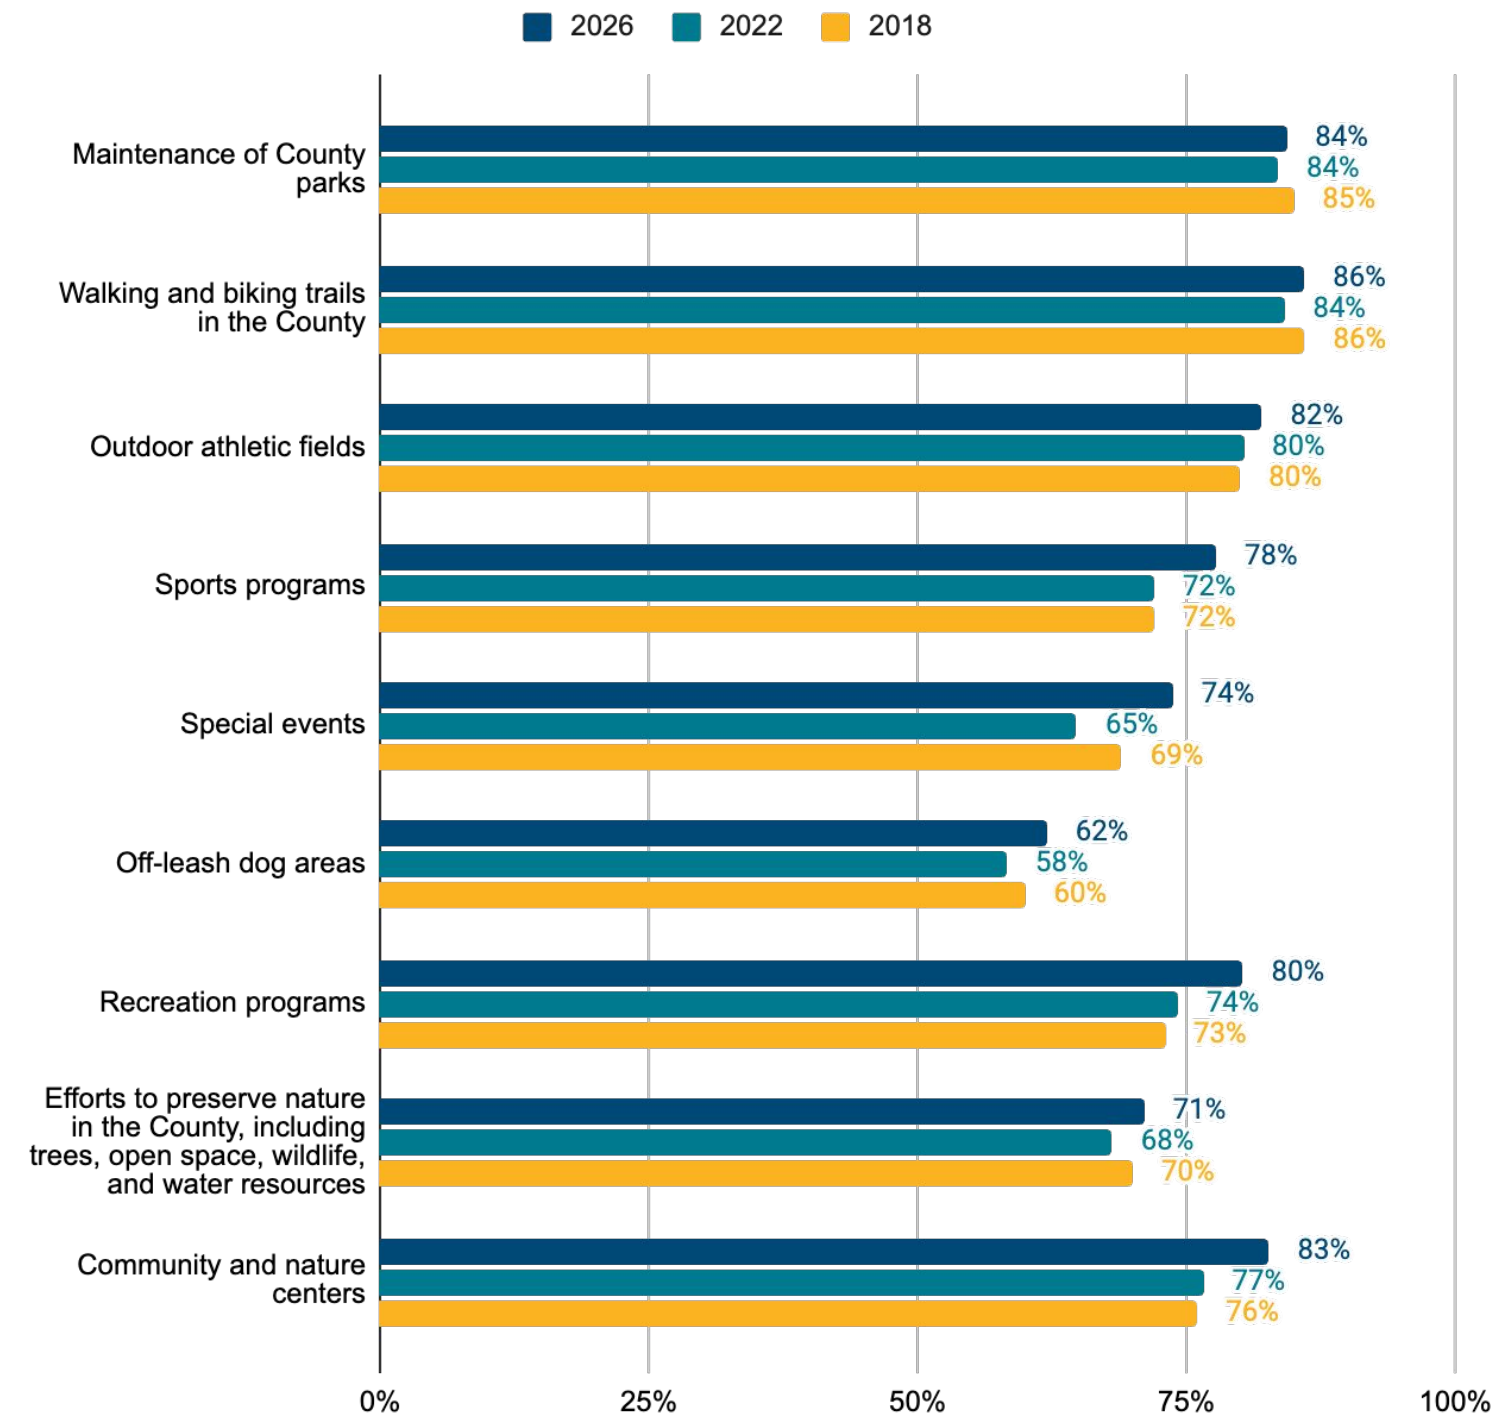

Enforcement of local traffic laws continues to be the lowest rated aspect among residents, declining from 68% in 2018, to 55% in 2022, and 54% in 2026. This area represents a clear and specific opportunity for the department to build on its overall positive momentum and strengthen resident trust.

Overall, residents are increasingly optimistic about the police department's competence and community engagement, a meaningful shift from 2022 data that highlights the department's positive trajectory.

Parks and recreation is one of the strongest performing sections in the survey, with nearly every category showing consistent improvement from previous surveyed years.

Walking and biking trails and maintenance of County parks remain consistently high, both sitting at 84–86% across all three survey years. The results from the two items reflect long-standing resident satisfaction with the County's core park infrastructure. Community and nature centers also stand out, climbing from 76% in 2018 to 83% in 2026, becoming the third highest rated item.

Outdoor athletic fields, recreation programs, and sports program followed a similar positive trend throughout the years: outdoor athletic fields increased 80% in 2018 to 82% in 2026, recreation programs increased from 73% in 2018 to 80% in 2026, and sports programs increased from 72% in 2018 to 78% in 2026. Special events saw one of the largest increases in satisfaction within the past period, increasing 9% from 65% in 2022 to 74% in 2026.

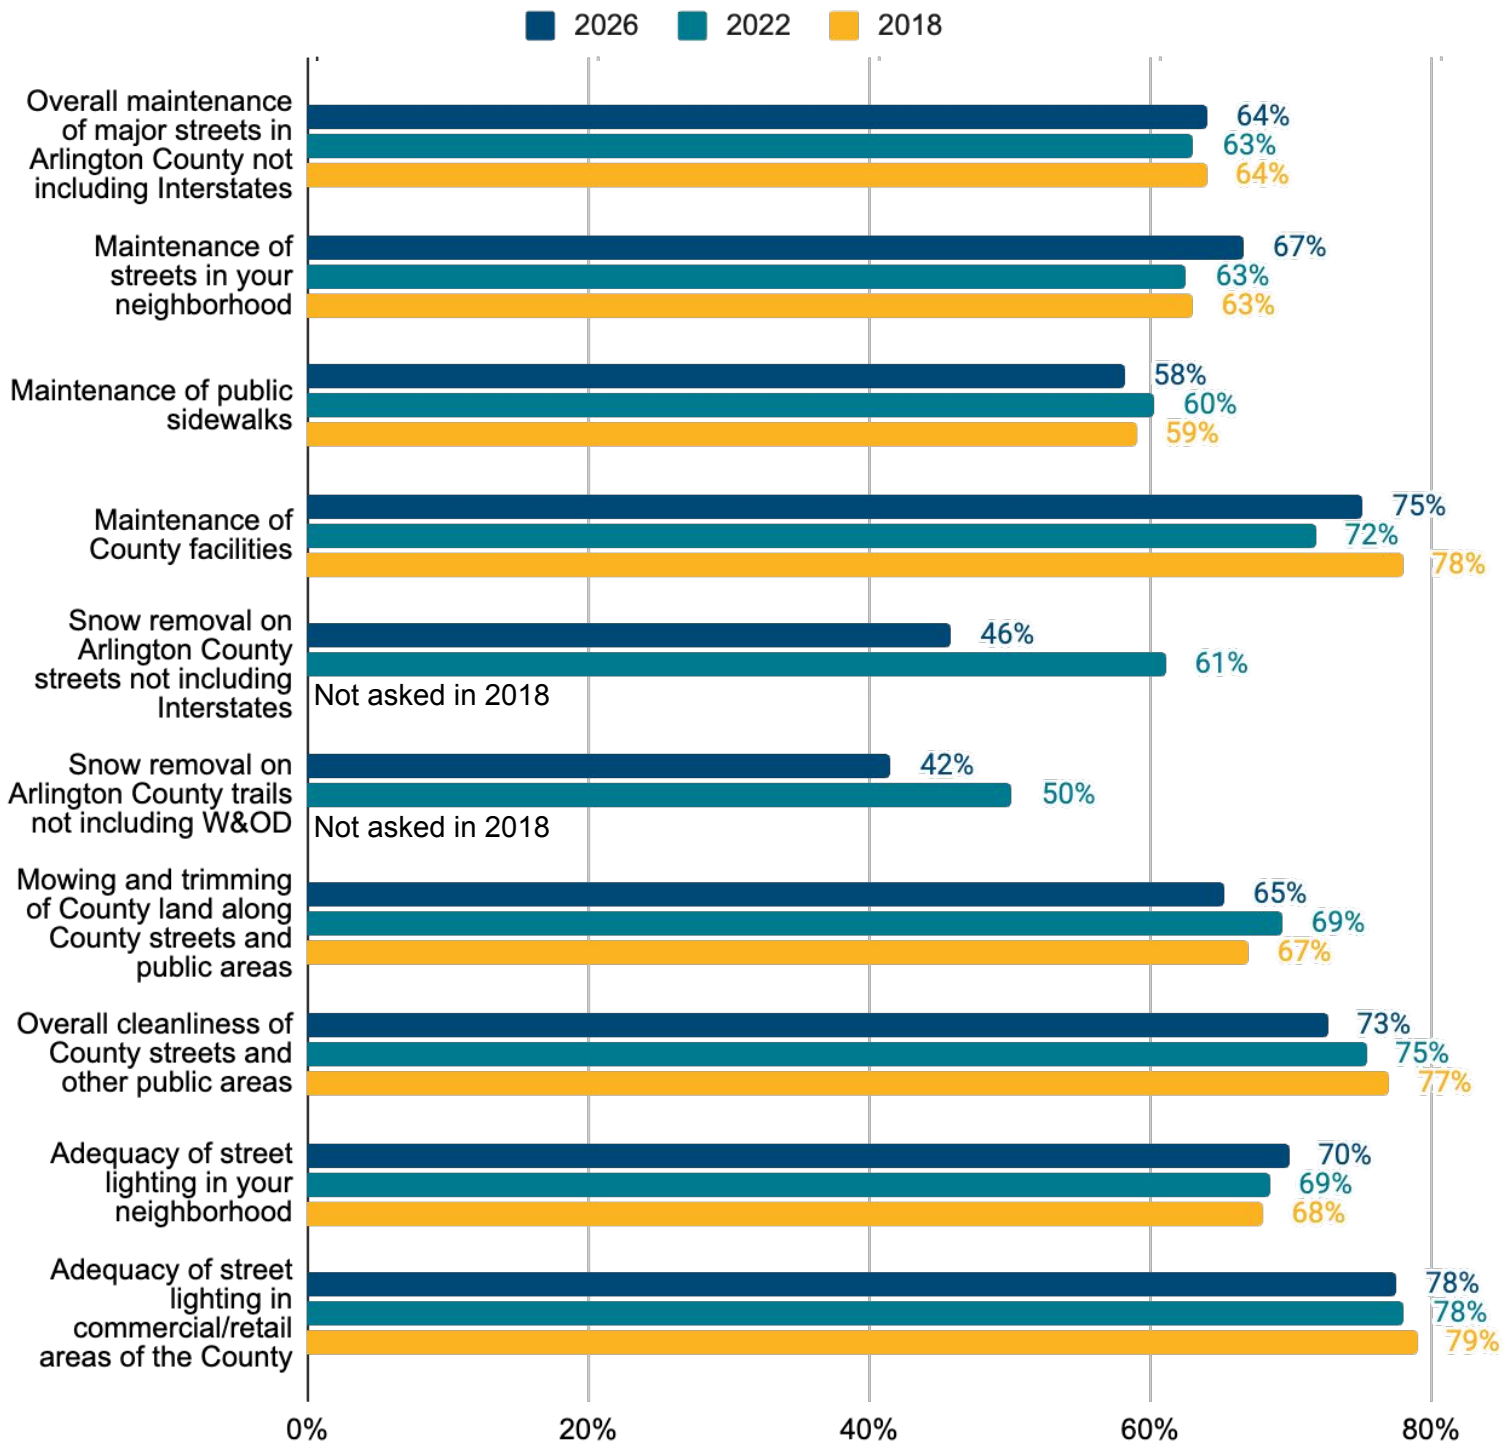

Even the lower rated categories showed improvement. Although off-leash dog areas remains the lowest rated category, there was a subtle increase in satisfaction from 2018 (60%) and 2022 (58%) to 62% in 2026. Similarly, residents showed greater satisfaction for the County's efforts to preserve nature, increasing from 68% in 2022 to 71% in 2026.

Parks and recreation stands out as one of the County's most consistent bright spots, and the across-the-board gains in 2026 suggest that resident appreciation for these services continues to grow.

Please rate your satisfaction with the following items:

Data below reflects percentage of respondents who rated the items as Very Satisfied or Satisfied on a 5-point scale (excluding don't knows)

Satisfaction across the public works sector remained relatively consistent across nearly all categories, with most scores holding steady or showing only modest changes from prior years.

Adequacy of street lighting in commercial/retail areas of the County remained the highest rated item, holding steady between 78-79% from 2018 through 2026. Maintenance of County facilities remained highly regarded by residents, although satisfaction dipped slightly from 78% in 2018 to 75% in 2022. Similarly, overall cleanliness of County streets and other public areas ranked third highest, slipping slightly from 75% in 2022 to 73% in 2026.

On a positive note, street lighting adequacy in resident neighborhoods showed steady incremental improvement, reaching 70% resident satisfaction in 2026. Additionally, satisfaction for neighborhood street maintenance increased from 72% in 2022 to 75% in 2026.

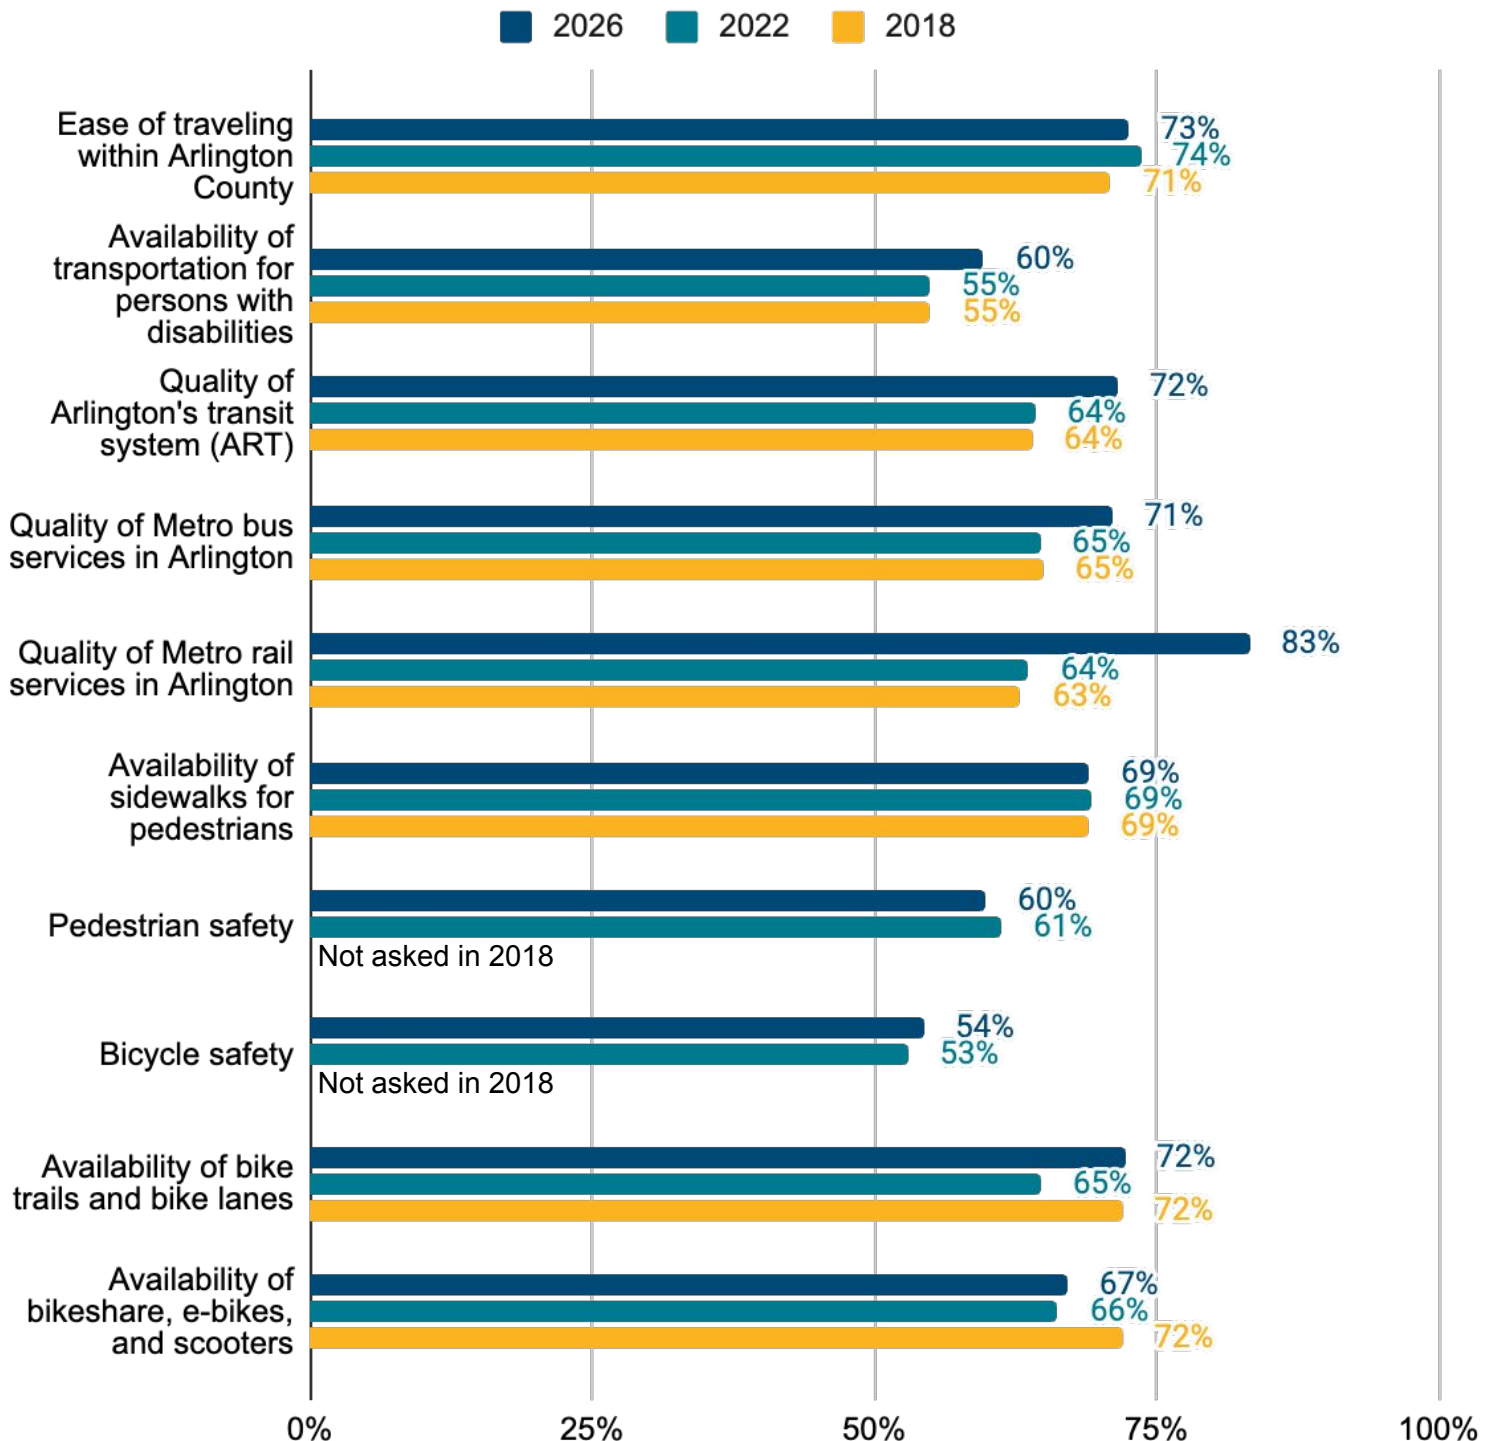

Snow removal was the lowest rated category and faced the most significant dips from 2022. Satisfaction with snow removal on Arlington County streets (not including interstates) decreased from 61% in 2022 to 46% in 2026 and snow removal on Arlington County trails (not including W&OD) decreased from 50% in 2022 to 42% in 2026.

In short, while most infrastructure categories remain relatively stable, the dramatic decline in snow removal satisfaction and the slight downwards trend across categories, suggesting that the public works sector may warrant continued attention from the County.

Transportation is one of the more encouraging sections of the 2026 survey, with satisfaction improving across the majority of categories and public transit emerging as a particular area of strength.

The standout performer is the quality of Metro bus services in Arlington, which increased 20% from 2018 through 2026 to 83%, now the highest rated item within transportation. Arlington Metro bus services also showed noticeable improvements, increasing from 65% in 2022 to 72% in 2026. Altogether, these results underscore meaningful gains in resident satisfaction with public transit options across the County.

Ease of traveling within Arlington County remained relatively stable across the years, hovering around 71-74% across all three survey periods. Availability of sidewalks also showed stable satisfaction, remaining at 69% across the reported periods.

Many of the transportation categories saw improvements, including the quality of Arlington's transit system (ART), increasing from 64% in 2022 to 72% in 2026. Additionally, the availability of transportation for persons with disabilities saw a 5% increase from 2018, reaching 60% satisfaction in 2026.

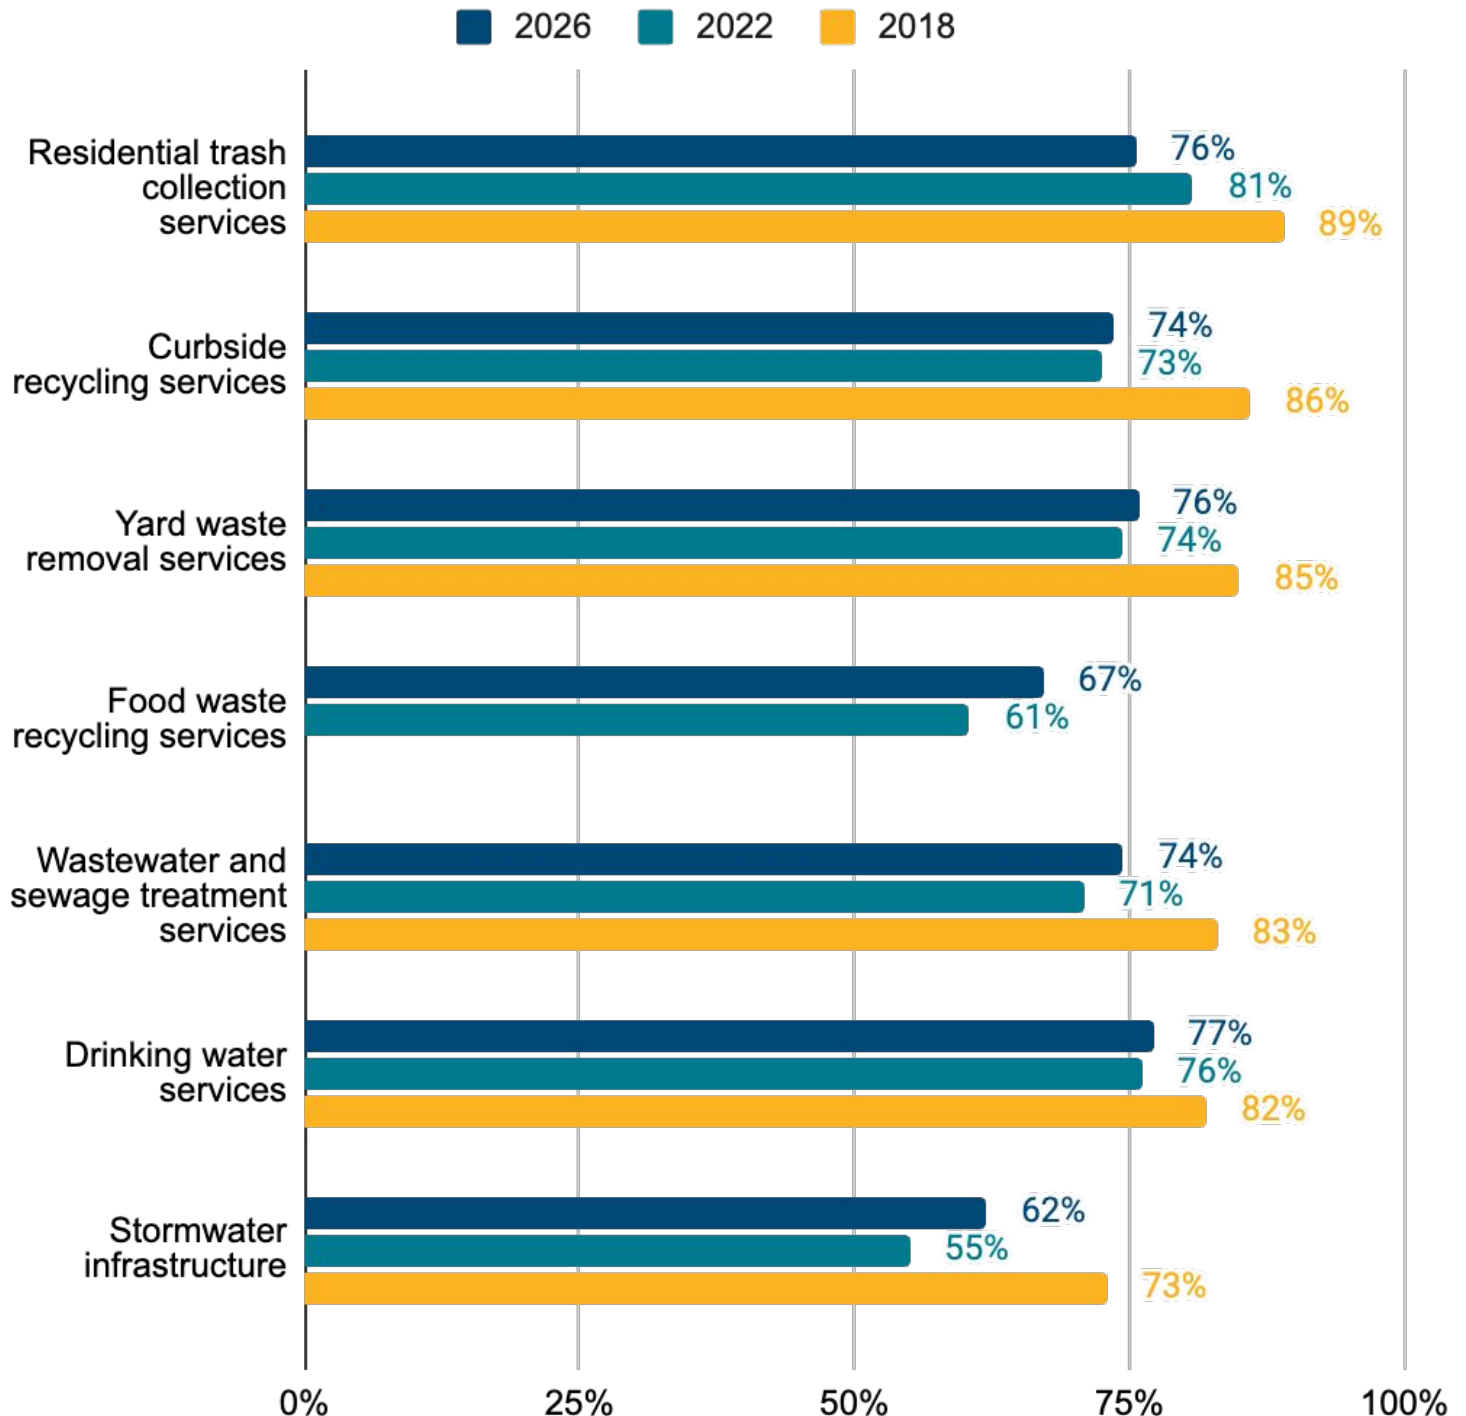

Satisfaction for bicycle safety remained the lowest rated in satisfaction among residents across the two survey periods, staying around 53-54%. This data is consistent with open-ended feedback identifying e-bikes and scooters as growing safety concerns among residents, a sector represents the clearest opportunity for improvement.

Overall, public transit satisfaction has rebounded strongly in 2026, and the broad positive trend across transportation categories makes this one of the more encouraging sections of the survey. Active transportation safety remains an area for continued focus as the County's multimodal network continues to evolve.

Utilities and environmental services show a mixed but cautiously stabilizing picture in 2026, with most categories holding steady or improving modestly from 2022 after a broader period of decline from 2018 highs.

Drinking water services remained the highest-rated item in the section, rated at 77% in 2026, reflecting continued resident confidence in one of the County's most fundamental service responsibilities. Curbside recycling, yard waste removal, and wastewater and sewage treatment services all followed a similar pattern, declining from 2018 to 2022 before recovering slightly in 2026, a trend that suggests efforts to stabilize service quality in these areas are beginning to register with residents.

Stormwater infrastructure showed the most dramatic swing of any item in this section, falling 18% from 73% in 2018 to 55% in 2022 before rebounding to 62% in 2026. While still below its 2018 level, the 7% recovery is an encouraging sign of progress.

Residential trash collection services represents an area of diminishing resident satisfaction. Satisfaction has declined steadily from 89% in 2018 to 76% in 2026, a 13% drop over the period that was reinforced by a high volume of open-ended feedback citing missed pickups and service inconsistencies following the transition to a new contractor. Restoring resident confidence in this area will be an important near-term priority.

Overall, the stabilization seen across most utility categories in 2026 is a positive signal, and the rebound in stormwater infrastructure is particularly noteworthy. Trash collection remains the clearest area for focused improvement.

QUESTION 25: OPEN-ENDED RESPONSES

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- (1) Residential zone parking process is way too complicated. (2) The street cleaning truck comes by way too often--better to make sure that trash is collected or snow shoveled.
- (1) This is an extremely long survey which probably causes the County to lose a lot of potential respondents. (2) The alternative routes for travelling parallel to Columbia Pike by bike are disjointed and incomplete. (3) I like the ART bus system but far too often there are missed runs (ART routes 74 and 77 being prime examples). (4) The removal of the bus stop sign on westbound Columbia Pike at Walter Reed Drive and the failure to replace it after completion of construction is a huge irritant. (5) More speed cameras everywhere please! (6) We need more bike lanes and the County should consider closing select residential streets to vehicular through-traffic while allowing bicycles to pass through any barriers constructed (as has been done in Portland, OR).
- (1) Zoning ordinances are unfair to owners of older townhouses which are non-conforming because of the length of the rows. Many things that single family home owners can do by-right, even things like repairs (e.g. foundation repairs) and safety improvements (e.g. egress windows), require the time consuming and stressful process of going to the board of zoning appeals. This is inequitable (as these old townhouses are amongst the only affordable housing stock) and doesn't serve any discernible policy objective. The list of by-right repairs/upgrades for older townhouses should be expanded to include common-sense items that maintain the integrity of the building and improve safety. (2) The county policy on passing while on county-owned multi-use trails doesn't make sense and is unenforceable due to the silly implications that would result were it to be enforced. Trail users wishing to pass are supposed to slow to 5 mph while passing. This is jogging speed, so any faster jogger, runner or biker would therefore be unable to pass someone jogging at 5 mph and traffic would just build up behind that jogger indefinitely. When trying to pass someone going 4mph, you could only pass them with a relative speed of 1 mph, which would involve spending an excessive amount of time in the opposite lane on the many narrow trail sections. The policy should be modified to clarify that trail users should pass at a relative speed of no more than 5 mph (e.g. if someone is standing still, you should slow to 5 mph, if they are jogging at 5 mph you should pass at no more than 10 mph), which would achieve the safety/comfort objective while maintaining trail flow for transportation and fitness users that travel faster than 5 mph. (3) State routes like Langston Blvd. and N. Glebe Rd. regularly have cars traveling well above the speed limit which is harrowing for pedestrians given the lack of shoulders and lack of a tree-box or other spacing between the sidewalk and lane of travel across large segments of these roads. Pedestrians are just feet away from cars zooming by at 40+ mph. Any efforts to slow traffic (e.g. radar/camera enforcement) or increase safety and comfort for pedestrians on these sidewalks would be greatly appreciated. (4) Young teenagers and tweens on "e-motos" (unregulated e-bikes) is an increasing safety problem on county roads and multi-use trails. At the very least, the county should invest in education efforts, if not exploring new powers and enforcement tools for the police department. While I don't use them, class 1 e-bikes are an exciting way to bring more people into active-transportation and have more than enough power and speed to get people around the county. I'm less of a fan of class 2 and 3 ebikes, but they are still probably worth any downsides if they get more people biking and out of cars (since cars cause the vast majority of injuries to road and trail users). However, the current situation is that young kids are getting their hands on completely unregulated bikes (e.g. capable of >28 mph and with more than 750W of power) that don't belong on multi-use trails and, in my opinion, shouldn't be operated even on public roads without an operator's license and motorcycle endorsement.

- #1 fittest county in the US, keep it up
- 1. county should give credit for installed landscaping that predates the stormwater credit rule - I can't improve upon what I installed years ago, and get no credit on my wastewater bill. 2. County should STOP EHO rules. Keep SFH zoning. Development of additional housing should be along metro corridors and repurposing vacant office space. Most land is already multifamily/commercial. Maintain the greenspace and supply of SFH in arlington.
- 1. Please give back the wonderful resources to our special libraries. They used to be world class and do not feel that way anymore with the cuts and the lack of e-collection. The way they were was great, and they serve so many people of all ages. 2. The traffic and speed cameras everywhere make it not feel like a welcome place to live anymore. Some of them are ridiculous, like a major thoroughfare like George Mason having a 20 speed limit. Please reconsider this, as it really makes it feel like an unfriendly place with Big Brother watching.
- 1. Bus stop on corner of S. Courthouse Road + Columbia Pike needs to back to other side of South Courthouse Road. Should NOT be in front of Dorchester Apts. Very busy intersection. Worse work done in this area. 2. Too many are parked on side streets - too many food trucks & utility trucks. 3. Arlington is looking ghetto
- 1. Construction pollution (dry cutting), potholes, poor quality roads, poorly - engineered traffic, crime. 2. Police should be fair not based on 'equity'
- 1. DO NOT close Barcroft. DO NOT cut gymnastics. These are valuable for our families & communities. 2. Missing middle was a sham - min properties on our street sold for $1.2 m+. Not to diverse families give away to developers and it was foreseeable.
- 1. Enforce ticketing when non EV cars park in EV charging spots @ Long Bridge Aquatics Center 2. Save Barcroft gymnastics!!
- 1. I suggest offering a flat fee, annual +/- monthly rate to use ART buses--- ridership would increase. 2. Create commercial space for vendors and SMEs around East Falls Church Metro. 3. Build Nood + brick commercial space at human scale + allowing creativity. glass blocks are uninviting. 4. Do not allow developers to build window-less rooms. My niece's bedroom (de-facto) has no windows. She is in a newish apt block near Court House. Horrible practice!
- 1. I would like to move away from county wide Board Seat. 2. Allowing newly paved roads to torn up for gas lines + water lines and patches vs maddening. 3. The permit price is completely better.
- 1. Lubber Run Community Center in gym needs white shade cleaned. It has dirt black on it - unhealthy - they ignore it. when they varnish gym floor, the smell is bad to breath for weeks. Needs ventilation or stop using chemicals 2. rude employees at Thomas Jefferson Gym - front desk, women .3. Shame on county board for killing innocent deer

- 1. Library hours too short. 2. Schools not good enough. 3. Preserve open space with real parks in development. 4. More affordable housing
- 1. Questionnaire ridiculously long 2. Current practices of users of the roads (drivers, bicyclists and pedestrians) in Arlington County is abominable!! I have been in situations that were too close for comfort on occasions that are too many to count -- pedestrians walking into traffic while looking down at cell phones; e-bikes and e-scooters riding full speed on sidewalks; e-bikes and e-scooters riding on the wrong side of the road; drivers and e-bikes and e-scooters running red lights; drivers regularly crossing the double yellow line to pass a delivery truck, to pass a trash truck, to pass a bicyclist, to get to the left turn lane, to pass other drivers in general; drivers (car and trucks) double-parking around Ballston along Wilson Blvd and on Quincy Street. I could continue, but you get the point. 3. There seems to be far too little enforcement of all this by the police. I do not drive more than about 20 miles in a week in and around my neighborhood. I feel like I am taking my life into my hands every time I get on the road in Arlington County. 4. I have gotten several violation notices from Zoning over the years. Violations for infractions that were also present on other properties in my immediate vicinity that got no violation notices. This flies in the face of the commitment of "Equitable and Uniform Enforcement." 4. My wife has dementia, but the County Government will pretty much provide nothing. Either all services are overbooked with a wait list that you never get to the end of, or you are told by the responsible offices that you "make too much money." BTW, the income cut-off is lower than my monthly Social Security check. We pay a boatload of taxes and aside from the basic services of Water, Sewer and Trash Removal, we feel like we get very little in return.
- 1. The current of electing board members does lend itself to having neighborhood representation and holding county board members accountable. 2. Despite the enormous sums of money given to the school system, it is failing. They need to go back to the basics of education, math, science, English, and do away with extraneous programs that do not directly support a basic curriculum and critical thinking. 3. Not everyone living here agrees with the left agenda and we have no voice.
- 1. The number of cars speeding on Washington Boulevard needs to be addressed. 2. The number of bars, attracting rowdy crowds, in Clarendon, is a major concern. 3. Why are there no community centers. or Adult Education learning centers, in the Clarendon neighborhood (years ago, we had a very convenient located Syphax location). 4. I love dogs, but the population appears to be out of control. Too many apartment buildings allow dogs, IMO. 5. Having recently moved from Rosslyn to Clarendon, I greatly miss the purple-shirted, Rosslyn street ambassadors. Rosslyn are is much cleaner and better kept. Clarendon also needs to swap out their open trash containers, and replace them to the fully enclosed style, used in Rosslyn.
- 1. The Woodmont playground on N. Fillmore St. was promised to be "fast-tracked" and completed years ago. Nothing has happened. 2. The ridiculous "circle" or is it stop signs at Military Road and Nelly Custis is still confusing and a waste of taxpayer dollars. It is a solution in search of a problem. Nobody wanted it. 3. 1000's of trees on County property are choked with ivy and therefore die prematurely. Dead branches endanger people and property. 4. Please stop adding traffic cameras and speed bumps

- 1) Need bikeshare stations at community centers and nature centers and better monitoring of system metrics. 2) ART bus stations should be combined more with metrobus stations so users don't need to gamble which station to pick. 3) Super irritating that many bus stops on Columbia Pike have been closed so long. 4) Need police to enforce traffic laws more. Tired of complaining about the same spots repeatedly to no avail. 5) Why is Arlington on X? Like ACPD is only on X and not BlueSky. It's a terrible platform. 6) Need easier landscape composting for condos. Need more street compost bins. Need more glass recycling drop-off. 7) Need noise cameras. Tired of waking up to speeding motorcycles. 8) Need performance parking (and enforcement) everywhere. 9) Really need to spend more on invasive plant management in natural areas. $100k is a drop in the buckets. Thanks.
- 40%-42% parking compliance is a joke. There's almost no traffic enforcement other than speed cameras. Bike lanes are treated like free parking spaces. The county website is still a disaster.
- 6 mos waiting for 4 overhead lights to be fixed in Lubber Run gym - unsafe! Problem turned in many times
- A focus on bringing in more "affordable" housing is pricing out the middle class from living in arlington while also bringing more crime to the area. until there is enough market rate capacity to support paying residents, we cannot keep allocating housing to to others at a loss.
- A sickness exists with rich people in power. go woke does broke. Bring back car noise ordinance and arrest criminals and charge them guilty instead of reverse DEI. plus lib arlington has low IQ liberals working.
- Abandon all DEI Equity, Climate initiatives & focus on merit & competence
- ABOLISH and DEFUND Arlington County! The county government expropriates too much money from the hard-working taxpayers and uses those revenues to fund the priorities of the RACIST, ONE-PERCENTER, WHITE-PRIVILEGE, SPECIAL-INTEREST agenda. County board members and bureaucrats need to check their superiority complex, stop acting as if they know better than everyone else what's good for them, mind their own goddamn business, and stop meddling with and bullying county residents.
- Absolutely love the bike trail system. Would love to have even more and have that continue to be a priority as we develop further as a city.
- AC has moved everything to web based interactions. It makes getting more complicated things done more difficult. If it does not fit within the check boxes then it takes 3 days to find the right person, three days to get a response, 3 days... Etc. Sometimes you need to find a contacts information. The permitting department is a mess and it is too expensive. The bureaucracy involved in securing a Land Disturbance Permit should be an embarrassment to the DES dept.

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

They routinely blow through deadlines, are un responsive to constituents and just generally create more time and expense than is necessary.

- Accessibility to sidewalks, especially around metro corridors, is pretty great, but the condition of the sidewalks varies greatly depending on whether a new development has recently been made in the area and included sidewalk improvements (like around the Courthouse Metro). I know the County has done outreach and provided a map to identify pain points across the county, but it's hard to see how that ties into future plans. Maybe a clearer map that identifies areas where future improvements have been planned would be helpful. On another topic -- RENT CONTROL!! It's ridiculous that a county with this level of average income and large share of renters doesn't have rent controls in place, especially for new buildings -- the majority of which are all managed by the same small groups of companies (e.g. Greystar, Equity) and can keep increasing prices across their portfolios. Given the cost of living crisis in this region and the absolutely insane housing prices that make it near impossible for middle class first time home buyers to actually purchase a home in this county, rent control should be a much larger priority (e.g., something similar to NYC with maximize % increases on rent each year set by the county). This should not only apply to older buildings, but especially new ones.
- Address budget cuts in APS and plans for Arlington Tech School
- Affordable housing income limits need to be raised.
- After living here for almost 30 years, Arlington still a wonderful place to live. But there is ALWAYS room for improvement.
- All ART bus stops should have shelters or a least a bench. For senior citizens such as myself, standing waiting for a bus can prove difficult.
- Allow more multifamily housing
- Although I've seen some improvements (added stop signs, safer intersection markings), I still find that South Arlington's infrastructure is not as safe as North Arlington's. Columbia Heights, for example, is wonderfully dense and should be a pleasure to walk around. Instead, my kids can't even walk safely to school at MPSA, less than a mile away. The feeling of pedestrian safety, calm and reasonable traffic, is a HUGE issue for residents deciding to/continuing to live in Arlington. Columbia Pike/Walter Reed area still needs a lot of support to create a pleasant, sustainable atmosphere for people, not cars passing through. Also, our libraries and county workers are great! I really appreciate all the nature programs, programs to support low-income families at Syphax, gun safety and addiction support, and the free ongoing training for Youth Mental Health First Aid. These programs are great--AND they need more promotion. Our county website is lagging behind the amazing services we have as resources here: it needs modernization.
- Arlington asks for feedback from residents too often. Surveys are long and detailed. Every initiative takes years of meetings and planning. It's too much discussion and asking for consensus. County leadership should be more proactive. Lots of residents don't have time to engage with providing feedback and learning about county initiatives. Just get results. I want wider sidewalks and slower traffic. Just do that and I'll be happy.

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- Arlington continues to tax everything. They make the argument that the RE tax rate did not increase but they increase the assessment on your property. They tax hardscape. They increase the meals tax. They take away a third of the parking spots for bike lanes and increase the parking fees. They should look at spending cuts.
- Arlington county charges a lot for senior citizen classes. For example crochet or knitting. Seniors should receive a discount. It would be nice to have a Kohl's Dept store at the Ballston Mall. Not just food.
- Arlington county employees are wonderful, knowledgeable, helpful, courteous and caring.
- Arlington parking is expensive and limited.
- Arlington County has lost sight of the truly most important thing in life: our human interconnectedness with animals and the environment. Thankfully, I grew up in a family that taught me to cherish, respect, and protect nature and all of it's beautiful manifestations. It is the most significant part of who I am as a person. We live in a very progressive and educated community. Our local leaders do well by its residents to ensure our safety and well-being. However, The Board and the Department of Parks and Recreation and Natural Resources has a complete disregard and no respect for our local wildlife, particularly our deer. From the beginning, the Department of Parks and Recreation and Natural Resources has promoted the killing of our deer as the only solution. From day one, they have continued to brainwash and misinform the public on this crucial environmental-deer issue. The Board's decision to address our environmental-deer concerns should not have been made until after the deer population decreased 23% from 290 deer in 2021 to 222 deer in 2025. Then a COMPLETE humane, non-lethal, effective, science-based strategies to protect deer, humans, and the environment should have been developed, compared, and considered. And Arlington citizens should have had a much bigger voice with ALL of the FACTS. Both the Board and the Department of Parks and Recreation and Natural Resources are not well-informed, secretive, and were swayed by special interest groups like the Arlington Regional Master Naturalists, the PRC, FNRC, and NRJAG.
- Arlington residents oppose sharpshooting our deer. We want a humane, effective, science-based strategy that respects and protects deer, humans, and our ecosystem. The County Board and the Department of Natural Resources are definitely not as compassionate and educated about animal rights issues as much as our elected Virginia delegates and senators are. Our local leaders care about people, but do not respect and understand the reciprocal relationship between humans, animals, and the earth. The County Board and the Department Parks and Recreation of Natural Resources protects and projects their image quite selectively and carefully; they do not like criticism and always paint themselves in the perfect light. To thrive as a democracy and community, the County Board has a responsibility to listen to their constituents. 63% of Arlington residents wanted a humane plan to peacefully coexist with deer and you completely ignored us, The Animal Welfare League of Arlington, and the proven humane science, opting for the unnecessary, senseless, killing of our collectively owned, valued, and naturally declined deer population. Through your ignorance and disregard for the lives of sentient deer, you have unwittingly promoted guns, killing, and violence toward animals. You have brought bloodshed to our community. Shame on you all! Jeannette Louise Smith Founder, No Killing Deer in Arlington <https://nokillingdeerinarlington.blogspot.com/>

- Arlington County is building all these new residences without the infrastructure to support it all. Rosslyn area has been a prime example of constant building and construction. Now another huge building on the old Marriot site that will be 'tall' allowing for more congestion in that already busy area. The Hilton and Rosslyn Towers at the Key are already tall enough. Also adding J.Rivelle Apartments.
- Arlington County needs low-income homeownership programs. Neighboring counties have successful programs for low-income individuals and county employees. In contrast, Arlington lacks these programs, indicating a lack of support for its county employees.
- Arlington County needs to replace the senior leaders and supervisors in the Planning and Zoning Offices. State laws for updating the Comprehensive Plan and planning for possible zoning and density changes are not assessing the impacts of proposed plans on traffic, infrastructure needs, Arl Co services, and budget. Arl Co approach to develop w/o any consideration of the impacts of the Plan Langston Blvd "Vision" and how it is being used to support zoning and density changes is not aligning with State laws and ignoring impact on adjoining parcels, community impacts, environmental impacts, and VA law. Arl Co also needs to stop all efforts to implement the EHO/Missing Middle Housing lawsuit and repeal all efforts to support 2 to 6 or 8 units anywhere in Arl Co. Same drop of the support for allowing Affordable Housing, non-profits, and churches to build housing at heights and densities and without needed parking in residential neighborhoods. Arl Co has no role and responsibility to address housing accessibility and other equity issues which align around economics.
- Arlington County officials are totally unaware of life for the majority here. The focus seems to be how to squeeze people via more taxes and fees. Zero ability to hold businesses accountable. No active ability to attract companies to create jobs unless they are somehow in the tiny sliver of working with the government. The psychological mindbent does not fit a modern, progressive world that caters to private sector. Most officials could be replaced by AI.
- Arlington County Police speeding down the streets going +15 over posted speed limit. ACPD not obeying traffic laws and posted speed. Driving recklessly through our residential streets. ACPD chilling at the fire station instead of patrolling the city.
- Arlington County seems to prioritize quantity over quality in communication. It shares a LOT, but requires a lot of time for citizens to keep up. I often can't, and feel my time is not respected. For example, the county sends video updates that could have been two slides. It asked us to rate satisfaction with development, but failed to ask if the dissatisfied want more or less of it!
- Arlington County streets are unsafe due to lax enforcement. Running red lights has been normalized.
- Arlington DHS & safety-net nonprofits do an excellent job supporting vulnerable populations, but the private sector needs to be involved! Why is there an eviction crisis with so many luxury apts in Arlington? Why is anyone experience hunger in the hometown of Amazon & Nestle HQ? And please please please prioritize plowing S. Nelson St in front of AFAC when it snows. Every year when we have a big snow, thousands of Arlington residents cannot access their weekly groceries. It is shameful! The neighboring DPR lot and dog park lot were plowed, but not the connecting S. Nelson St in front of AFAC. Help us help Arlington residents.

- Arlington for my family and I has been a wonderful place to live the quality of life here is amazing. I appreciate all the effort put in for arts, inclusiveness and community . I hope it can maintain as money gets tighter. Thank you for this wonderful place.
- Arlington government seems to have let our roads and sidewalks deteriorate. Often crosswalks are not clearly painted, overhead street lights are missing/broken, and the county has done a poor job educating pedestrians on safety.
- Arlington has really good public transit in some areas, but in others its terrible. Buses need to come more often and be more reliable. Metrobus and Dash both outclass ART. I also feel like information isn't given to the public as much as it should be.
- Arlington is a great place to live! (x2)
- Arlington is a high tax leftist county. You keep building housing and don't improve the roads. Too many bank lanes eating up roadways. This isn't California. Stop the leftist programs and tax increases.
- Arlington is a nice place to live but have continued to be unaffordable for normal residence. Property taxes are way too expensive. Affordability is impossible to reach for a family with children and a government job. I hear a lot about affordability but not for the lower middle class, if you make too much then you can't obtain any assistance. Seems we are worried about items that in the end don't really matter yet average families can't afford child care. I received a $200 parking ticket when I parked in my neighborhood to quickly pick up food. $200. Property taxes just keep going up. The percentage will never stay put. Our monthly tax amount is as much as rent in normal cities. And we just got a new food tax for restaurants? I've never seen a tax removed but they just keep coming. I think your parks and recreation are great.
- Arlington is becoming too expensive. Too much multi resident construction / overcrowding. Traffic is terrible.
- Arlington is generally a good place to live. However, cars fly down streets in South Arlington and Arlington fails to do anything about it. I've reported this several times to no avail. It can be unsafe to walk, run, and bike. We have had a water pipe on our street break four times in a single year; when are you all going to figure it out?
- Arlington is out of control in spending taxes keep going up law enforcement can't do their job need to work with ice and not letting repeat offenders out and if illegal they need to be deported
- Arlington is the best place where my family has lived hands down. We love the parks and ease of getting around. The ART system is very clean, safe, and reliable and my kids are fans of the I-Ride transportation option and use it daily and on Saturdays. The Metro trains give us the ability to travel outside of Arlington without driving. My only suggestion include having more housing options by building taller buildings which can help reduce the cost of housing and have wider sidewalks and better lit sidewalks in some areas where sidewalk space is small. We love Arlington.

- Arlington is too liberal. There was a pervert exposing themselves to children/women in the Yorktown pool (Yorktown is a school). This craziness needs to end. Like the question below asking what gender I identify most - that's a stupid question.
- Arlington is too woke and even this survey only considers Woke Policies...until we have full occupancy of our buildings, we need to stop building more and we need to listen to Independent and Republican opinions as many of our woke policies are not working (e.g., LED street lights, traffic lights are not in sync on roads as Arlington thinks everyone can walk, ride a bike or scooter repeat criminals are not prosecuted, homelessness/mental health issues are not addressed properly and the emphasis is not on everyone's voice). Arlington asks about demographics because you racially and focusing on gender preferencing everyone as you are profiling everyone and stereo-type all of our viewpoints
- Arlington loses good businesses to high costs. We may have to move outside the county incoherent is not suffabbd appropriate one level living in 10 to 20 years.
- Arlington need to do more to maintain and improve our County as a healthy, and affordable community people of all ages. We have limited options for older persons either to age in place or in senior communities. Similarly, we have limited options for anything like affordable child care. We must renew our commitment to tax paying residents who may or may not be citizens. We have miles to go literally and figuratively in mental health/behaviorial health skills for first responders and care especially for the unhoused. In such unsettled times, we need to connect with our neighbors and find our way to supporting them through tough times. We have spent far too much time and money arguing over the missing middle ordinance rather than focusing on building a community for our kids for now and the future.
- Arlington needs to do more to follow its plans and not pursue a massive densification program. The County has been successful due to its careful planning of high, medium, and low density and now is not the time to just throw it out in favor of massive densification everywhere. There are support services, schools, libraries, community centers, and utility infrastructure that will falter with the density at all costs effort.
- Arlington needs to reduce the overall budget. Continuing to raise taxes is not sustainable. Property values continue to rise and increasing the tax on top of that is making housing less affordable.
- Arlington no longer provides a good value for the tax dollars extracted, especially via Real Estate Taxes. County needs to focus of state of good repair of infrastructure rather than the many various programs that are offered.
- Arlington schools are the best, But it is time to stop give $ to the north Arlington School and improve the South Arlington ones. Our school needs an HVAC seems unacceptable that Oakridge only now may get one, when $ is short and budgets light

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- Arlington should be more walkable/bikeable with local libraries, shops, farmers markets, parks and schools. Plant trees (don't allow people to chop them down) and flowerbeds to make it pleasant. Pedestrianize streets, make bus lanes and bike lanes, reclaim the waterfront from the GW parkway - get people out of their cars!
- Arlington should do more to help arts groups and find affordable gallery space.
- Arlington soccer association monopolizes Arlington County parks and fields
- Arlington spends money on stupid things. They should focus on core services and cut extras. Arlington has such a high tax base that should never, ever raise taxes. Cut the frivolous services that benefit people who don't live here.
- Arlington works. If it ain't broken don't fix it. Be careful in any effort to change the structure of the government.
- Arlington's budget process is a sham. Board members are absolute idiots with their own agenda - they misuse tax funds for programs that do not address current needs. County government workforce is too big to effort by the taxpayers. They need to end projects for climate change and other democratic party goals while increasing taxes on residents. We need fiscally responsible board with common sense. As residents and homeowners, our payment is not increasing but our taxes are. I owe a business in Arlington too that I am now relocating as county add zero value other than collecting taxes on revenue despite my business having a loss year. House assessment is another sham - that's why we buy houses so that material impacts don't impact us but county keep increasing dwelling values which makes zero sense if no improvements were made to the house.
- Arlington's war on cars has made it difficult to shop here or to patronize local restaurants. Where parking is available it is tight and expensive--and subject to predatory towing. Streets are full of bike lanes used by cyclists who disregard traffic regulations and pedestrian safety. It is particularly difficult to age in place here.
- ART Bus Service is essential. Need more traffic control (double parking, blocking traffic lanes) around commercial centers like Ballston Quarter.
- As a 20 year resident, I have had to deal with the county numerous times. I have found staff to be guarded, if not hostile, invariably circling the wagons to protect their turf rather than offering open, honest judgment and assistance to residents. There's a prevailing "us vs. them" culture throughout the county, accompanied by a paternalistic "we know better" attitude.
- As a lifelong Arlington resident, I am very concerned with decision making at the Board level are not transparent and reflecting the constituents. The Arlington Way is not working if the Board decides to change character of neighborhoods in which the property owners have invested.
- As a resident of Aurora highlands, I say DEVELOP! I fully support a vision of the county and growing to meet the demand of housing and economic growth in our area. We need more medium and high density housing, and no neighborhood should be able to stop it! There's a lot of NIMBYs in the neighborhood, but we can't let that stand in the way of making our county a more prosperous, thriving community—once more housing is built, they'll see it wasn't so scary after all!

- As a retired resident of Pentagon City who has called Arlington home for more than four decades, I see the overdevelopment and endless road work as a serious detriment to our quality of life. In the meantime, very little is done to ensure that cars from other states are properly registered in Virginia, parking rates continue to climb and the number of spaces are shrinking. I love the diversity and amenities of the county, but getting around has become a hassle. It's no wonder online shopping and delivery has expanded since the pandemic.
- As a volunteer with the REEP program, I find that it provides tremendous value to the foreign residents of Arlington looking to improve their English skills and better integrate into our community.
- As an older working pedestrian who does not drive for medical reasons so relies on walking or mass transit, the sidewalks are shoddily maintained. Especially by Court House Metro in front of CVS with multiple dangerous missing bricks -- I caught my toe, fell, and still have a scar from the incident. Snow and ice removal in the business corridor by Court House Metro is horrible and routinely endangers pedestrians. Not clearing the handicapped ramp at the Bozeman Center was an ADA violation as well as a middle finger to the public. Renters need more services to afford to age in place, since we are a significant part of spending in the County. And for the love of God, crack down on the speeding, loud-muffled yahoos violating noise ordinances. This problem started during COVID lockdown and continues.
- Asking about traffic flow and not any other form of transportation in the first section is certainly a choice. Some questions/answers are poorly worded. For example, I am dissatisfied with the cost of public parking because it is priced too low but I don't think that is how that answer would be interpreted.
- At 2101 S Pollard St./Fort Barnard Park, an individual, "Wayne Cutz" has been operating a barber shop out of trailing using a gas-powered generator for almost a year. He takes up 4 parking spaces making it very difficult to find parking at the park and for residents that live on Pollard. A gas-powered generator is used, often starting as early as 7:00 AM on weekdays/weekends. it disrupts Saturday little league and use of the nearby playground. Where is code enforcement? Green Valley needs more than 4 street cleanings per year, lots of litter. Would also like to see Arlington County enforce parking by Sammy Transportation Inc. They garage many of their fleet vehicles in Green Valley (S Pollard St. S Four Mile Run, S Kenmore/19th). Also what is up with the orange barriers on S Four Mile Run? They've been in place for 2 years now. Is this permanent?
- Awareness - No ICE here
- Awful
- Ban gas leaf blowers immediately
- Ban gas powered leaf blowers. Do more to protect and plant trees to maintain/ increase the tree canopy; particularly increase protection for mature trees. More funding for libraries and APS.
- Ban leaf blowers asap!
- Bates trash/recycling still misses pick ups; sometimes trash and recycling is collected but the - green bins are not (or any other combination)

- Be more transparent (eg trying to change the Comp Plan intro without releasing the actual original intro). Add goal to eliminate jargon in County materials, in particular planning documents.
- Been here 25 yrs; it gets harder to afford rent in S Arlington every year. We lose too many trees to people building ugly McMansions that crowd us, and too many unique storefronts to bland chains and highrises.
- Best public libraries in the DMV.
- Better road mtce & lighting by the planetarium and further lighting toward entrance to trails
- Beyond public safety and improved lighting, transit (safe bike/walk, safe and clean public transit) and library services are hugely important to my household. Thank you for making and keeping Arlington a great place to live!
- Bicycle infrastructure is falling behind peer cities. Main thoroughfares need road diets.
- Budget is too large. Stop spending and stop raising taxes
- Bueno en lo personal y en mi experiencia. De mi besindario. Que los propietarios de complejos de apartamentos.Arbor Heights en especifico Frederick St. Agan algo al respecto con el inquilino que tiene perro. Que limpien el popo del perro de la grama estos inquilinos sacan su mascota y no recojen y ese popo lo traen los niños en sus zapatos. Y otro problema. Aqui no se respeta el contrato de renta. Hay inquilinos que fuman marihuana y el olor es fuerte a humo de cigarrillo tambien. Yo vivo por años aqui y no hacen cambios. Espero y ustedes agan algo al respecto como condado creo que si pueden gracias. (Well, personally and in my experience. From my neighborhood. That the owners of apartment complexes. Arbor Heights specifically Frederick St. Do something about it with the tenant who has a dog. That they clean the dog poop from the grass these tenants take their pet out and do not pick it up and that poop is brought by the children on their shoes.And another problem. Here the rental contract is not respected. There are tenants who smoke marijuana and the smell is strong and also cigarette smoke. I have lived here for years and they do not make changes. I hope that you do something about it as the County I believe that you can thank you.)
- Building variances are granted too readily and county seems to cater more to developers than homeowners or residents.
- Bus schedule online and on the station board for A1X has not been reliable since the name change. Frequent long wait and missing busses. Bus drivers frequently park the bus at S-Glebe Rd station and leave the bus by the station, without offering any information to the passenger.
- Business districts, particularly Clarendon, are filled with litter. Please increase police patrols throughout the County.
- Calls/emails to Zoning—long wait for response. Info from Zoning and Permit Center not always correct; tree maintenance in ROW badly handled in Lyon Park; snow removal very uneven quality; communication of priorities inadequate; Board not tackling infill adequately
- Canceling gymnastics and closing Barcroft makes zero sense.
- Cars run red lights constantly on Wilson Boulevard in Ballston. It is dangerous for pedestrians

- and bikers. I'd like to see better enforcement or more limits on car traffic in this busy area.
- Code and permit offices are incredibly corrupt. They have to be playing favorites and/or taking bribes to allow some of the stuff they allow. Absolutely disgraceful.
- Code Enforcement efforts are very weak. Online reporting is very user unfriendly and hard to use. Terrible customer service in every way.
- Code enforcement needs serious consideration.
- Code enforcement needs to be responsive to customers. Why is this office the only office in Arlington county that doesn't have to respond to complaints or issues?
- Columbia Pike is a disaster with all of the construction, and I am deeply concerned it is going to get really bad again when they start demo on some of the shut down buildings. We've lost so many businesses - it's really sad, and when I attended a call with County officials, it felt like there was no plan to incorporate lessons learned-they all felt very out of touch.
- Columbia Pike is still not finished. 3/24/26
- Community led initiative to look after urban tree health in metro corridor. Manage small debris and building components from current construction sites that are often found lining public streets. More support is needed to create a more robust entertainment & arts spaces in metro corridor area. Particularly ones that are affordable to emerging artists and performers or folks who make products locally. We have so much empty retail spaces that should be used and cared for by someone or organization. While owning property in Arlington is a great investment for those that can afford it; however, there are small businesses that could use the space to create services we needs such as childcare, tutorial spaces or satellite spaces for young kids to hang out when they don't want to be home. We need good jobs that provide apprenticeships or paid internships for high school kids in this area considering how AI is going to change the availability of good paying jobs.
- Concentrate on public safety, public works/infrastructure, and health for budget and effort. Know you do not control school budget but put pressure on schools to reduce overhead outside of classroom by reducing share of budget.
- Consider allowing WMATA to take over Arlington Transit. ART service has become too unreliable.
- Construction on Columbia Pike is an embarrassment. It has destroyed local businesses + my family moved in part b/c it was so bad.
- Construction on the Pike is exhausting to the point where i finally left the Pike. Don't cut library funding.
- Cost of living is ridiculous!
- County board members should be elected by district.
- County Board should post all political contributions received from developers and businesses interests.
- County communications for police, emergency management, library and parks and rec are exceptional. More walking distance off leash dog parks with grass are needed, particularly in areas of high residential density such as Buckingham, Columbia Pike corridor, etc. where the County has waived parking ratio rules to increase the population and promoted car-free living. These areas have less public spaces, particularly lack grassy areas, and are high in pedestrian traffic.

- County does a very poor job of responding to residents' traffic concerns. I live by the hospital and have an issue with ambulances on the street. The County acknowledges there is a problem but refuses to do anything. The County allowed the hospital to complete their expansion without requiring the hospital to perform much needed street upgrades.
- County is too focused on car-free diet. Many of us are disabled or seniors and we need a car to do basic errands, medical visits, etc. in Arlington. Also there is a total lack of attention paid to accessible parking. There is no county planning on housing growth -- EHO in residential blocks is not the answer. County needs to quit wasting money on the EHO lawsuit, especially with the budget deficit. County needs to have vision for metro rail and plan to run it under Columbia Pike out to Annandale. This is needed. Yes expensive but look how well metrorail helped develop North Arlington and Crystal City.
- County needs to cut discretionary costs and expenses. I pay over $15,000 in property taxes annually and do not see much benefit returned to me or my neighborhood. Instead, I pay more taxes so more socialist programs can be funded.
- County programs like gymnastics are important - cutting them will force us to turn to PE owned subscription options like "the little gym." My daughter loves gymnastics at Barcroft. I see her confidence growing every time I take her. We've gone to Cherrydale and central library since she was a baby. We need both. We've had many water main breaks in the years I've lived here. Invest in fixing those. I need running water more than I need another park built. Maintain the parks that exist, we don't need new ones. Pay teachers more instead of giving everyone days off. It's not helpful to parents. I am a nurse - I get it.
- County regulatory and tax burdens can be oppressive on residents, e.g. reg requirements on new residential construction SIGNIFICANTLY increase list prices. Of greater concern, individual members of County government continue to affirm, through their votes and prioritized issues/activities, that they feel no obligation to the concept of representative government and somehow confuse their election to be a mandate behind their personal, self-interested agendas. I am a non-partisan resident but increasingly, I find county govt. behavior to be egregious, e.g. the use of taxpayer dollars to fund litigation in continued pursuit of Missing Middle is a flagrant example of county govt. both pursuing its self-interested agenda and completely disregarding significant and credible voter opposition. Another example: the current budget priorities and proposed cuts do not reflect the priorities of any Arlington family to whom I've spoken. Frankly, I observe a growing consensus among Arlington residents that our County govt. behaves no differently than does the Trump Administration, albeit in different policy directions. Please stop trying to be uber-activists and get about the job you were elected to do: manage necessary county services and resources in the most fiscally responsible manner, make sure nobody falls through the cracks and otherwise stay out of the daily lives of those who try to live and work here.

- County should have elected Manager/Mayor. Staff is not effectively accountable to anyone in the county's current form of government.
- County should not spend funds to defend missing middle zoning
- County staff and county board ignore citizen input in development decisions in the county's pursuit of development and density. This has led to distrust of citizens with the county board and many county staff.
- County staff seem to spend a lot of resources on promoting big companies. I see very little spent on supporting or promoting small, independently owned businesses, particularly retail.
- County website is too fragmented. Hard to find what you need. I've often thought--why don't they have a person you can call to steer you to the right place to solve something. Instead, you have to go through all these layers. You've got all the bells and whistles and none of the common sense to organize the website for end-users. When it comes to your fails, you do not keep a record. ie. every time my metal/ewaste was not reported picked up by me (5x+) ...there is only the record that "it wasn't out", when it was and it was thrown away instead by the trash collectors. I complained each time, but there is no record of that. My complaint about horrible litter and rats at Safeway--Rats and knee high grass got excellent county help, but I was told to call the police on litter component, "but they won't ticket." Rats are still there because the litter feeds them. Half a solution.
- Crime and burglaries have gotten out of hand. The county needs more detectives and more emphasis needs to be put on solving crimes.
- Crime reduction and prevention needs to be a top priority. This is not the Arlington I moved to 20 years ago, 10 years ago, or 5 years ago. We need more police (higher salaries), well trained, and we need evidence-based interventions to reduce crime (carjackings, bank robberies, assaults, etc.). We also need more effort to reduce homelessness, so people get resources they need and we all feel safer. We also need to prioritize resources to underserved areas such as Green Valley, that have long been neglected. AND HAVE THE ART REAL TIME FUNCTION ACTUALLY TELL YOU WHEN A BUS WILL ARRIVE AND NOT WHEN A BUS WAS ORIGINALLY SCHEDULED TO ARRIVE (WHICH IS USELESS, SINCE THEY OFTEN DO NOT ARRIVE ON TIME). WE NEED A REAL TIME SERVICE LIKE DASH HAS .
- Crosswalks on wilson boulevard outside 2001 Clarendon often blocked visibly by large delivery vehicles causing pedestrian hazards. Trucks should use loading dock and not block hydrants
- Culture development in schools. stronger bullying consequences in schools
- Defund the police - fund public housing
- DEI and Climate change are dead. Why does this survey include these areas.
- Development work that makes no sense need to cease, immediately cease especially considering the county budget issues...these include but are not limited to: 1. Rerouting Clark St. It did not need to be rerouted and will only add more delays given the traffic light to be added less than 50 feet from the other traffic light. 2. Crystal Drive entry to the Crystal City metro stop. There is a metro entry less than a block from this new, under-construction entrance. 3. The silliness of all the effort to try to convince anyone that removing the Crystal City HWY1 overpasses at 15th and 18th St makes sense. It does not and will only compound the traffic issues on Hwy 1. 4. Allowing JBG Smith such sway in development of the community.

- DHS's Housing Grants. gift cards, and eviction prevention are out of control. This is not sustainable. Why is the county handing out gift cards to clients?
- Discrimination and lack of accountability. Refusal to enforce building codes and Air BB Rules. Terrible!!! Inspectors (only a few) take off for months at a time, and will not do their jobs!!! Waste of my tax dollars! Very very unhappy and may be bringing Arlington County to court soon! I cannot wait to move!
- Dislike use of residential parking for commercial vehicles near Wilson + McKinley. Also vehicles parked on 'No Parking' zone. Dislike double parking on Ballston + Clarendon impedes the flow of the traffic. Dislike excessive bike speed on walking trails. No e-bikes on walking trails. (nor scooters). Swanson MS should be enlarged. It's a learning institution; not a museum!
- Dissatisfied with trash and recycling services since new vendor started last summer. Missed pickups, late pickups and failure to put bins back in an orderly fashion. They often are tipped over, placed in front of driveway, or placed some distance away from house. On another topic, would like to see more trash and recycling bins on the W&OD trail.
- Do not cancel gymnastics program. Make more parks and recreation facilities and libraries and large public use spaces.
- Do not close Barcroft Community Center. Keep County Gymnastics.
- Do not close Barcroft! Please help businesses on Columbia Pike.
- Do not close the Barcroft Community Center
- Do not eliminate single family zoning
- Do not get rid of Arlington gymnastics.
- Do not get rid of gymnastics program!!
- Do not get rid of gymnastics!
- Do not like rank choice voting.
- Do not more development. Not more breaks for Amazon's incentives. Why do utilities do such a bad job repairing roads?
- Dockless scooters and bikes are a safety and accessibility hazard
- Don't cancel gymnastics
- Don't close Barcroft Community Center. Keep gymnastics
- Don't close barcroft! Also would love to know if there's a process for petitioning for speed bumps on street
- Don't cut gymnastics. There should be enough money from the ridiculously high property taxes to pay for it.
- Don't eliminate gymnastics at Barcroft. It provides an essential service to children with - development needs.

- Don't shut down Arlington Gymnastics. Consider installing more "left arrow" turn lights at intersections.
- Don't you dare close barcroft gymnastics. So shortsighted! Also, terrible how they snuck it in at the last minute
- Double parking by private vehicles at commercial sites has increased since COVID with little or no enforcement.
- Downtown Ballston parking needs improvement related to the number of delivery drivers quickly accessing food pickup
- DPR Therapeutic Rec has made a huge difference for our family - I can't say enough good things about them.
- Due to lack of parking and cost to park and unless I can walk to the site I do most of my shopping and other activities outside of Arlington County. Extremely displeased with trash pickups. I am tired of having to submit requests for missed pickups online only to have the request closed out when the service hasn't been performed and then to be told that it won't be picked up this week. It is bad enough that the contractor is lying to close out missed pickups but then to add in destruction of property is inexcusable. I should not have to spend my day at home on trash collection day to protect my property from the contractor. I'm also tired of writing letters to the county only to have them ignored and never receiving a response. If the county can't get the basics correct like picking up trash and cutting grass, why do we keep adding new things and costs. Arlington used to be so well run and responsive now it frankly sucks.
- Due to rent increase on a yearly basis, I live with fear and concern over being pushed out of my home. Everything else is secondary to this matter. It does not matter how much you love your city or neighborhood , if you constantly worry about being pushed out during to high rent.
- East Falls Church is also part of Arlington county. Enforce car excess noise. Promote full multi modal transportation. Sidewalks must be connect. Carnism is not environmentally sustainable. McMansions do not support community or green living.
- Electric bikes and mini motorcycles are using our walking paths and endangering pedestrians. Motorized bikes of any kind should not be allowed on trails frequented by pedestrians. (Zach Taylor park trail is prime example as it's a shared pedestrian/bike trail but is mainly used by pedestrians and the e-bikes and motorcycles and scooters create an unsafe situation.
- Enforce the laws. Stop letting people out of jail onto the streets. Work with ICE.
- Enforce the ordinances on homeless people. They constantly litter, go to the bathroom in public and harass people. It makes you feel unsafe at all hours.
- Enforcement of building codes for single family homes are poorly monitored and lax.
- Enforcement of business vehicles and trucks in neighborhoods has not been enforced for decades. Commercial vehicles parked on public streets 365 days a year with no enforcement.
- Enforcement of fireworks ordinances not done. Neighbors shoot rockets that go up 40 feet. E-vehicles on paved trails are very fast and hazardous to pedestrians. County does not clear

- snow well in neighborhoods and trails.
- Enforcement of sign ordinance - dissatisfied
- Enforcing parking, especially handicap parking is horrible. Art bus drivers are very courteous, and taxes on small businesses cause cost of dining out impossible
- Enthusiastic about plans for the Arlington Community Boathouse in Rosslyn as point of access to the Potomac River and cross- generational recreational and fitness asset.
- Entirely too much taxation and spending on "nice to have" projects instead of addressing basic needs (roads, water, schools, etc.). Arlington does NOT have to solve the world or the DC region's problems - we are way too small. Arlington is focusing entirely too much on unaffordable woke projects while they are facing a huge budget deficit and the school system is falling like a rock from the high level it was around 2019. Stop Missing Middle. Stop wasting money on a project that will NOT help address the issues you say it addresses. The math/economics don't work. Overall: the liberal leaders are taxing and spending Arlington into a death spiral. Oh, and this survey sucks: it when I say I am unsatisfied with something, does that mean I want more of it or less of it/eliminate it? You won't get any accurate data because the questions are bad. This survey allows you to read dissatisfaction as meaning "spend more/do more" when that is entirely the opposite of what I am trying to tell you in the survey.
- Everything is horrible unless you are a white old man from North Arlington. DHS employees are absolutely incompetent and nasty, yelling at people who call them for updates. Police utterly incompetent, crimes are not reported, crimes are not charged. Neighborhoods south of Ballston absolutely disgusting. Snow has not been removed three weeks after the snowfall. Parks are dirty overflown with dogs not on leash. Libraries are inadequate for Arlington demographics, filled with the homeless up to the brink, employees nasty Streets are dirty, nothing gets repaired on time. NO CODES ARE ENFORCED SOUTH OF BALLSTON. 911 employees with slurred Speech. Hispanic police officers favor hispanic criminals over victims. NO transparency as to where the money is going and why. Ridiculous amount of money spend on "support of immigrants" only resulted in some laminated cards in Spanish given out. Zero tourism. Zero arts.
- Excellent community doing well in a tight budget. Staff are patient and informed when assistance is required.
- Extremely disappointed in the missing middle lawsuits and the lack of transparency with the community. The law allows too much missing middle housing that is not in character with the neighborhood houses. All sort of pictures showing MMH that would blend in and all that is happening is big rectangle boxes with no green space. All the mcmansions have too little green space. Where are the tree and green space requirements for single family lots.
- Extremely disappointed with the current contractor who is supposed to collect yard waste weekly but does not, but then tells County officials that they did.
- Favorite bar closed few more luxury apartments, biggest complaint
- Federal impacts on employment / economy / small businesses need a long term strategic approach for recovery

- First--thank you for your responsiveness on the find-it-fix-it app, I use it often. However, as we are in a budget deficit, I'd love if 3 specific areas can be considered, rather than automatically just increasing our taxes. 1) eliminate the "street cleaning" on residential streets--these trucks just blow leaves and dust around the street, and aren't effective given the number of cars parked on the streets and the speed at which they go through. 2) Eliminate the leaf collection piles--this encourages many people to just throw their leaves in the streets weeks before pickup (causing mess and parking issues), when regular leaf bags and our existing infrastructure could be utilized. 3) Local firemen told us their fire trucks are replaced every 7 years--this seems incredibly excessive given that most fire trucks see 10-15 years of front-line service, could replacing every 8-10 years be considered instead? Finally, regarding traffic flows--please consider the unintended negative impacts that lowering speeds on main roads (such as Langston Blvd) have on surrounding neighborhoods. As someone living on a "St" that runs parallel to Langston between N Glebe and George Mason and has no stop signs, our street is a common cut through to avoid the street lights on Langston. With no stop signs, many drivers seem to feel the need to ensure their "shortcut" is worth it, going 30-35 mph even with cars parked on both sides of the road and children playing in yards. I've personally witnessed 2 different neighbors parked cars being hit as a result of this, as well as a near-miss of pedestrians in the crosswalk. Please reconsider lowering the speed limits of main roads and/or look for ways to add more calming methods or stop signs to impacted side streets.
- Fix the county sidewalks, They are dangerous + remove the snow from streets & Sidewalks
- Focus more on actual quality of teaching and education in schools. build a comprehensive high school
- Focus more on animal welfare and protection. Follow up promptly on reports of animal abuse, cruelty or neglect.
- For a county that prides itself on diversity, we have no diversity of representation or voice on the county council. Roughly a third of the county who votes for non-Democratic candidates has no public voice whatsoever.
- For almost every category, I'm weighting answers based on seeing significant improvements over the 43 years I've lived here, given the lack of resources in many areas. I DO see my privilege. Arlington has a high quality of life overall, but many things are 'a work in progress'. If I were a renter—58% of residents—I have friends who rent!!—I'd likely have some different responses. Re: equity, I've begun to see efforts to address this, but change is slow, and many residents lack awareness, do not "check their privilege". The recent decimation of federal/military jobs in the region, especially federal contractors—about $3.5B in Arlington alone—job postings down 15%, bankruptcies up twice the average, together with enormous cuts to HUD, HHS (housing, medicaid, SNAP), regional emergency funding, etc constitute an unprecedented economic crisis, which is coupled with a worsening housing crisis. I've watched BRAC and the crash/great recession/pandemic. This is worse. I've learned Arlington's racist/segregationist history in access and land use planning. All that context frames how I've prioritized my answers on core services for everyone, not just myself and my family. I struggle to communicate these things even to neighbors, so I congratulate Arlington on the extent to which it does. I'm an old white homeowner, so it's my civic obligation to do what I can to help, to learn, and to be grateful.

- For certain items, such as services to seniors, I think the issue is that the County needs to direct more of its resources to this area. DHS is doing a good job, but it needs more money to support more vulnerable seniors. This population is growing.
- For example, related to code enforcement, there has been a 'mobile' barbershop - including a pick-up truck, trailer, and box truck - on the corner of S Walter Reed Dr and S Pollard St for over a year. It takes up parking in front of the park; has owners/customers using a mobile port-o-potty, and runs a generator throughout the morning/day.
- For most questions my answers were based on what I observe, not simply my personal experiences. Arlington does a great job overall, especially given resource constraints, which are increasing. In areas where it could do better, like affordable housing, attainable housing, help for the most vulnerable, inclusivity, the problems come more from other residents than from the county itself. Some long standing problems, like managing stormwater, stem from inadequate infrastructure from decades-ago development with insufficient requirements.
- For new residents, there should be more information about the community.
- For summer camp there should be more spots open in Camp Discovery - Those kids need those services.
- For the love of God Save Cherrydale Library DO NOT SHUT IT DOWN. I Was a essential part of my childhood
- For the nth time, if you want to attract businesses, fix the antiquated and overloaded permitting codes. I'm very tempted to skip permitting on my next job, since two of my neighbors did, and faced no consequences.
- Frustrating when sidewalks are not cleared of snow and ice (both those that are the responsibility of residents and the county); Cherrydale Library is very important to me and families in my neighborhood. People can walk and easily access the facility without having to head to the more congested Central library.
- Fund the libraries!
- Get I.C.E out!!!
- Get rid of missing middle Policies. Spend more effort educating customers about what does NOT go into recycling bins and expend more effort on how home comfort can REALLY be improved with energy efficiency improvements. The county needs to hit what matters most (home comfort) to encourage more adoption of EE efforts.
- Glebe Rd from 7th St onwards heading to RT 50 is a crater, constant construction and repatching post construction has left it in a terrible state. The builders do not fix it properly after they are done with it. Also the no right on red onto Glebe from Fairfax Dr coming from I66 makes no sense during certain hours of the day (late night)
- Good work good madams and sirs. Thank you for your service

QUESTION 25

- Good work!
- Gov development - too much noise from souped up cars and motorcycles on Langston Blvd . Extreme traffic congestion around route 66 and Sprint Run
- Great place to live, good government, love ranked choice voting, build more housing, ASAP.
- Greater consideration should be given to the environmental impact when approving greedy investors to build large "McMansions." Excessive development and construction are disturbing the soil and causing erosion around well-established homes (from the 1940's). At the same time, property taxes are increasing every year, making it increasingly unaffordable for seniors living in the area to remain in their homes.
- Grounds maintenance At Swanson Middle School is minimal, at best. It is a detriment to the neighborhood. Piles of yard waste have been sitting out front for many months.
- Half this survey was about equity and inclusion. That is telling about County priorities.
- Hate the trash pickup. Back door service and call each week.
- Have better services for homeless and help with housing. clean up the shelters they aren't safe.
- Help the latin communities feel safe.
- Homeless people living in Jennie Dean Park sometimes. / Fall 2025 vandalism in same park. Lack of disposal of dead trees, rubbish, trash.
- Honesty, transparency and integrity are all qualities sorely lacking in Arlington County Government. No one trusts prevaricating, predatory government officials and staff members who conduct themselves like the Trump administration, believe all voters are stupid, and display open contempt for residents/businesses and the truth.
- Housing feedback due to missing middle concerns about parking and density and allowing houses the size of most new builds on current lots
- I am a walker, Metro-user, cyclist and a driver. The traffic flow for cars is obnoxious. On a weekend night at 9pm when nobody is on the road, it takes ten minutes to go a mile on Glebe westbound in between Quincy and Washington BLVD. Few pedestrians; few cars, just sitting around for no reason. This is less safe for pedestrians as people are speeding up to ensure they're not sitting at a third straight red light.
- I am not going to knock much of the snow removal - this year was a challenge, but you can't convince me that Washington BLVD and RTE 50 needed to keep one lane of snowcrete two weeks after the storm. It was one week of clearing and then three weeks of YOLO - let's let the sun do its work...even on main thoroughfares.
- I am absolutely opposed to the proliferation of no-turn-on-red signs in Arlington without "when pedestrians are present." I get it. Pedestrians are squishy. Drivers shouldn't hit them. But to condemn drivers to running their engines for no reason at empty intersections is ridiculous. Same with the crazed implementation of speed limits across the county. We've got 4 lane roads with few un-signalized cross streets that are 25 mph, and some roads where the speed limit changes multiple times in less than two miles.
- I am aware of discrimination in hiring based on race. ie, much harder for white looking men to compete for jobs and promotion in county. Diversity in county employment is way way higher than actual diversity represented in people living here. I have seen highly qualified W men not get promoted over unqualified non white employees. Any discrimination based on race is de facto unfair. Nor should student punishment in school be more severe on white boys than non white. i have seen this repeatedly. And we need the cops back on the schools! Huge help. Also cyclists becoming a danger as they weave in and out of traffic, and ride 2x2 on streets and curse drivers. Finally the make housing affordable is ridiculous - builders upzoning and selling "affordable housing " at the going rate of 900,000$ so, NOT affordable to those you claimed to be representing but also decreasing the enjoyment of our neighborhoods which we bought into for the less density which county is giving up. Stormwater management - you have WRECKED our wood trails with massive stormwater overflow into the streams, tearing away the streams edges, knocking down 100 year old trees so you could install more and more and more housing. I have been involved long enough to see County lie repeatedly. And I feel way less safe. Repeat criminals out on street over and over.

- I am concerned by the annual compounding growth of the county budget and corresponding real estate taxes without a perceivable change or increase in services provided by the county. Programs and positions seem to be evergreen without ever being assessed to determine if they successfully address the reason they were originally established and are still necessary. Ideally programs and positions would automatically sunset and would require assessment, justification, and reauthorization to confirm ongoing need and value. Stormwater management continues to be a challenge in my neighborhood. Years of neglect followed by poorly managed road and sidewalk construction projects led to flooding, damage (some of which takes years to manifest itself making causal connections difficult or impossible), and insurance claims shifting the burden from the governmental cause to insurance companies (triggering premium increases or cancellations) and homeowners. We talk about "The Arlington Way" but more and more often that feels like a quaint memory of (what may or may not have actually been) a better time in the past while the present feels more like a government that decides what it wants/is going to do and then goes through the motions of acting like it is listening to the citizens so that it can say it has but then proceeds to do what it wants to do and was determined to do in the first place, often against the overwhelming clearly evident voice of the community.
- I am deeply concerned about ongoing public safety conditions in Green Valley, particularly around the Shelton building area. Residents are experiencing repeated incidents involving drugs, weapons, reckless driving, and disruptive late-night activity. This is especially alarming given the presence of young children, a nearby elementary school, public park space, and families who rely on these areas every day. Vehicles frequently park illegally in no-parking zones, drivers speed at dangerous rates, play loud music late at night, honk excessively, and race cars in the parking lot of Drew Elementary School, along 23rd Street South, and on South Kenmore Street. Police response times have not felt sufficient when residents call for assistance, leaving many of us feeling unsafe and unheard. The ongoing disorder has reached a point where I feel fearful living in my own home. I respectfully ask Arlington County Government to prioritize stronger enforcement, faster emergency response, traffic calming measures, and sustained intervention to restore safety and quality of life for families in this community.

- I am deeply in favor of the county deprioritizing law enforcement funding in favor of human services and public amenities, like affordable housing programs and the library.
- I am extremely unhappy about the plan to close Barcroft and Arlington Gymnastics.
- I am glad we are promoting inclusion, but be careful not to exclude some to include others.
- I am most dissatisfied with the new trash collections company. I hope the contract is not renewed at the one year mark. I hope the previous trash collection contractor is rehired.
- I am not a homeowner. I attend college in Williamsburg - however I have resided in Arlington w / my family all my life. Though I am not a taxpayer. I remain very satisfied.
- I am opposed to the Missing Middle plan which only helps developers tear down older single-family homes to replace them with enormous multi-family housing that is more expensive. Ruins neighborhoods, destroys quality of life, fails to create affordable housing g and lines the pockets of rich developers. Abandon this ridiculous program and stop wasting taxpayer money on the lawsuits.
- I am pleased to be a longtime resident of Arlington but I continue to be disappointed and dismayed by the County's pursuit of the "missing middle" despite the courts saying it was decided improperly. The County's payment of more than $1M in legal fees to pursue affordable housing by unilaterally changing long standing zoning requirements was a travesty. The stated goal of affordable housing has been a farce. It is only a vehicle for real estate developers to make more money. None of the duplexes or apartment buildings are affordable to the target audience. It is has resulted in significant distrust in the County Board which acted politically and without appropriate input from residents.
- I am sorely disappointed in the failure of the county to maintain or clear of snow any of the sidewalks, and bike paths during and after the snowstorms. I, and many others were forced to walk in the road with no separation from traffic for multiple weeks. This is unacceptable.
- I am strongly opposed to closing any of the county's library branches. This comes up during every CIP cycle and Cherrydale and Glencarlyn patrons and supporters must re-justify the value of these branches. This requires a significant amount of community time and effort. These locations have proven their value for over 100 years.
- I am tired of huge mega mansions on tiny lots. Please tighten zoning laws to reduce footprint allowed for single family homes. I prefer allowing missing middle to multimillion dollar homes that house a small family. I would also like to see more variation in materials and height of multistory buildings, especially in Ballston, which has become a characterless wind tunnel.
- I am very concerned about young kids whizzing around the neighborhood on scooters and ebikes at high speeds. I live in Yorktown and there are many busy streets. There doesn't seem to be any age restriction on using these. If a kid was ever hit, it was be a tragedy.
- I am very concerned that it took Arlington Police 20 minutes to respond to a recent assault...enough time that one victim got severely beaten. His beating probably wouldn't have been that bad if police were even 10 min away. This was at central library, and there were no police nearby?! What were they doing?? And if you call 9-1-1 you get busy signals?? What good is having a 911 service in an emergency but you can't get through??

- I am very disappointed in the County Board. They seem to have lost their way in community engagement and the "Arlington Way".
- I am very dissatisfied with the County's communication related to the gymnastics program. The planning was not well developed, there were no consultations with the directly affected community members, notifications of the budget proposal were last-minute, the communication mistake with gymnastics staff was deeply lamentable, and the cherry-picked data used by DPR in its presentation to the board was disingenuous and disappointing. I had an extremely positive view of the county and county employees prior to February 20, 2026; the lack of care in handling the proposed elimination of the gymnastics program has fundamentally changed my perception and significantly increased my distrust of how my taxpayer dollars are handled.
- I am VERY dissatisfied with the elimination of SFH zoning. Whoever decided that households (other than singletons) would only have 1 or less cars does not live in reality. Additionally, I am having to pay stormwater runoff tax for the overdevelopment of neighborhoods. I have planted more trees and shrubs, but don't get credit because I planted everything before Arlington County decided that there would be a stormwater runoff tax exemption. Thanks so much Arlington County!!
- I am very happy living here.
- I am very unhappy with County proposals to close 1) Barcroft gymnastics facility, and 2) Cherrydale library. I pay a lot in tax dollars and I want those to continue, as they are good for the community, and don't cost that much. They are way more value-added than other programs in the County.
- I am unhappy with the County's ineffective efforts at traffic calming and the painting of parking spots that are too small (esp at Langston-Brown). The traffic circle/triangle project at Nelly Custis is taking too long.
- I am worried about retaining small, local businesses in Arlington. I live along Columbia Pike and we have seen a lot of great small businesses close. Additionally, I am disappointed in the way that construction projects are promised, tenants are kicked out of the buildings, and then progress is stalled. There are a number of these examples along Columbia Pike. I think the approval process has to change so that people can't be kicked out of their buildings until construction actually begins.
- I am worried about the amount of "go-arounds" at DCA. Some of the planes fly very close to the high rise apartments
- I am writing to oppose the proposed elimination of all gymnastics programs and the closure of Barcroft Sports & Fitness Center. This is a program that supports the entire Arlington community including toddlers to pre-k, children with disabilities, and those looking to work on flexibility to those who want to compete. They serve everyone no matter ability or income. It is not right to just close not just a program but an entire community without having a plan, without Arlington residents having a say, A VOTE!!! You have given no explanation or plan of what you're going to do with the gymnastics program and how you're going to reuse this building. Please explore alternatives before eliminating the only affordable public gymnastics option in Arlington. You -- County Board Members owe it to your community to be responsible, to be transparent, to represent OUR community, not your own interests.

- I answered "Neutral" when I have mixed feelings about the subject of question. This is particularly true regarding regulations and policies related to residential development, stormwater management, and tree coverage. I think the County is not living up to its declared policies and goals
- I appreciate getting a prompt response from a staff person when I submitted a report an issue online. In this case, it was about a double utility pole. Very responsive & within a month the second, non-functioning pole was removed!
- I appreciate the counties effort to mark bike lanes, but think that they may have gone overboard and it may not be necessary in some places. Expensive to install and maintain. I especially dislike the plastic bollard markers that are unsightly and continually being broken.
- I appreciate the work the police do in general, but they need to start enforcing traffic laws. It's dangerous to walk and bike in many parts of the county, including where I live near Green Valley. One reason the driving is so bad and disrespectful is the bad drivers don't really have to worry about speed traps or being pulled over for bad driving. I'd also like the county to prohibit the use of augmented exhaust systems on cars. Other than these two complaints, I love living here and don't begrudge the county a dime of my taxes. Services and amazing, it's safe, the schools prepared my kids well for life, and I love living here.
- I believe Arlington County can continue to thrive by investing more intentionally in South Arlington. While major issues north of Route 50 are limited, there is tremendous opportunity—and clear need—along the Columbia Pike and Four Mile Run corridors. Targeted investments in green spaces, as well as arts and culture, would bring meaningful long-term benefits to these communities and our county as a whole. Transportation also remains a challenge in South Arlington, where many families depend on public transit. Expanding service and improving reliability would make a notable difference in residents' daily lives. Another smart strategy for community outreach would be to engage families through the schools—via PTAs, principal newsletters, and similar channels. As a parent of children attending Title I schools, I know how essential these communications are for keeping families, especially those who are lower-income or English learners, informed. Kudos to Arlington Parks and Recreation for recent efforts to ensure Title I families know about available discounts for summer and school-break camps. In the past, many lower-income families weren't aware of the program, but this year more families are taking advantage of it—helping reduce summer learning loss and other challenges that can affect students during long school breaks. Finally, I want to express appreciation to Parks and Rec for offering drop-in teen events at recreation centers during the many recent snow days. These teen “takeovers” are providing much-needed safe, welcoming spaces for youth—particularly those from Title I schools—to gather and connect.

- I believe Arlington is overcrowded now. New housing attempts that will increase the number of residents on an existing lot are given less consideration to surrounding residents and homeowners and more to future residents. There is too much traffic and too much traffic signage for ease of getting around. Parking can be difficult. More population will exacerbate this. It can be very awkward for those visiting the first time to maneuver the streets. Another indicator of overcrowding for example, is overcrowded athletic fields where neighbors can hear noise and lights all day on the weekends. Arlington does embrace diversity, adding more residences won't change that. We should have high standards of neighborliness as a high priority. Please keep a tab on housing inventory, looks to me like there are ample opportunities in all price ranges at this time.
- I came to Arlington 25 years ago because of wheelchair accessibility. I love the county. I think Arlington is improving its multicultural inclusion.
- I can appreciate the Vision Zero purpose and initiative, but in implementation, many of the efforts seem to create more problems than they solve. As an example, the number of street signs and road markings that must be processed and respected when driving along many corridors in Arlington is somewhat overwhelming.
- I can not believe the arlington county is even considering cancelling the gymnastics program. It is ridiculous. It one of the most used county programs. What idiot decided that was a good idea.
- I completed the survey but realized afterward that I forgot to include an important issue. The County must address pickup and drop-off activity in high-density urban areas like Rosslyn, particularly on streets with both commercial and residential uses such as N. Lynn Street. Currently, enforcement is almost nonexistent due to police staffing vacancies, and the existing 15-minute parking zones are ineffective. Going forward, no new development should be approved without a properly designed pickup/drop-off area, and loading docks must be used and actively enforced. The current situation is not working and creates ongoing congestion and safety issues. Enough is enough. This issue has been raised repeatedly—Mark Schwartz has spoken about it—but meaningful action has yet to occur.
- I do not feel safe in Arlington and their approach to prosecuting crimes at all levels in the county. There is a strong bias by prosecutors to release criminals once they are arrested. What is the point of having a police force in Arlington if you just release criminals back on to the streets.
- I do not like the bikes on the roads, it is not safe. Rents are too high for small businesses to stay here
- I do not think Arlington makes sound decisions regarding tax dollars. For example, the excessive repaving of residential streets where is unnecessary. We have lived in Arlington for 17 years and our street has been repaved at least twice. The "traffic circle" being created at Nelly Custis and Military is completely unnecessary. That is a complete waste of money. We live around the corner and know the streets very well. It is outrageous that the county moved forward with that project which has overruns and is mess. The county needs a mayor not a manager. In addition, the county needs presentation from each district within Arlington. I do not understand why real estate assessments increase every year and every year, the "excess" tax dollars are distributed to the non-profit affordable housing group. Why would the county not keep that money for a rainy day which we are now experiencing with no end in sight? The county does do a good job planning. The real estate assessments are not sustainable.

- I don't agree with the county keeping ranked choice voting. It's never been explained correctly, is confusing and doesn't necessarily end up with the best candidate.
- I don't bike (e-bike or otherwise) on Arlington County roads because I don't feel safe. I would like more dedicated bike lanes.
- I don't feel like this government gives me a voice. All I can do is listen to fake debates on topics that were decided in a smoky backroom. It's all a fake.
- I don't see any meaningful support for small businesses. Taxes and sewage rates are so high, that I will need to move in order to retire more comfortably. I feel that county gov wants me out of the county.
- I don't think the money spent on the organics bin, food /scrap collection is worth the effort based on participation. Save the money and get rid of the organic waste bin. Also I think the replacement of sidewalks with concrete sidewalks is a waste of money. My sidewalk was perfectly fine and replaced with poor quality concrete sidewalks that are chipping after the winter snowcrete event. Before the sidewalks were replaced with concrete sidewalks, the County spent money leveling uneven sidewalks and fixing cracks, for what I assume is ADA compliance, only to spend more money replacing it all. What a waste of taxpayer dollars.
- I feel happy to live in Arlington. I am generally safe and feel listened to by the county. snow management has been stellar if we can get further safety measures for pedestrians that makes a big difference to me.
- I feel that this survey could have misleading results. For example, why is someone dissatisfied with a category? I HOPE that Arlington County does not assume that everyone who selects this feels the same way. Some may be dissatisfied because they feel the county does too much already while others may feel that not enough is done. I would love the opportunity to elaborate if someone is going to sincerely listen.
- I find many of the new traffic changes annoying. I have lived here 25 years and suddenly without warning no turn on red signs are installed which make no sense. Also, would like the county to make budget decisions more available to the public. Our taxes go up every year and whenever the county seems short it closes a library.
- I find this to be a very slanted survey. The entire section on equity assumes the surveyee approves of how much county money is spent trying to appease special interest groups. The county board consistently caters to the woke segment of the population and anyone who doesn't agree has their voice marginalized. The way we elect the board (rotating seats instead of all members at one time) leads to a perpetually one-sided organization where the minority party will always lose and not have a seat at the table. Time to change the board structure in Arlington and how we vote to fill those seats.

- I frequently walk on the Four Mile Run and W&OD trails but am using them less because I am scared of the speed of the bikes, and especially e-bikes. Speeds need to be posted and enforced before there are collisions. Most bikers don't even call out when they are approaching walkers or other bikers.
- I hate that Arlington allows construction "leftover" vehicles, piles of junk and other ugly, parking space consuming places around town. I'm thrilled the one near the UU on George Mason has recently been cleaned up after over THREE YEARS and still await a clean-up where Kirkwood meets Langston Blvd. A company left blocks of equipment and junk along Lincoln making it dangerous near Hayes Park and Science Focus until I started sending photos. And then a street roller parked and ruined a newly asphalted spot along 14th until I sent in a complaint and photo. The folks who asphalted the corner of Lincoln @ 14th left an area that holds onto water for days after a rain and for some reason Arlington has never cleaned up the terrible asphalt leading into the Science Focus parking lot where it is quite dangerous walking across it (after the fiasco and disruption of putting up temporary classrooms at Science Focus and putting in plumbing [thus the disruption to the macadam] only to change its mind and pull it all out. What a waste of funds and now years of dangerously navigating uneven breaks in the pavement. Why didn't that get redone when Lincoln was paved?????
- I have a disability and I'm satisfied with STAR and feel extremely lucky that we have those Services. I do feel that there have been instances where certificates of occupancy have been given to businesses that are not ADA compliant. Overall maintenance of curb cuts is good. But brick sidewalks have wedges that move with the weather and need to be maintained. But a very accessible place to live. Also very disappointed in how new Ballston mall was reconfigured. There are no places to shop that have clothing. The one boutique that was there had so many issues with heat and cooling that they left. It is basically a place to go to eat or do other entertainment.
- I have an issue and have tried a few avenues. The county's page that allows you to write a short question, answered me in a condescending way with no avenue to reply and emailing a counselor, he never replied.
- I have applied for a few jobs with Arlington County over the past two years. I have been considered a good candidate for the job, but have not been contacted further after the job application has been submitted. I understand that the County promotes its employees internally, which is great. I feel that people who have never worked for the County and have the skills to perform the same job get overlooked at times.
- I have attended two "Open Door Monday" sessions, and even though the conversation seemed promising where I shared my issue and the Board member assured me it would be addressed with action, there was absolutely zero follow-up or action taken by the Board member or county.

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

The fact that this happened twice demonstrates that this Open Door Event is all for show/PR and nothing more. It would actually be better if you did not hold these sessions, as they are a waste of people's time and very misleading.

- I have checked books out of the Cherrydale library and participate in a monthly foreign policy discussion group there.
- I have concerns that Arlington is not focused on spending on necessary items (police/safety/roads/infrastructure) but is focused on non-essential items including making speed limits too low, adding a circle on Military Road, wasting money on outreach and equity initiatives. Governments must focus on essential services and not "nice to have" services. Arlington has lost its way and does not take feedback from its citizens. Stop idealizing goals and hold all constituents, including bikers, accountable for following the rules. Developers never follow the rules but taxpayers must. Arlington has not enforced the coverage rule for new homes. We don't need to require rain catchers either. We don't need to facilitate bikers everywhere when few actually use bike lanes. Another waste of money.
- I have lived here since 2005 and have always been satisfied with trash collection until recently when the County fired a great contractor and hired Bates, who empties part of the trash and recycles in the truck, leave some of it in the cans, which they carelessly throw into the middle of the streets, and then leave a Hansel and Gretel trail behind their trucks as they drive away. They're terrible! Get the old company back!
- I have lived in Arlington for over 30 years and love it. My only concern is that my grown children, who want to live in Arlington, can't afford the housing.
- I have lived in Northern Va since 1969 and in Arlington since 2005. I never want to leave Arlington. It has superior support of seniors. I use community centers 55+ 7 days a week.
- I have nothing to say.
- I have noticed more homeless people. They're chill and don't cause any problems, but we should see how we can help them get off the street.
- I have walnut trees so arbitrary weight limits for yard waste severely restrict the ability to dispose of fully formed walnuts in yard waste during the fall. I've seen some neighbors dump the walnuts into the street rather than collecting them for yard waste. If yard waste cart weight limits are severely restricted, I will have no other option than dumping the walnuts into the street which would be messy, unattractive and repugnant. This past year was a record year of production for my walnut trees. Fortunately county staff responded to my requests for assistance in getting the carts collected by the yard waste disposal service. Please ensure the capacity for yard waste collection is robust and meets everyone's needs, noting that in the fall there is more need for services and flexibility.
- I hope the proposal to close Cherrydale Library is reversed and that additional support for libraries is increased in the budget.
- I know it's hard, but please do something about affordable living. Perhaps raise the minimum salary requirements for single people. $3200 rent (without landlord add-ons and utilities) for a 1BR is not sustainable. Million dollar 1000 sq ft townhomes are not sustainable. Condos with $750 (and higher) monthly HOA fees are not sustainable. I may have to move my elderly mother with me, and I am terrified that I can not afford a larger apartment.

- I know this year's ice/snow storm was unexpectedly harsh but 3 weeks after the storm, the streets and parks were not cleared, including crossing zones for pedestrians.
- I like the community center and Arlington sports, activities for kids
- I live in Cherrydale & Rt 66 is behind my house (beyond the bike path). Over the years, the noise has become increasingly worse & is now intolerable & unacceptable. It sounds like a drag race course at all hours of the day & night from speeding cars & cars with adjusted mufflers. Del. Patrick Hope told me there is a new lower decibel level, but it must be ENFORCED. The worst section is the W-L underpass between Lyon Village & Glebe Rd. I would like to know what the County can do about this situation?
- I live in Crystal City/Aurora Hills, and I would like more sidewalks within the neighborhood. Many residential streets don't have sidewalks - that combined with lack of snow/ice removal meant that there wasn't anywhere for me to walk this winter aside from the street. I am so thankful I am not in a wheelchair - I would have been home-bound for almost two weeks. I wish there was better information about how to get involved in government - it was really hard to get accurate, timely information about helping at polling places for elections. I've volunteered in three other states and this was the worst in terms pre-election communication. For how much money the citizen have, it is extremely difficult to see where it is spent - parks are littered with trash, dog parks (which are used by so many) and libraries are not well-maintained, and luxury apartments and townhouses (costing $1.2 million++) are being built, but not anything affordable. It's frustrating to see housing built that the majority of the people who rent here can't afford. I'd recommend creating signs/making residents aware that scooters should be in the bike lane - I have almost been hit by people on them so many times, and the sidewalk should feel safe for pedestrians.
- I live in Rosslyn. I was under the impression that there would be more development in this business area to attract businesses that would be more attractive to those living here. I realize that COVID put a bit of a roadblock in this area, but there doesn't seem to be a move to more retail space here or more restaurants besides fast food. Would love to see more progress with this. Thanks!
- I live off Columbia Pike, the road construction has been a nuisance for several years with little upside imo and very detrimental to local businesses. The quality of the new sidewalks is terrible. Arlington promotes being a "walkable" community yet building and road construction crews continually close sidewalks without alternatives making walking hazardous. Bikes and scooters using sidewalks also makes using them for walking dangerous. Finally, all the no right on red signs are unnecessary and result in excessive idling time contributing to poor air quality.
- I live on Crystal Drive and have concerns about increasing congestion and safety. Cars frequently park illegally and run red lights, creating dangerous conditions for pedestrians. The Water Park area is also very noisy for nearby residents. The DJ music and piped-in sound are often excessively loud, with persistent bass and percussion that can be heard inside apartments. In addition, food delivery vehicles regularly block traffic lanes and obstruct access to my parking garage.

- I lived in many cities in Europe and around United States and so far the roads are by far the worst quality here. Narrowing streets is ridiculous, extensive bike lanes everywhere with no bikes are ridiculous. Empty busses running all over Arlington are completely unnecessary. Potholes are really bad. The roads are designed horrible with massive asphalt flat areas for no reason. In country club hills there are very narrow roads and people park on them and then street over there are acres of asphalt with zero traffic and no reason for it at all. Some places the roads should be narrowed or trees and plants put in between, in other places we need sidewalks and making the road a little more wide. Finally the most stupid, expensive and never ending project on the military road - the crazy roundabout. It was perfectly fine to begin with and whoever designed that should be fired. It's completely ridiculous having a work and rework Nd rework of the original intersection over the past few years. Crazy!
- I love Arlington and really appreciate all the services. If there was one thing I'd change, it's to get rid of the tax write-off for empty commercial space. This disincentivizes commercial landlords from getting the space filled, which also affects the neighborhood quality of life for the nearby residents.
- I love Arlington County 47 years and counting
- I love Arlington county, but it's a nightmare for pedestrians. Sidewalks are in poor repair and most often non-existent. It's very unsafe for pedestrians because drivers don't follow traffic signals or stop at stop signs, they run through red lights, and turn right on red when it's clearly not allowed. I can't tell you how many times I see county vehicles doing the same thing. And this will never change until the police start ticketing drivers for these infractions. So much focus is placed on cyclists. What about pedestrians???
- I love how open the County Board is to public comment. Being able to remote in when we commented on the towing ordinance was fantastic.
- I love Libby and the library services. I wish there were more programs helping 20-35 year olds in this county.
- I love living here! thanks for all you do. I find the bus system difficult to use and semi unreliable.
- I love living in Arlington and contributing to my community through volunteer work and church projects. I am a senior, retired teacher and would not be able to afford to live here if I still had a condo mortgage to pay.
- I love living in Arlington! Snow removal on streets and sidewalks as well as traffic and parking enforcement could be improved.
- I love the composting bins and would like to see one on N. Lynn Street. I love the libraries and the 55+ program especially and in general Arlington is a fantastic place to live.
- I love the H.S. Pool and heavily rely on them.

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- I love the Parks and Rec staff and our community centers. Don't close Barcroft or end the gymnastics programs.
- I need an employment. I have SNAP card so far temporarily.
- I often feel that surveys like this are ignored. Residents may be asked to express an opinion and then county staff do what they want to anyway. Libraries should remain open and affordable classes such as gymnastics should be encouraged, not cut.
- I really appreciate what yall do and it makes me proud to live here knowing I've got a solid local gov that listens and tries to do what's best for the people, and continues to value and respect the diversity and environment of Arlington. Thank you!
- I recently attended a multi-session workshop on issues in AI programs at the Cherrydale library. I feel I have a more complete grasp of how to view and use AI. The library provides special learning opportunities in a local setting,
- I rely on the bus and metro system to get everywhere, and would like to see bus routes increase in availability, running every 10-15 minutes, available into the late evening/night (at least 10pm) even on Sundays. With the increase in food and grocery delivery and ride shares, I would like to see increased space for drop-offs/pickups to reduce double parking and increase road safety (e.g., 1-2 parking spots per block that are 5-10 minute parking/standing only). Arlington has more than enough surveillance cameras/plate readers/etc.; we should rely less on this and AI and focus more on community services and improving lives. I'd be more likely to attempt biking around the area if there were more protected bike lanes. For inclusion, increase policies protecting minority groups.
- I see that there are NO questions regarding oversight of zoning. With the enormous blowouts of houses (big houses on small lots) and the cutting down of trees or clear-cutting with developers, it's hard to agree that Arlington County cares about the environment. We wouldn't have to kill deer if we didn't keep taking their spaces with bigger house and less land. I have lived here 30+ years and I have LOVED the green, the old trees, the birds and all that makes the quality of life so rich. But there is so much change and concrete infrastructure that we're considering moving. Arlington County's care of trees is simply neglectful - why is this not on the survey? Developers' desires over residents quality of life is clearly what is more valued.
- I strongly disagree with developers putting 3-6 homes on one lot. The infrastructure cannot withstand this sort of development.
- I strongly disliked the County's failure to engage with the Lyon Park Civic Association about the removal of its Gateway Tree.
- I support governance reform with an elected mayor and single member districts. That might improve the poor communication to residents and lack of accountability of county officials around local development projects.
- I support the Rec program for gymnastics.
- I think Arlington County schools should be aware of AI used in schools and the impact of technology on students - using it to teach / learn rather than to cheat or take shortcuts, can have levels of cognitive decline.

- I think Arlington County should have good housing for low-income individuals.
- I think it is absolutely ridiculous that the human services bus stop has no accessibility features such as audio/visual real-time updates -- or even in the lobby of the building like community centers do. This is one of the highest trafficked bus stops in the county and in particular for new residents/low-income residents/ residents with disabilities with all buses going in one direction. It houses disability services....like are you kidding? Also wish the county would ramp up missing middle housing. I've working for Arlington for 10 years and I will never be able to own a home in Arlington without significant policy changes. Will likely move and have to change work in next 2 years.
- I think that Arlington County does a very good job of making information accessible on the website, pushing out newsletters to citizens and soliciting feedback via surveys, listening sessions, focus group etc. Sadly, the County comes up very short in both responding to citizens' request for information in a timely manner and in sharing how the results of surveys impact policy and decisions. Personally, I have probably responded to 25 or 30 county surveys over the last several years. Only once did I receive a follow-up communication summarizing the community feedback on the topic. Over the same period, I have reached out to Constituent Services to get information. Both times my request was acknowledged but the information I needed never materialized.
- I think you've done too much to influence large businesses and reward corporate greed. With the county efforts we need to do more to prevent issues instead of adding new mental need facility in Carlin Springs it should be another swimming pool community center. We love gymnastics. Keep gymnastics!!
- I tried to get info for handyman services and found nothing on the county website.
- I tried to get the public trash cans in my neighborhood (PentCity) changed and the frequency of them being empties increased because they are wrong for the area and often overflowing. The County brushed me off. (I have the emails.)
- I was disappointed with the way the county members were notified of the gymnastics program being shut down and Cherrydale library closing. There are many people who use these services a lot, and it was a big shock to have not been consulted more on these matters beforehand. It felt like a last minute decision that not much thought went into.
- I was generally unsatisfied with the communications from the Shared Streets Pilot Project over the last two years.
- I wish households could get more than 2 street parking passes. Also I wish it was easier to get help with difficult landlords
- I wish there was an opportunity to comment on specific sections of this survey as you may not understand my answer. for example, I am dissatisfied with Snow Removal not because it didn't happen but that my street was plowed 5 times during the last storm and my friends were never plowed. Is there a system? I am dissatisfied with the County's management of streets and traffic flow, because we seem to have no overall policy on what we are doing -- let's try this here and something else here and something different here. there is no continuity. i am dissatisfied with our equity overall. we have all this lip service but it still turns out that the rich white people get their way. my friend can't get any traffic calming and there is an intersection in Lyon Village with a traffic circle AND a four way stop. We need to tell the rich white people NO more often. This is why I wish there was more room for comment. But, then again, you probably don't want to sort through so much open ended feedback, despite it being more useful than a 1-5 scale.

- I would love if you would open up snow removal committee to take advice from people who come from states and locations where they live with massive accumulations of snow. I have a spouse who could have cleaned and maintained better than what was done. But love the effort that was employed!
- I would like Arlington County to save the Lee Center building and park and if possible return it to an arts and Vor community center
- I would like for Arlington County to ban gas-powered leaf blowers.
- I would like for athletic fields not be closed during the winter seasons ex. soccer nets removed and locked together in winter
- I would like the county to reconsider the closing of Cherrydale Library. The library has a very active clientele, is used for a diversity of reasons, by a diversity of the county population. Even though some say that it is close to Central Library, it serves a different population and has a completely different feel, which is conducive to its support of the groups that use their space. Please do not be short-sighted and close one of the county's gems.
- I would like the former Lee Community Center building to be renovated and park to be saved, and used for the arts (visual art studios) and senior citizen programs particularly for seniors in our and adjoining civic associations.
- I would like the police to enforce traffic laws such as speeding, running red lights, and giving pedestrians the right of way in crosswalks. The REEP classes to teach English are excellent! The teachers are dedicated and skilled. The classes foster multiculturalism and help integrate new immigrants into the community.
- I would like to know more about the design for the traffic circle at Military Rd and Nellie Custis Dr. Construction has been ongoing for the past few years with the traffic flow changing and it appears construction will continue for another year. Have traffic studies been done. Why does this intersection keep changing? It seems that a lot of money has been spent, but to what end? The intersection is no better than it was several years ago. I feel sorry for the owners of houses at this intersection, having to live with construction that has lasted so long! Also, more transparency is needed about the recent budget decisions to close Barcroft Rec Center. I use the boxing facilities there and that center seems to be one of the most used of all, especially by the gymnastics programs. I do not think this facility should be closed. Lastly, the missing middle project shows no thoughtfulness in the overall urban plan of Arlington. I think it would be fine to further densify around the Metro corridor, but I don't agree with allowing a mix of multi-family in the outer neighborhoods. Random densification has no place in a good urban plan.

- I would like to see better rat abatement programs. There are lots of rats in Clarendon and I have put in problem requests to no avail.
- I would love better prioritization of budgeted items for example, please ax the program to build a new bridge near Long Bridge Aquatic Center. Also, please keep Bancroft sports center. By par this is the best place I've lived in case someone who has lived in numerous countries across Europe, Africa, East Asia, and California. I really feel like we get more bank for my buck (taxes) here. I love this community so much! The county does a terrific job of promoting community belonging. I commute over 100 miles x2 each day (so over 200 miles) but choose to live here for all the great resources and amenities and community!
- I would love more composting bins and glass recycling.
- I'm a lifelong Arlington County resident and I love living in Arlington. Many of the services and programs we have access to are very valuable and contribute to the high quality of life in Arlington. I'm dissatisfied with the county programs like the gymnastics being cut and my local Barcroft Fitness Center scheduled for repurposing. Additionally, our local libraries should receive more funding instead of cutting funding, operating hours, and personnel. Furthermore, I totally disagree with shutting down the historic Cherrydale Library. Our libraries are extremely important and render many programs that promote literacy, learning, and community. I also believe there is too much emphasis on "the missing middle." Although I support the development of more low income housing, I'm against tearing down local landmarks like the Nellie Custis School to overdevelop the land. County communications with Arlington residents is imperative. We residents rely on The County Board to make all-beneficial decisions and resident opinion should play a crucial role. For example, resident input about the sharpshooting of deer was completely ignored. I'm appalled by Arlington decision to sharpshoot deer instead of developing an effective non-lethal strategy, particularly with the naturally declined deer population (from 290 deer in 2021 to 222 deer in 2025). The County Board was evasive and not responsive to one-on-one engagement with residents at Open Door Mondays regarding the killing of deer and other topics. The County Board needs to be more open-minded to resident and outside expert opinions and not just rely on the county employees and contractors who insisted sharpshooting deer is the only solution. Citizens should be educated and provided with all of the facts and all options regarding County decisions.
- I'm enraged. From murdering deer to missing middle to closing my neighborhood library you are destroying everything that makes this a liveable community. We will organize and we will fight. You do not represent us. We will vote you out.
- I'm near a cross-walk by Veitch and Lanston. In the idead of night, the cross-walk sounds are too loud.
- I'm not happy with all the construction of new buildings that take away green space, increase density and traffic and change the character of the county
- I'm very concerned about lack of work on help with residential sidewalks and curb cuts post-snow to make walkways accessible for people with disabilities, younger kids, those walking to school, etc.

- I'm also concerned with plans to shoot deer to control the population. One tiny error can lead to a catastrophe.
- I'd like to see more efforts to hire people with disabilities, and more work on sharing 911 pre-notification/safety options.
- If I had known the extent of this survey, I would not have offered to do it. Maybe you could simplify and shorten it a lot.
- If the sidewalks are ever shoveled at the bus stop I think I'd die of shock. I worked from home or drove to work because it was impossible to cross Langston Blvd safely to get to the bus stop. I used the forms to report businesses (no action ever taken). You put in a traffic light camera at Langston and Spout Run. I see the camera go off all the time. NEVER has it gone off when someone did something illegal like run the red light. ALWAYS it goes off on someone stopped at a red light. We had flooding a few months back. The light for standing water wasn't going off...directly in front of standing water. It feels like you've invested in things that are clearly not functioning as intended. Never have I written into one of the county forms and gotten an actual response back.
- If there are regulations prohibiting loud vehicles (modified to be loud) please enforce them. Also no more gas leaf blowers
- If you look at these questions, you have to wonder what the main priorities are - is it safety, economic growth, quality of life, racial equality, combating climate change issues. I wish this county would focus on things it can control - creating a climate that enables small businesses to thrive, public safety, getting people with addiction and mental illness into places where their safety (and the safety of the general public) is ensured. These are important things for ALL residents. Please stop focusing on racial equity (which is itself exclusionary) and climate change (which is out of your control). Also recognize what makes Arlington great as a place to live - proximity to DC and Tysons jobs and a variety of housing. Please embrace the variety of housing needs and stop pushing density into all neighborhoods. Please make driving around Arlington easier, which means stop removing lanes (especially turn lanes). Please stop removing parking and increasing parking fees. It hurts small businesses that rely on that traffic.
- If you need to make cuts, cut DEI, climate and other such programs before services. County has so much going for it yet last couple of years is spending too much on political ideals rather than basic citizen services. War against cars is extending commutes, missing middle only advantages developers, schools and county buildings are going without needed investment upgrades while half the questions in this survey focus on DEI!?! Library system is great, parks and recreation is good but sign ups/registration continues to be oversubscribed/ hard to navigate for some programs.
- Improve water and construction in 18th st by crystal house
- In future surveys, add a "does not matter to me" or similar option. Especially for diversity, equity, inclusion-related questions. Add more "prefer not to answer" options for demographic-related questions.

- In general Arlington favors cars. Id like to see more emphasis overall on public transit and bicycle usage. Id also like for Arlington County to not cooperate with federal law enforcement in terms of immigration enforcement. Id like to see more emphasis on small businesses and restaurants, especially grocery stores. It would be nice to see more alternatives to to giant, safeway, Harris teeter, CVS. It'd be great to have a county wide composting strategy for food waste. The bins near the metro stations are a great start! Its been great to scatter a handful of pull-up bars around, perhaps at parks, perhaps on the bike trails. Gym memberships are expensive! Perhaps you could find a way to reduce prices for the county run gyms/community centers/YMCAs. Id like to see continued emphasis on preserving and celebrating nature, including promotion of renewable energy and sustainable, eco friendly practices.
- In many cases above, I support Arlington County doing the mentioned item, but do not know what the efforts are, or wish them to go further than they currently are. I see two key steps to improving probably 90% of the items mentioned: - reducing car travel/traffic and promoting sustainable interconnectivity- providing/promoting robust neighborhood, community, and county events to bring people together to engage with each other - In questions, answers available are ambiguous. Does dissatisfied mean you want more or less, is more or less bike lanes or parks? So often these county surveys are poorly designed and allows for misinformation to be collected. Too many confounding issues with survey.
- Increase taxes on wealthy individuals to pay for all the programs that you cut year by year Increase the share of deferrals for RETR to 75%; encourage small houses, duplexes-quadplexes affordable to the equivalent of a teacher's income after 5 years in county; adopt community broadband; experiment using minibuses/vans for off-peak ART travel
- Increasingly, high pedestrian traffic in areas that are costly to park snarls traffic so that only one car can turn left in a traffic light cycle. Both congestion and extreme parking difficulty lead to my avoidance of business areas I would otherwise frequent.
- Infrastructure of several S. Arlington schools are crumbling. Urinals at Abingdon are broken. Ceiling at BDew comes down.
- Investment into supportive services for unhoused individuals
- It is getting harder to continue to live in Arlington due to very HIGH Rent increase on a yearly basis. We feel PUSHED OUT of Arlington County
- It would be nice if folks who were middle or upper middle class were able to afford single family homes here.
- It's gotten too crowded. Perhaps there is a compelling reason for such growth, but I don't understand it despite my best efforts. And now, there's a budget shortfall? What I hear from friends & neighbors is the the County Manager & Staff, while competent, have their own agendas rather than those of "friends & neighbors." Something is wrong with this relationship, and the relationship of The Board with County Staff.

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- It's more important to focus on the basics than niche things like gymnastics or arts that very few residents use, and that are used disproportionately by the wealthiest residents.
- Judging the county is like judging an honors student who is doing well - there's always room for improvement but you're starting from a strong spot. I would love more connectivity and maintenance of county trails, better upkeep and expansion of sidewalks, continued improvement of nature/wildlife/green space initiatives, and the county roads need an overhaul after the brutal cold snap this February (it's not fair to criticize road maintenance so close to the event). Library services and county community programs could be communicated better - but that is as much on me as a resident not seeking out ways to plug in as it is the communication efforts of the county.
- Keep adapted + regular gymnastics!!!
- Keep fighting for housing access, missing middle is just the start. Please ease zoning rules to allow more density when reasonable.
- Keep gymnastic program
- Keep our communities safe comply with ICE detainers
- Keep supporting public transport libraries. Improve police :)
- Keep the Arts. Spend money on the repairing upkeep of Lubber Run. Continue to support the arts in Shirlington and at 3700 S. 4 Mile Run Dr. Parks and Recreation programs should be expanded there is always a waiting list for children's programs. Stop wasting your money on economic development in Roslyn and Crystal city take that money and use it towards developing small or pop-up businesses reduce the size of economic development or have them work directly in the community. Once the economy gets better and we are working in less of a deficit than you may consider going back to bringing large businesses into the county. Right now under this administration it's a pure waste of time.
- Keep the recreational and competitive gymnastics program. My children are benefiting from the knowledge of movement as well as following instructions from a young age. The instructors are absolutely incredible and put so much heart into what they do and how much they care for the children in the program.
- Keep up the good work
- Lack of equity for affordable housing in non-apartment homes (townhomes, single family homes)
- Lack of transparency by elected officials and staff
- Leaves off the biggest issue we're confronting, which is the management of development. The county continues to allow excessive lot coverages that are ruining neighborhoods and taking down all the trees. In addition, it is putting multi-family units where they don't belong in residential neighborhoods. Continues to engage in citizen input processes that are really for show and a complete waste of time. We lived in the Quincy Park North neighborhood until somewhat recently. We attended meetings and gave a whole lot of feedback on the Buck property, on the why, on the apartments at the corner of Kirkwood and Washington. In the end, the county just basically completely caved to developers and turned the Buck property into an inappropriate use for the location. We don't trust the county. An additional problem is that there are flaws in this survey. For example, it asks about satisfaction with the number of electronic charging spots. While there are some people who probably think there are not enough, I think there are too many. You go to a public lot and it's full up, and there are very few of the EV electric vehicle spots being used. Another example of ambiguous info is re: arts and cultural spending. I think some amount of investment is terrific, but in our current economic environment, with much bigger needs, I think we overspend in this area. A great example is the pop-up currently being held at Walgreens. It was fun. I went, but is this really a priority at a time where the county has budget issues and we have a lot of people in Arlington facing economic hardship? The question doesn't capture whether people think we spend too much or too little on arts and culture.

- LED streetlights are too bright along main roads near residences--focus lighting downward on street.
- Less taxes are better; i.e. reduce sales taxes and reduce property taxes... downsize county govt expenditures
- Libraries are critical; do not support closing the Cherrydale Library. This is NOT time or place. Code enforcement of noisy vehicles needs improvement. Appreciate Arlington staff that I have dealt with who have been so helpful! Please save our tree canopy.
- Libraries should be open later during the week
- LOL. Where is the question: STOP ALL DEVELOPMENT!? Arlington is OVERDEVELOPED. LESS DEVELOPMENT. WHEN YOU LISTEN AND ACTUALLY ACT ON WHAT YOU HEAR INSTEAD OF DOING "YOUR VISION?" WE DON'T WANT "YOUR VISION!" HAS A HISTORY BEING WRONG AKA AMAZON DEVELOPMENT.
- Long-time federal employee now with daily uncertainty whether I will keep my job and be able to continue living here.
- Lot coverage for tear down of houses by developers and rebuilds is ruining the character of Arlington. Lot coverage is excessive and tree canopy is suffering. Definitely not the Arlington I moved into in 1997. Single family homes are too big and missing middle isn't solving any problem unfortunately. We have lost 1/2 the street parking on our street and most houses don't have driveways. Parking for residents competes with construction dumpster and workers cars every day.
- Lots of wasted money on badly managed road projects (ie circle at Military/Nellie Custis; constant Kirkwood Langston sidewalk, stormwater). The County staff refuse constituent meetings! Unbelievable. Stormwater is particularly egregious. A badly managed county govt overall. Emphasis on extraneous goals and failure at the basics.
- Love the libraries, ART buses, Long Bridge Park, and Vision Zero. Need better traffic and parking enforcement and snow removal.
- Love the Library. Just wished it opened 30 min earlier (@ 9:30AM)
- Lucky to live here. spread the wealth! We feel
- Make better budget trade-off decisions. Youth programs(e.g., gymnastics) should be valued over discretionary road and structure "enhancements. Youth are our future!

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- Make Four Mile Run less polluted, it smells not good sometimes and children play in it. IDK if it's runoff or the dog park or what it's nasty.
- Make more ART bus routes, very crowded
- Many Arlington families are experiencing hardships such as job loss due to Federal job cuts. As a result, Arlington needs to be very conscious of any increases in budget requests. Priorities.
- Many of the questions were posed in a way that might be interpreted as agreement rather than disagreement, regardless of the answer selected. For example, question 23e regarding attracting development/redevelopment, if answered "Very Satisfied", suggests that I am happy with current efforts to attract development, which I am not. I believe the county is pursuing development without conducting the necessary research. If I answer "Very Dissatisfied", however, it implies that rather than being unhappy with the level of effort, that I would like to see more, which I do not, unless the county has given due consideration for second-order effects. There are at least five other questions with this issue, which diminishes the credibility of the survey's findings.
- Many streets in Arlington have potholes that are damaging to vehicles. Also Columbia pike is taking too long to fix! It is a major inconvenience. also my entire neighborhood's been gentrified which is saddening
- Marc Schwartz is pushing out everyone who is NOT Jewish. Everyone he hires is Jewish. Why? Top position are only for Jews. Are they the only ones with talent?
- Maybe thinking of ways that living here could be more affordable. I know there is already a lot that is being done but rent is so expensive.
- Me gustaria que Arlington pudiera tener mas claridad en cuanto al costo de la vivienda porque nos estamos convirtiendo en un condado que tiene a la gente mas pobre en el sur de Arlington y los mas afortunados en el norte no es sostenible. El condado debe hacer planes para que gente joven se quede aqui y contribuya a nuestra economia local. (I would like that Arlington could have more clarity regarding the cost of housing because we are becoming a county that has the poorest people in the south of Arlington and the more fortunate in the north it is not sustainable. The county should make plans so that young people stay here and contribute to our local economy.)
- Monitor the traffic lights better; Glebe road seems to be overlooked during evening rush hour. Get rid of the "Car Free" Diet - everyone needs a vehicle around here, even low-income people. Get rid of the 5-0 approval on the County Board; someone has to disagree.
- More bike lanes, more library funding, less police funding.
- More free parking is necessary in this area.
- More indoor pickleball courts :)
- More needs to be done to ensure sidewalks are safe and available to everyone. The scooters left haphazardly everywhere cause a dangerous problem for people with disabilities and others. Why are there not designated parking areas for them like the bikes?! This survey mentions several times the county's efforts to assist those with mental or developmental conditions. What about all the other physical disabilities? As someone with a disability I want to have events to attend that I don't have to worry about my challenges as much. But the TR programs / club is targets at developmental disabilities. The Arlington Alerts about traffic and other one-off events generally have sufficient context. But the automated alerts received for storm watches/warnings provides no value. It simply says "a [insert watch or warning] has been issued for a location in your area".

- More parking lots Free ones in front or beside small businesses
- More public pools
- More recreational activities - skate night every saturday
- More speed bumps in residential areas. South Randolph St 22204
- More transit and bike lanes pls
- My biggest complaint with Arlington is that the taxes have far outpaced the population growth over the almost 40 years I have lived here. The County points to the per/$100 rate as low for the area and then uses that to justify vast budget increases, which seem to be for expanded scope of services that are not well understood specifically nor explained in the general public documents. The increases with little opportunity for input or good explanation has made be reconsider my decision to retire here. The second complaint is about parking signage; I'm uncertain whether I like the demand-based parking rates but it is unconscionable not to have signs posting when parking limitations or meters are enforced. Last time I was in Rosslyn I had to ask a passerby what the meter hours were because the information wasn't posted anywhere. I shouldn't have to have a smartphone and load an app when the County used to have signs and there's no reason to have taken them down. Some traffic management decisions make no sense either (like the rods that make it hard to turn into streets or remove snow).
- My biggest concern is the cost-of-living in Arlington both in terms of renting and owning a home.
- My family and neighbors are very against EHO/Missing Middle. This only benefits builders and tax revenues--at the expense of neighborhoods and community. Stop it.
- My favorite bar closed b/c they're building more apartments. I want more local businesses and less apartments!
- My preference is that Arlington focus on providing services and quality of life for the majority of the residents rather than an extreme obsession with equity and diversity.
- My two biggest complaints are the deer management program and transportation management. Arlington conducted a deer cull this year which is an unnecessary and scientifically proven poor approach to deer management. They need to revisit this program and find a more sustainable approach to deer management (published research has documented many other states success in this area that Arlington should leverage). Second, too much has been done to negatively impact traffic flow in the county and is hurting the community. The removal of lanes on roads like Wilson Blvd and others has made traffic worse. Adding no turn on red signs at too many intersections has limited efficient traffic flow. It is also a bad decision to add bike lanes on roads. Bikes travelling next to cars is dangerous to the bikers and puts them at risk for death and injury. bikes should be limited to using the robust trail network throughout the county and bike lanes should be removed from busy travel corridors where bikers should not be.

- N. Carlin Springs speed enforcement needed
- N/A (x4)
- Need better and affordable car parking spaces for those who do not have good access to public transportation or cannot use public transportation to access popular shopping areas such as Clarendon.
- Need better street light and traffic light  maintenance
- Need childcare & housing affordability & parking options for locals.
- Need more affordable housing and should consider affordable small business, too - how to support small ones to pay rent/stay here? initial permitting for internal upgrades take way too long
- Need more affordable housing ASAP!
- Need more affordable housing for homeless + DMV wide approach. Need more space. Housing Grant is great - need support for upfront cost.
- Need more diversity of thought.
- Need more enforcement for food delivery drivers (UberEats, GrabHub) so they stop leaving unattended vehicles in the road and block traffic + bike lanes
- Need more indoor pickleball hours and overall support of pickleball in the County
- Need pickleball courts. Need better site plan review process.
- Need to better inform residents of items that are not recyclable e.g plastic bags, Styrofoam, mailing bags. Need to affix stickers to this effect on blue containers
- Need to find a way to continue gymnastics program + keep Barcroft open. Housing values + costs are way too high!
- Need to fix potholes.
- Need to have County employees return to the office and provide services face-to-face to the community!
- Need to improve snow-removal for big storms. Having businesses and schools closed for a week is not acceptable. Roadways need to be fully-cleared to allow for full traffic and emergency traffic to pass. Educate people on snow-emergency routes and personal snow removal, and then enforce the laws.
- Need to protect actual Arlingtonians. Not DC transplants. Protect ethnic communities, give widows tax breaks, lower rent, prioritize those who have been here their whole lives.
- New trash service company has been horrible, notwithstanding the bad weather. Trucks are understaffed. More trash on street from Blue containers than I've ever seen. Also Need to advertise on trash cans the recommendation of when trash bins should be on street for pick up and when they should be taken off street. Snow removal was almost nonexistent this year. Very little clearing after the snowfall which caused neighborhood parking problems. Arlington needs a newspaper since the Washington Post has cut its coverage. Libraries should not be the go-to when budget cuts are needed. Property taxes are too high especially for senior citizens. More should be done to encourage seniors to look at options other than staying in their single-family homes. My neighborhood has several hoarders living by themselves in houses that are not kept up. More should be done to prevent McMansions from being built in old neighborhoods. More trees are being cut down than should be because contractors know that the county does not follow through with making sure trees are not damaged during construction. I've seen contractors move fences to dig up ground close to trees and then return the fences. I approve culling the deer although they are beautiful animals.

- Next time it snows - clear the sidewalks and crosswalks and bus stops
- Nice County.... for now
- No
- No bag tax! Especially no bag tax for senior citizen when we shop for essentials!
- No comment
- No flock cameras in Arlington!!! No AI ALPRs, Arlington can do better.
- No one seems to ever check whether there are obstructions at street corners. That's supposed to be code enforcement, I think, but obstructions to our view never seem to get removed. Also, dissatisfaction with bike lanes and scooter efforts is that they're given too much! They're unsafe, the county enforces no rules for them or their riders, and they eat up our roads and sidewalks. Before you create huge new avenues for them, maybe consider checking whether they're going to be riding safely and stop running over pedestrians or jumping into traffic.
- No parking and parking regulation traffic enforcement is so bad that it's no surprise it doesn't show up on the Code Enforcement question. Also, tell Mr. De Ferranti to stop buying vanity EV busses that come at the cost of actual bus service, and to stop chasing after vanity projects like changing the form of government. These distractions are going to mean actual Arlingtonian priorities will be shelved, that Natalie Roy will win his office in November, and that everything he purports to care about in Arlington politics will be a giant steaming pile within a decade.
- None (x3)
- Not a single question here about zoning or urban planning, which are critical as the County grows. The Board is not taking the issue seriously, and the lack of planning has the potential to undermine everything else the Board is working toward.
- Not happy with missing middle, the Common Wealth's attorney or getting rid of gymnastics.
- Nothing else
- Nothing to share at this time.
- Now that the Columbia Pike construction is completed, the County needs to do much more to support, subsidize, and encourage development on the portion of the Pike between Glebe Road and Courthouse Road. The businesses in this area have closed and housing development projects have been shelved What is the point of constructing a walkable community when there is nothing to walk to.
- Numerous performing arts groups both in and near Arlington county need rehearsal and performance space. The county needs to support efforts of nonprofits that are aiming to create and manage those spaces.

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- Offer people with disability jobs in Arlington like greeters or something at events or able to help advocate for the county for things that the disability needs. I want to join but no idea how to.
- On Geo Mason Drive between Washington Blvd and Rt 50, speed limit is confusing. Where is it 30 and where is it 25? Both directions
- On the whole, and for all the emphasis about inclusivity, Arlington is not very welcoming to families with young children. The library facilities for children (at least at Central Library and especially Columbia Pike library) are very poor relative to DC, Falls Church, and even small town public libraries we're familiar with. There is not much separation from the adult sections (none, in the case of Columbia Pike), which deserves children and adults alike. Relatedly, library staff often seem to view children more as a nuisance than a customer. There is good bike infrastructure and bike lanes, but they aren't really designed with children or novice bike riders in mind. I wish more bike infrastructure was designed with families in mind: "would parents let a 9 year old bike here by himself?" Paint on the pavement is not enough. Many playgrounds lack adequate shade and trees, precluding use for most of the day in summer. Much of Arlington is pleasant to walk and bike around with children, but many residential streets have narrow and poor-quality sidewalks. And Arlington seems stingy in authorizing traffic calming measures in residential neighborhoods. Curb extensions and chicanes should be used much more widely to discourage high-speed driving through neighborhoods and to make street crossings less intimidating.
- One of the things that matters most to me in Arlington is the availability of high-quality out-of-school time programs for students, especially those whose parents aren't otherwise able to watch them (elementary schoolers, middle schoolers). These programs can be so expensive here in Arlington, and out of reach for low-income families. The County should provide funding support for programs providing this service at no cost to families. I also strongly urge the County to continue funding the library at its current rate or above - literacy is so important, and having a third space where people can be without the expectation of having to pay money is critical. As our media sources are increasingly under attack and we see more biased and false news sources, having the library to provide resources, programming, and more is vital.
- Online reporting problems limit communication and accountability. Many problems not solved, such as park tree that may fall on fences and plants in yard--no response for 9 months; no response to detailed concerns about deer management for 2 years until final decision announced; no response to whether water was safe to drink after interruption; need people to answer phones and follow up; when request community input, do not ignore input and follow what staff planned all along--causes serious distrust in county staff and management; extremely close relationship between staff and developers and spending $1.5M on outhouse counsel instead of convening groups about missing middle housing issues produces great distrust; too many elections--include school board with other elections, and use runoff of top two winners instead of system preserving status quo; great disparity in services, quality of roads, etc. between south and north Arlington
- Oppose missing middle keep keep single family zoning

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- Our first responders are an important part of our community and of the quality of life in our community, and paying them well is worth it. Our schools are very good AND need increased partnership from the county in order to meet the needs of students, particularly mental health and well-being needs.
- Our government often acts as if community inputs are wanted and taken into account, however, the reality is that the Board basically follows country staff recommendations especially on special initiatives. The roundabout at the corner of Military Road and Nellie Custis was a total waste of taxpayer money. The contract for this work was $2.5+ million, the county spent $900,000 on it two years feasibility study and design. Untold tens of thousands were spent on county staff labor including a nearly full-time project coordinator. So, the county spent nearly $4 million on a simple roundabout, and there is not accountability with this budget, and there was no cost benefit analysis done for the outrageously expensive over-the-top costs (and it's not done yet after 6 months!!!!). Shameful.
- Our trash became very unreliable after the change in contractor
- Overspending on pickleball is abuse of tax dollars.
- Overall Arlington is a great place to live. However, we need more housing, particularly for middle income people. We waste money on underused services like the buses. It'd be cheaper to give the few people who use the buses vouchers for taxis or rideshare, like you do for older folks getting to community centers and appointments.
- Overall I'm very pleased with the quality of service provided by the County and staff, but key services/department (AED and Code Enforcement) are understaffed and/or not resources adequately, and therefore, I rated them lower. Quality of life and public safety on Arlington's streets and urban corridors has been negatively impacted by ACPD's lack of traffic and parking enforcement. DOT alone can't solve for the County's curbspace management challenges if ACPD continues to allow vehicles and drivers to illegally park and block travel lanes. This causes negative transportation and safety issues for folks walking, biking and traveling in Arlington, particularly in the County's urban corridors. I'm so pleased with the progress DOT has made since adopting Vision Zero and shifting to a more proactive transportation strategy – I think this is mainly due to having strong leadership and dedicated staff within DOT. That being said, we should continue to invest in programs and infrastructure that give folks the freedom to make more trips by foot, bike, and transit. That's a foundational element to supporting our community's health, economic and social resilience and overall quality of life. Thanks for doing this survey – It's important to guide the County's priorities and have a deeper understanding of our community's broad opinions.
- Overall I'm very satisfied with the County and all of the services it provides. That said, I'm very dissatisfied with the stormwater taxing process. It unfairly taxes those of us who made property improvements prior to the process of applying for credits. Over the years I have made many improvements to my property to the point where there is very little stormwater runoff. However, my tax rate does not take this into account because the improvements were done years ago. There are little to no more improvements I can make to my property to make it any more efficient, so I can't apply for any reductions. And yet I'm paying the same rate as others with the same amount of hard surfaces but that also have large amounts of runoff. That is why I gave bad marks to the stormwater related questions. At the moment, I'm also dissatisfied with yard waste removal because my green bin was erroneously taken by the collectors, and now I've been waiting for over a month to get it back because of a backlog in green bins. I'm suffering because of an error made by a county employee. The last point of dissatisfaction has to do with all of the disruptions in the Crystal City/Aurora Highlands area. Not that I don't support the development and improvements, rather, projects run longer than they should (I was told that the Dominion substation improvements at S. Hayes & S. Fern were supposed to be finished last September, and yet they're still ongoing), and having so many projects running concurrently within blocks of each other makes life in the neighborhood difficult. What is the County doing to make sure Dominion completes the work within the schedule they promised? Likewise, having the roads along S. Hayes (between S. Eads & S. Fern) and S. Fern (between S. 18th & S. 20th) torn up at the same time and then being incredibly poorly patched in between phases has made driving in my neighborhood a nightmare. The County needs to do a better job overseeing these projects and keeping the contractors on schedule and with minimal impact to residents.

- Overall think the county is doing great. Potential cutting of funds for the woodshop at the Taj community center would be a major mistake, depriving a significant number of people of access to equipment difficult to own personally in Arlington typical domicile.
- Overall, Arlington County is outstanding. Effective political leadership and staff. Snow/ice removal on sidewalks in urban core areas need to improve.
- Overall, the County does an amazing job of stewarding public funds for the benefit of its residents. When I rated something lower, it was because I think the County needs to do more in those areas (and not that the County is doing a bad job). There should be more support for public health, for example. I am also concerned about the vast disparity in opportunities available to Arlington's wealthiest residents and those who are really struggling. I would like to see the County engage more with populations that haven't been engaged in the past. Is there good information about what residents below 30% AMI really need? Too often, there are programs that do very specific things that, while they are great programs with good intentions, people don't need as much as other things. And I think the County could do a better job of communicating about all the good things it does do and what help it needs from residents to support private efforts to shore up community resources.
- Overdevelopment is undesirable.
- Pace of addressing problems- e.g., traffic issues such as red light running and lack of license plates- is painfully slow, even generational!
- Papers for my family
- Parking should be very expensive. Every street should have a protected bike lane. When I tell Constituent Services that they need to tell Traffic Engineering & Operations that they have to redesign an intersection because it's bad for pedestrians, the answer should not be "we defer to the experts in TE&O", and TE&O's response should not be "well we did the best we could with the money we had"---those responses are not good enough when the County advertises a Car Free Budget and claims to prioritize safety as the top priority in the Master Transportation Plan.

- Parks + Rec support for people w/ disabilities is outstanding + very important to me. Also great libraries.
- Parks and recreation programs are a huge benefit. I appreciate all the environmental efforts. Library programs and services as well. County handled "snowcrete" very well.
- People run stop signs / lights all the time & I've seen so many people not stop for school buses.
- Pike construction and the response to the January 2026 snowstorm seriously undermined the credibility of the county. Parks and Recs is the crown jewel of Arlington, we love the parks here. I am baffled by the calls for Arlington to change its governance structure: zero of Arlington's problems are caused by us having a board instead of a mayor or whatever.
- Plastic orange / white barriers on 4 mile run - temporary??? Pedestrian walkway on street doesn't work - people + bikes use the track right next to it.
- Please add a Helpsy bin for clothing recycling as Fairfax County has done.
- Please address the loss of our tree canopy due to invasive English ivy vines. Increase education for homeowners to remove the ivy themselves or create a support that will encourage or require removal of Ivy in private and public areas. Also, as a preschool director I have called non emergency police multiple times in the last year to request help or talk to someone about vandalism in our public spaces and I've never received a reply.
- Please ask separately about the police department (enforcement/investigation) and the Commonwealth's Attorney (prosecution).
- Please be fiscally responsible and balance the budget, even if it means hard decisions. The increased tax burden placed on homeowners makes staying in the county difficult to justify.
- Please consider building height restrictions before construction. Not only does it block sunlight but it can be a hazard as they can be close to a flight path.
- Please consider putting bike lanes outside of parking spaces (between parked cars and curb). Seriously consider making buses free to ride.
- Please continue to fully fund Arlington's library system as well as our Nature Centers. To me and many of my friends they are the shining jewels of our community. Also, please do more to repair the water mains near Clarendon. I am tired of having multiple no water days per year in my neighborhood due to leaks and/damage to the pipes.
- Please continue to have Arl . Dept personnel answer the phone.
- Please continue to support + protect our trans kids and immigrant communities. and schools incl sports/ rec/ career center. I grew up here + value tax dollars spent on quality of life.
- Please continue to support the arts, theater, libraries, activities for children (including gymnastics). These are all vital to making Arlington a community and not just a place where people live. Please focus on supporting and retaining existing businesses, not just bringing new business. There are few incentives for existing businesses to stay in Arlington.

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- Please do a better job coordination with AWLA to enforce illegal off leash dog use in non-designated dog park areas
- Please do not close any libraries, including Cherrydale! The library system should get a bigger budget, not smaller! -The parking prices in Arlington are atrocious. The dynamic pricing at metered parking is an affront, and the changes being made to parking garages are dystopian. The garage across from Whole Foods in Clarendon now records your license plate by camera and REQUIRES your phone number to park. This is an invasion of privacy, and no business licensed to operate in Arlington should be allowed to do this.
- Please do not close Barcroft Gymnastics. This is a great community resource for non competitive classes and summer camps that people rely on. It is extremely popular
- Please do not eliminate the gymnastics program. That would be an embarrassment for our region. How can we boast being the 2025 national gold medal winner for parks & rec management -- and close a primary rec center and eliminate a gymnastics program that serves the entire community, including boys. My family are very active and enthusiastic members of Arlington County. We purchased our first home specifically with walking distance to Arlington County "perks" in mind - Courthouse Library, farmers market, several bus and metro lines, and we go to the library with our toddler several times a week and have enrolled in the ENJOY classes for years. Priority for Arlington County should be providing a positive and attractive quality of life for all residents - from safety and accessibility to public programs and facilities. These are the reasons people choose to live here. Make sure you do everything in your power, including raising costs or offering more classes, to maintain the quality of life and pride many of us take in living in Arlington County.
- Please do not spend my tax dollars engaging in the first-world problem of gas leaf blowers. They are fine—it's the sound of summer in a well-maintained urban community. People complaining about this might need to consider why they moved to a city.
- Please don't bring big data centers here, and if they do come here enforce strict noise regulations.
- Please don't close cherrydale library. for many of us, it is the closest library by literally miles. it has been a godsend for my family.
- Please don't raise our taxes.
- Please don't spend money on flashy building projects. We need to focus on the basics — safety, good roads, excellent education, quality library services, quality parks and recreation.
- Please enforce clearing sidewalks of snow more stringently!
- Please enforce not to smoke marijuana in public parks especially when kids are around.
- Please enforce safe speed limits up and down North Courthouse between Rt 50 and Wilson Blvd - please also insure County vehicles - especially police - drive the safe correct speed as well...
- Please enforce the laws, including the prosecution of criminals. Please work with the federal government to deport illegal aliens who commit crimes.
- Please enforce the speed limit with fines, create medical & legal resources for transgender Arlingtonians due to the current administration (hate/discrimination) & improve stormwater management/infrastructure

- Please find a way to alert all rideshare drivers that they cannot stop in the middle of a traffic lane to pick up or drop off passengers. They need to pull over into an available parking spot, which is there specifically for parking. Most Arlington roads are 1 or 2 lanes in any direction, designed so because that's the max needed traffic flow. Rideshares are clogging every major road by not pulling over when they have plenty of open parking spaces do to so.
- Please find ways to support students, especially students w/ disabilities. We also need more options for renters and first time buyers due to rising costs of living.
- Please focus on taxing all the empty office spaces and stop letting office spaces be built. More affordable housing and food options. Protect programs for schools and children's sports programs. Protect Barcroft community center and gymnastics. Solve the over crowded school problems. Replace Swanson Middle school - care more about the kids than the history of an old building. Clean out the police department - stop letting them kill inmates. Less police around schools, no support for ice and DHS. More nurses and counselors in schools and homeless centers.
- Please get rid of Bates for residential trash collection. Horrible service that our tax dollars should not fund. Need the old company back.
- Please keep Arlington gymnastics program, need more indoor pickleball court
- Please keep Barcroft gym open and save the gymnastics program! Don't close and then "think about" how to use the facility.
- Please keep Cherrydale library open . I have used this library for years and it is a true jewel of a library. It is the only library north of Langston blvd and is used by hundreds of families. It is one of the best libraries in the Arlington county system.
- Please keep Cherrydale library open- it is pivotal to the community- it is always busy when I visit a few times a month it used heavily by young children, teens and after school homework time. The librarians are super helpful to families. EXTEND the hours!
- Please keep libraries funding to provide essential resources
- Please keep the gymnastics program at Barcroft. Do not close Barcroft!
- Please keep the LAC center and park. It's a vital resource for our arts community and neighborhood.
- Please make a smart decision on re-purposing the Lee Community Center and don't turn it into high rise multi-family dwellings.
- Please open parking on 1122-1132 N Stuart St.
- Please pay attention to South Arlington, and don't turn it into a mini-Clarendon. The Columbia Pike construction caused many businesses on the Pike to close. How is the county addressing that?
- Please do not put any more traffic lights on Columbia Pike.
- Please prevent parking and idling in bike lanes. I do not feel safe biking with my children.
- Please provide better resident support at the Housing Division.

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- Please remove and disallow the open grills in our parks - they are very polluting and are often too close to our neighborhoods where they create smog, have more emphasis on preserving and respecting the environment starting with the county schools, find alternatives to the awful processed food in our schools where good healthy nutrition should start with our kids, enforce street bikes following street rules for everyone's safety - if you are on the road follow road rules, preserve smaller homes for future generations and the elderly, provide more support for accessory dwellings for our elderly and stop allowing huge developments like The Grove that provided no affordable housing among $2 million plus oversized homes
- Please retain all gymnastics programs - competitive, recreational, adaptive, adult, and summer camps.
- Please seek legislative authority to charge a tax on cars. This can reduce the property tax burden and encourage residents to use other modes of transportation.
- Please spend the money to keep facilities open once we build them, and stop building and upgrading if we don't have the budget for adequate maintenance. No need for expensive park upgrades. Preserve trees. Keep libraries open and maintain their hours - they are an essential resource for the community.
- Please step up code enforcement for snow clearing, especially around county properties and businesses. I would also like to see more inclusiveness through the construction of multi-family housing throughout the county.
- Please stop building more...we don't need to have the entire county look like Roslyn or Ballston. Single family neighborhoods need to exist without building more dwellings. It's unfortunate but not everyone can live here. Overcrowding is already happening.
- Please stop spending money on the Board's pet projects and focus on the core functions of government without continuing to increase our taxes. Families and households can only handle so much - not all of us live in million dollar homes with a huge disposable income. Some of us are in our first condo trying to pay mortgage and our HOA with rising taxes.
- Please support arts, culture, libraries, parks and recreation. They make Arlington special!
- Please support public transportation as the county grows.
- Please support the library and the public schools more. This is our future they create.
- Please support the library system. It is by far the best thing about living in Arlington. The new food waste collection bins are great too, please keep them. Please continue with environmental and climate initiatives. Consider swapping out Bradford pear trees (which reek) with other native trees that don't smell bad. Noise pollution is also terrible next to the NAVY building on 9th and N. Randolph, they have a massive generator that kicks on pretty often that is SO loud in vibrates the surrounding buildings. It also puts out PLUMES of black acrid smoke.
- Pls consider a more rigorous evaluation system for key initiatives such as affordable housing. It should beyond "how many units did we create." Same with quality child care--keep tracking achievement in a more thorough and visible way that average citizens can understand. We need a community center along Langston Blvd. that equals the quality of Lubber Run--which - development can find land and work with the county to make this major achievement possible???

- Police dept / lazy detectives must be fired- politics play hard to give up high paying jobs to unqualified 'friends'- county public attorney does not practice law but practices favoritism just like other sections of Arlington county - you all think we don't see But we do !
- Poster speed limit on Geo Mason inconsistent
- Preserve and use the Lee Arts Center
- Preserve the gymnastics program please!
- Preserving the tree canopy is really important to my family - the loss of mature trees in Arlington is visible and troubling. Historic tree preservation requirements are not easily accessible on the county website and require too much time to navigate.
- Prioritize planting and maintaining a robust urban tree canopy. There are too many dead or dying street trees that could be providing benefits to our community such as shade, thermal comfort, enhanced air quality, heightened property values, lower stress levels, etc.
- Programs that are a fee-for-service like recreation should support themselves with fee structure
- Property tax is becoming too intolerable. need corporate growth again
- Protect the libraries. Fund more programs. Get rid of the 20-35 year old transplant crowd. Make real Arlingtonians feel seen. Stop Gentrification.
- Public schools closed too long during last heavy snow storm - more than 3 consecutive days. Grateful if snow could be sorted and much faster going forward
- Quality is often a by product of how much is spent (taxes collected) i like this county but I feel the pinch on taxes (property)
- Question number 23 above doesn't make sense--it's not clear what is being asked (missing a clause before the options, probably).
- Questions 9, 10 & 15 assumes residents agree with the Counties efforts to address those areas and does not give them the option to disagree with them (and save tax $$$ as a result).
- Questions about preservation of natural areas should not be lumped in with energy efficiency
- Stormwater should put more emphasis on green infrastructure, rather than gray infrastructure
- Street lighting is much too bright with the very blue LEDs
- Racism in Arlington County - Ignored by County Board Member Mark Schwarty and others elected Democrats must be removed
- Raising property tax rates is not the solution to the its budget deficit. Hope Arlington county try to reduce unnecessary expenses For example i don't support any illegal immigrants which might caused more school demand.I don't like to see Spanish on any arlington news letters or documents. I consider it as discrimination as I am not an English native speaker but also don't know Spanish.
- Re question 24: would love to see a crackdown on noisy vehicles.Nothing else to add; very pleased with county government in general.
- Reclaimed streets are really great. i would love to have some here
- Reduce property taxes so senior residents can age in place, especially since that is one of your stated goals.

- Reduce taxes, get control of our school spending, less spending on unneeded things and stop getting involved in Federal policy also stop the at large election of board members.
- Referencing diversity and equity above -- county should avoid these issues. It's inevitably left-wing pablum. The questions in the survey are also set up so it's not clear how to comment if you do not want the county to engage in what is often racism and simplistic political thought. Ensuring there is wheelchair access -- great! Worrying about how many of X ethnicity are living in the county -- waste of time and not the government's business. Focus on securing the best companies, building beautiful architecture (why are so many new buildings ugly modern design?), allowing single stairwell apartments, creating pedestrian only zones, and consider actual design guidelines that emphasize beauty. The Orange line corridor is better than it was in 1994, but is a real loss when it comes to any sort of cohesive design or just attractive design. The Waycroft in Ballston is one of the few attractive new builds, why not encourage more like that? The County needs to dump the county manager/board model for a mayor. And no ranked choice voting.
- Regarding street lighting, please educate yourselves on lighting "temperatures" and reduce the amount of bright, blue light you are sending into residences at night. Regarding tree maintenance, please commit to replanting the trees that you have taken out in the past year.
- Rent is too high everywhere
- Rent too high - customer service too low, smoke in buildings people education when walk in streets - food prices - more swim classes
- Renting is crazy plz work on this. "We Love Arlington"
- Request better trail option along/ parallel Arlington Blvd from Glebe to W+OD trail harrowing for kids or bikes. Professionally run CERT +M
- Satisfaction with a program is a tough metric. I think the county puts too much money into roads for cars. So, am I unsatisfied? Or would that metric imply the county should spend MORE? I'm very liberal, but I am unhappy with how the county spends so much money nibbling at the edges with expensive liberal policies and programs that get gold stars, but are not transformative. I think the county should stay in their lane more. Provide the mechanisms to allow people to put their money into those programs, and spend county money on schools and police, etc. And stop being afraid to raise taxes on homeowners. Make it progressive like the VA car tax (first $500k isn't taxed, the rest is taxed at $2/$100, or whatever). People here will keep buying BMWs and 5 bedroom homes.
- Save all of the libraries and sports programs for kids. Less of social programs that benefit the few.
- Save Arlington Gymnastics!!!
- Save Gymnastics!!
- Save the Barcroft + gymnastics!!! Get rid of illegals, stop letting them live next to free. Use taxes for Americans!!! Lower auto taxes
- Save the cherrydale library!!!!

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- Scooters are all over the place, It's kind of annoying
- Services are not growing enough to match population density.
- Services that are highly rated should receive a percentage of financial support for their hard work.
- Sidewalks were impassable due to snow for stroller and wheelchair users. Most important are road intersections and bus stops
- Since the switch to a new trash/recycling provider, there has been a big uptick in trash left in the street. Bins are not put back to the curb, but are left in the street or blocking driveways. The trucks drive too fast through neighborhoods with children and seem to always be honking or driving aggressively. We also were disappointed that it took over two days to plow our street during the ice storm, and that the county did not take snow removal seriously at our schools. There is zero reason the snow/ice was not removed enough for the kids to go back after a couple days. They were home for 6 days. There should be surplus budget to contract out help for the schools to remove snow.
- Snow from plowed streets made bus stops unusable. Also, for over a year there's been scaffolding and sidewalk blocked on Fairfax at a place where it's dangerous to cross and recross, with no apparent construction or repair to be seen. Why not change county policy to require that street parking become pedestrian in this kind of event? Also, use mobile bollards for temporary street blocking, not police cars with the engine spewing exhaust at us. Alexandria uses removable bollards, so why not ask them how to do it?
- Snow removal can be better. More lighting on trails.
- Snow removal efforts for the January storm were horrible and delayed by way too many days. When they finally came, it made matters worse on the street with the way they blocked in everything that had already been shoveled.
- Snow removal left a lot to be desired. More missing middle housing
- Snow removal should form a com. at people familiar
- Snow removal was a problem. The library is awesome! The permit process is opaque. Too many different county-related accounts. Can't you combine them or have SSO? New construction housing is too big for lots. New tree access is great but how about supporting households paying A FORTUNE to maintain existing trees?
- Snow removal was terrible this season. Also no one is fixing the potholes now, very dangerous.
- So many manholes are like potholes on major Arlington roads. Need a serious replacement program to fix sunken manholes around the County. Glebe Road has many manholes that need replacing.
- So much better than DC governance but please focus on libraries and recreation and don't cut what makes Arlington so great
- Some of the answers above expressing dissatisfaction are based on the County expending too many resources on particular areas, not too few.
- Some of the answers may be misleading. I am dissatisfied with ebikes and scooters because they are EVERYWHERE and block the sidewalks. I am concerned about pedestrian safety because of the scooters. I oppose Vision Zero, which is a giant waste of money and the construction is disruptive.

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- Some of the dissatisfied picked means Arlco does TOO much for that question. This poll does not display accurate results from simply asking Very Satisfied to Very Dissatisfied. Most of my dissatisfaction is centered around the county providing TOO MUCH support for specific projects and services.
- Some of this stuff I don't deem important, which is why I am quite neutral
- Sometimes an answer may mean that the county is doing too much. The county seems overly motivated to get awards for most parks, most environmentally friendly, most diverse, most bicycle friendly, etc. so busy trying to get awards that it is smothering residents with unnecessary and expensive programs. Too much spent on painting bike lanes, taking away street parking, stop signs, and cameras taking pictures of cars. The speed cameras around schools with the 20 mph limits are not well marked. By time you see them (unexpected) it's too late. Warnings and spacing of start and ending places would help. Twice I have been mailed a ticket for doing 31 in a 30 mph street except apparently the 20 mph sign was lit and not seen. Very poorly done. And way too expensive tickets. All the bike lanes and physical barriers are chaotic and unattractive and confusing and wasted a lot of money unnecessarily. And signage is often poor in busy commercial areas like Ballston. Arlington is overbuilding, too high density, and trying to add more tax base so the county can spend even more.
- South Arlington is ignored by the county. South Glebe road is unpleasant to drive on, the newly completed columbia pike is unusually bumpy for a new street. Grocery store like Harris Teeter moved out, and there seem to be no potential replacements. Can we please get more attention to South Arlington?
- Stop approving more density without real impact to community. Stop the increase of taxes and figure how to spend better, especially when it ends in a surplus.
- Stop densifying single family neighborhoods! No one but developers wants this!
- Stop pushing equity - it is just racism
- Stop raising property taxes and make City more affordable
- Stop raising residential taxes. Making us pay and taking on the burden of the budget gap is bad practice. It's not our fault that commercial and business have moved out or are no longer here. Soon we will be forced to move out of Arlington because we can't afford it. We have lived in Arlington for over 50 years. Other family members have already moved out of Arlington because it's too expensive. (Esp for Seniors!) Get rid of the stormwater utility fee. This is unfair and discriminates against those homeowners that go beyond to prevent flooding. (That list you have for credits very narrow minded and stupid). Some people go beyond that list and should be able to get credits. This whole program needs to be revamped and provide better rewards for those who help the environment.
- Stop releasing repeat offenders from jail or not prosecuting them.
- Stop the continuous speeding along North Courthouse Road from Rt 50 to Wilson Blvd... Often

- the police are speeding as well just returning to station..
- Stormdrain repair that started in Oct on my street seems completed but street and area are a mess! Love the over 55 program!
- Stormwater requirements are too onerous and unsightly.
- Streetlight upgrades seem to be too bright based on plans- color temp too cool & too bright for mixed use areas. Condo buildings need help adding EV charging capabilities. Guidance for management companies on how to upgrade for residential/condo EV charging use would be helpful with green/EV initiatives
- Streets and bike trails need better maintenance.
- Streets poorly maintained, roundabout is ridiculous, taxes are high, services are often mediocre, employees are often not available or respond like robots, questions are poorly designed to elicit views.
- Streets repaired too often. Missing middle won't work. Library misuse budget. Ebikes dangerous. Dei not necessary. School budget too high.
- Strongly support remodel of Lee Center bldg to return Arts Programming, Senior and Preschool programming and Community functions to the building, including a Makerspace in the proposed 5 story addition. A large indoor area should be included (like the old gym space) for exercise, dance, etc programming and for class and exhibition space. The outdoor green space is essential to the community. Develop and enforce a workable maintenance agreement with Rivendell School for their shared use of the outdoor spaces.
- Survey way too long!
- Take better care of the trees that you have - this includes existing and newly planted. Don't let people (including the fair) park under them. The free trees you offer? Offer only large canopy trees. The canopy is dying and it's so depressing.
- Taking a very short-term perspective on property development is a bad idea. Developments can last generations so hold out for adherence to plans that promote good urban design principles.
- Taxes are ridiculously high (total tax paid by homeowners) for such mismanagement of tax dollars; limousine liberal leaders who want vibrancy for vibrancy's sake at the expense of community safety and quality of life; poor enforcement of laws by county leaders and Commonwealth's Attorney (not police); awful communication with community; nonsensical, unfair home-improvement restrictions and expensive, inefficient permitting process. Aside from the public schools, Alexandria crushes Arlington in every category (restaurants, businesses, parks, destinations, community programs); Arlington can't seem to get out of its own way.
- Taxes, taxes, taxes.....the economic divide is getting bigger and bigger, I've lived here for over 35 years now and the taxes and affordability will be what eventually forces me to leave
- Teens on fast e bikes (really motorbikes) on the sidewalks are very dangerous and need to be fined or patrolled. This has quickly gotten out of control. Huge new safety hazard in north Arlington.
- Thank you so much for all the parks + rec programs. They are so important to us!!!

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- Thanks for making Arlington a great place to live! You should do a work program for fired fed workers.
- The Arlington County website could use improvement. The system for paying bills etc is not user-friendly.
- The Arlington Environmental services posts on social media are awesome.
- The arlington grant process is very slow and difficult to qualify.
- The balance between traffic calming and inability to actually move through an area is not good; to wit, Quincy.
- The Ballston–Clarendon corridor is a nightmare and needs stronger parking enforcement. Too many cars are illegally parking to pick up Uber Eats and other deliveries.
- The Belcroft community center is loved by a lot of people!
- The best parts about living in Arlington are the robust human services and the wide variety of well-maintained green spaces. One of the most difficult parts about living here is the continually skyrocketing prices of rent. I love Arlington and I think the County manager and the staff do a wonderful job.
- The biggest flaw in the County government is that it is run entirely by the Democrat Party. Even if you are a Democrat, you have to recognize the objective flaws and utter absurdity of one-party-rule. This cannot be corrected in and of itself, because why would the party relinquish control? Which brings up the second biggest flaw in our government: at-large representation. We desperately need board members who represent neighborhoods.
- The board members at times appear more concerned with self advancement then with hearing and responding to citizens' issues. Making members responsible for specific neighborhoods would help. Also, when I've had the need to deal with the board, the layers of administrative interference seems rather wasteful
- The building codes (and this department) need major simplification. While the intent is good, the complexity has grown to the point of being overwhelming and this disincentivizes homeowners, condo associations, and businesses from conducting projects or from doing them according to code. The codes need to be unambiguous enough that it doesn't matter which inspector shows up to do the final inspections.
- The building permit/inspection process is out of control and needs to be simplified. We shouldn't need to hire permit expeditors for every minor project, and the permit process should not take a year. While it may have started with good intentions, the process is now anti-development and discourages business investment and home improvement. The permit process should regulate the key components, not every single detail. Please prioritize real fixes to this process, not just ones that result in even further complexity.
- The communication during the most recent storm in January 2026 was atrocious. The response to the storm and mitigating the impact was beyond atrocious. The county's implementation of the construction along Columbia Pike has been horrific with impact on local businesses, complete and utter disregard for pedestrian walkways and bike walkways. That the county let the Columbia Pike Streetcar be beat down versus finding another way was irresponsible. There will not be another opportunity to substantiate public infrastructure in south Arlington in our lifetime.

- The communication is disjointed, need paper that other events besides County business can be presented.
- The Community Centers (Gunston especially, Walter Reed need to upgrade the table tennis and table tents.
- The constant construction/maintenance of Columbia pretty much every year - almost all year is a problem.
- The cost of living is very high, we need more affordable rent-controlled housing. Bike lanes need a physical barrier, such as a curb for optimal safety
- The cost to redo traffic flow at the intersection of Military and Nelly Custis is a disaster and has made driving through this intersection so much worse. There seems to be so much waste of time and money repaving then tearing up streets then repaving again. There are so many large new homes that fill up the entire lot on which they are built which seems to violate many ordinances yet the county is willing to let contractors do as they please when building these McMansions even though they chop down beautiful old trees and cater to the wealthy.
- The County Board has too many 5-0 votes. The County Board seems to be afraid to adopt district elections to the board instead of the current county-wide elections. The County Board needs to represent all county residents, not just the most liberal segments of our county. The County Board members are captives of the county staff who are using Arlington for their experiments in the latest urban planning theories.
- The County Board is too focused on affordable housing. It is important, but not the most important thing to spend money on in the County. We also support a lot of affordable housing already. Cutting services - for example, the Cherrydale library and the gymnastics program - and allowing historic buildings to be torn down - for example, MANY churches and the Nelly Custis school - to just add more affordable housing will lead people that don't need the affordable housing to move out of the County. One of the great things about the County is that we welcome all income levels, but lately it seems like the County is only focused on helping those with the lowest incomes.
- The County Board members' office for handling constituent inquiries is consistently and horrendously slow--one of the worst constituent service operations I've ever encountered anywhere (Chicago, Milwaukee, Santa Barbara locally and US House and Senate nationally).
- The County Board purports to listen to residents but that is entirely for show. I have NEVER had an interaction with a Board member (ex open door Mondays, speaking at the County Board meetings...) where I, my family members or neighbors felt our comments matter. It is pure show and shameful on the part of our County Board. This is echoed throughout blogs, neighborhood facebook groups, list serves.
- The County Board should be expanded to represent more of the County's residents. The County should improve traffic safety (esp for pedestrians) make it easier to do business, add housint, support local ecosystem and increase natural

- The county caters to the bike lobby and is spending obscene amounts of money on bike lanes making it difficult to make turns without hitting a median or curb. There are more pedestrians than bicycle riders. Cyclists need to follow the rules of the road and they don't. They run stop signs and red lights all the time
- The County does NOTHING to make residents aware that they need to keep sidewalks clear for walking. We get reminders about everything else but not that. The system for reporting issues needs a category for reporting sidewalk issues, especially overgrowth of shrubs, low-hanging branches, etc.
- Ensure that every communication with a date includes the DAY OF THE WEEK. The person creating the communication can look it up so the rest of us don't have to. I am appalled at the potential closing of The Barcroft Sports and Fitness Center and the Cherrydale Library. There must be other ways of handling the budget shortfall.
- The county has a vacancy problem that is compounded by the lack of penalties for large commercial landlords who leave spaces vacant. There is a giant space on the corner of Fairfax and Randolph that has been empty for 5 years. If rent were lowered, I'm sure that a restaurant or business would open there given its prime location near the Metro. This is just one of many examples throughout the Ballston corridor where landlords get tax write-offs and the community just grows emptier by the day. In addition, the sidewalk across the street from the Ballston Metro is a safety hazard. I reported it to the county and nothing happened because they said that they share it with the DC Metro. This does not absolve you of responsibility, this is still Arlington county. Finally, with rental prices rising and the price of homes rising, Arlington needs to step in and tax people's second homes at a higher rate. So many older people are renting out extra homes while they live somewhere else, preventing younger people from buying a place for themselves in Arlington.
- The County has apparently abandoned its long time practice of adhering to development plans that promote good civic design and human friendly streets - it seems due to short-term market circumstances that are likely to change in decades timeframes. This degrades livability over time, cannot be quickly corrected and reduces community resilience to changes.
- The County in recent years seems to have lost its way. Time to return to providing basic municipal services efficiently, rebuild the commercial tax base, and lower the tax burden for current residents.
- The county is not enforcing noise ordinances for neighborhood contractors -- who start before 7am; who start too early on Sat and who do work on Sun; also trash collection is starting at 6am -- waking my kids. Bike lanes -- you need to reduce the amount of bike lanes -- which are creating unnecessary traffic congestion- compared to any offset by the few that actual use there lanes -- most bike riders still just use the car lanes. Train your snowplow crew how to plow snow. Consider requiring your trash removal contractor to do snow plowing with trash trucks like other cities do. the list goes on -- stop worrying on about your rankings on national surveys about - biking and parks --and do the core services better.

- The county is too expensive and is pricing out the children who grow up here. Housing is unaffordable because our zoning (and other regional govts) makes it illegal to build. Build more housing, raise revenue from that, and learn some lessons from the AIM scandal: not all programs are worthy.
- The county keeps upping our property taxes for what? There is no increase in services, and the things that really impact life for residents (parks, libraries, schools) are being cut. Money is spent on projects that do nothing to help the quality of life of the residents, and residents will be increasingly pushed out by the rising taxes. Also, nothing is being done to help with the housing situation. Young people who grew up in the county can no longer afford to buy property since every small house is immediately snapped up by a developer who builds a huge structure that costs several million dollars. All the new apartment/condos come with huge fees attached which make them unaffordable for many young people. Putting up tens of thousands of plastic poles to delineate bike lanes does not make the county more livable. And if the county is worried about "affordable housing," why did they not work with developers to build townhouses on the large plot of land at the corner of Wilson and McKinley instead of 20+ 2 million dollar houses? Perhaps the board should focus on containing costs and working on programs that actually increase quality of life.
- THE COUNTY MUST STOP GRANTING DEVELOPERS ADDITIONAL DENSITY WITHOUT VALID TRAFFIC STUDIES AND NEIGHBORHOOD CONCURRENCE. EX, s. KENT ST. AND A BEVY OF TOWN HOMES
- The county needs more housing and child care options. Fewer giant houses for one or two people.
- The county needs to complete a full, deep audit of its budget and cut wasteful programs that do not benefit the county as a whole or that only exist to make the county look like it's innovative and keeping up with what's new, like Vision Zero. Stop increasing the budget every year, assuming residents will simply keep paying increased real estate taxes. If residents have to tighten their budgets and make budget cuts, so should the county. If the county is truly serious about affordable housing, then the county needs to build, own, and maintain more affordable units. Letting apartment and condo developers have a handful of affordable units for a few years is not the answer. Missing Middle is definitely not the answer. Why does the county want to destroy single-family neighborhoods so developers can build more houses that are still unaffordable to most people? Even if the goal is to simply get more houses, where is the proof that we need more houses? Why do we need to keep building? When will the county be full? What is the maximum number of people and houses county services and infrastructure can support? At what point will community services and infrastructure reach a breaking point - especially water, sewer, storm drains, schools, parking? Stop letting developers run the show. The county used to listen to residents and neighborhoods, but now every project gets a green light. We have zoning, GLUP, sector plans, etc. for a reason - the development of the county was carefully planned out to limit the negative impacts on services and infrastructure. The county doesn't care about these guiding documents now, and I fear us residents will literally have to pay the price later to fix the problems created and suffer through issues with backups, line breaks, etc. Fire the current trash/recycling/organics collection company. They are a disaster. Many schools need to be renovated or rebuilt. They are old and in sad shape. Provide better training for and monitoring of police interactions with residents. There is no need to be disrespectful or hostile towards residents, especially those who are simply witnesses or reporting and issue. Residents are not the enemy; police officers are not in a combat zone.

- The county needs to look for ways to trim expenses before increasing real estate taxes Follow the County Manager recommendations more than the politicians
- The county needs to make new regulation to deal with the gig economy. Uber, lyfs, food delivery vehicles are crowding the drive lanes . They need on site locations in for multistory structures. Amazon, FedEx etc. need to make deliveries on/in the property, not the street. ASAP
- The County needs to renovate the Lee Community Center as it could again provide important community services. Parks and Rec should be returned to the building along with arts programs moved to the far end of the county. The park should also be preserved.
- The county needs to slow the increase in density and pay more attention to the neighborhoods that make up Arlington. The increase in taxes, water fees, services is making Arlington unaffordable to the middle class. Stop with the affordable housing and cut property taxes to residents.
- The County needs to stand behind development commitments it makes to neighborhoods. Too often it finds an excuse to break promises to neighborhoods in terms of heights and densities.
- The county prioritizes ideology and politics over the needs and concerns of its constituents. The Board seems to intentionally make life more difficult.
- The county spends too much on social services and grants and not enough of maintenance of parks, roads, infrastructure, weed control, grounds in public places, and has reduced services for everyone. Too many high paying office jobs and not enough workers outside in communities.
- The county street sweepers and leaf collection make several passes through my neighborhood -- but, from what I can tell, the county NEVER cleans the streets in front of the businesses on Wilson Blvd: Liberty Tavern, Spider Kelly's, CVS, Kabob Bazaar. The businesses rarely clean the sidewalk or the street . I walk by these places most days a week on the way to Metro rail. The street curb area fills up with leaves in the fall and they sit there all winter, obstructing drainage. There is also plenty of trash on the sidewalk and the street curb area and that is rarely cleaned up. It is all very unsightly.
- The county tries to do too many things. It just follows the lead of progressive cities/counties elsewhere in the country. People are being priced out of their homes due to property taxes. Missing middle is a very bad idea: The homes aren't for the middle class, reward developers and result in the elimination single family homes that people have lived in for years as well as the tree canopy.

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- The County's efforts to pursue six-plexes in single family home neighborhoods despite the backlash from those living in the neighborhoods (not voters writ-large) is sad and concerning. Notably, the process was originally pitched as making housing more affordable from lower income people and promoting equity. Love that idea. But that's not what happened. Instead, affordable homes are replaced unaffordable apartments. County never re-assessed the plan when it became clear that the condensed housing is still unaffordable... reality doesn't meet the mission, and County never adequately communicated this change to the public
- The County's engagement with the community about the River House Development project has been horrendous. For a long time, They didn't communicate. Then, when they did, it was last minute and with meetings and deadlines at purposely inconvenient times. When the county had the 2nd largest turnout to a board meeting ever, to vote on the GLP for the area, they let everyone have their say but listened to nobody who disagreed with them. Time and again they have disregarded the public's valid concerns about overcrowding, environmental, social, safety, infrastructure, and economic issues related to the proposed plan I. Favor of tripling the density without adequately addressing all the concerns. Even when JBG said they didn't want to build to the maximum permitted density levels, they ignored the reasons and forced them to go back and redraw the plans. What the County is trying to do at Riverhouse goes directly against its own goals for safety, environment, QOL, and economic development. Shame on the Board and the planning office for strong-arming this poorly conceived project through.
- The crime rate is already concerning today. It will worsen dramatically due to the planned increase in infrastructure at River House and in the Pentagon Row area. We do not want the efforts to build upwards to continue, the area is already saturated
- The dips and bumps on the Primary roadways like George Mason Dr. and Williamsburg Boulevard by the storm drain are unacceptable. This has been caused by repeated roads resurfacing. A major example of this was the intersection of George Mason northbound and 14th St. It was subsequently corrected by an asphalt patch next to the storm drain.
- The framing of some survey questions (e.g. County's overall efforts to improve equity) do not allow a proper answer. If someone thinks efforts to improve are too much or not enough, they are both dissatisfied, but for opposite reasons. For this structural flaw, the responder with feelings in either direction should simply respond with "neutral".
- The framing of this survey makes it fundamentally invalid. The answers to these questions do not allow for adequate understanding of the issues involved. This leads to assumptions that may not identify the reason for the rating. For example: the number of electric charging stations in Arlington. Dissatisfaction could be because a citizen thinks there are too many or alternatively not enough. Proponents of stations could use this as a justification for adding units while opponents could be saying that their parking has been limited and less accessible with all the existing stations. This has significant budget and policy implications. I do not trust the County to fairly mediate these types of issues.
- The FY27 budget process has shined a light on a lack of accountability in county management at both the county manager and department leadership levels. For a county that prides itself on comity and doing things the “Arlington way” to address major, multi-year fiscal and programmatic management failures (Long Bridge, etc.) by cutting programs and county resources instead of engaging with the affected communities proactively to identify solutions is both ironic and sad. We can be better.

- The handicap automatic doors are broken in most county buildings, rec centers (Barcroft & schools)
- The houses being built are absolute absurd - it should be illegal to build the massive houses on small lots, each one bigger than the next. There needs to be more affordable housing for small families. Not every new house should be 6 bedrooms and fully devoid of charm. It seems like the goal is to green light any house that will bring in massive property taxes and then stall any moderate home renovation. There needs to be a stop to these builds and there needs to be more regulation around home to lot size ratio.
- The interactions with county staff concerning the Lyon Park gateway tree were extremely disappointing. This was not an emergency and the county staff’s refusal to engage with the local residents and community association were very disappointing - they displayed arrogance, seemed dismissive of the efforts of the local civic association and residents to reconsider a county staff decision. In the grand scheme of things it was a small matter, but a sad departure from the Arlington Way of community engagement.
- The intersection of Washington Blvd, Clarendon, and Wilson is dangerous. Many cars continue to turn left onto Clarendon from Washington Blvd when the light changes; oncoming traffic gets a green light and pedestrians walking on Washington Blvd are allowed to cross Clarendon. I've never seen a police officer there. I've have never seen anyone get stopped or ticketed.
- The lack of transparency from the county board on how the budget is spent leads to mistrust. This info should be easily accessible to any county resident ONLINE! most of us work full time and can't make the time to request these items in person.
- The latest snow storm showed that Arlington was not ready or equipped to handle it. Plows went down the middle of residential streets and piled the ice and snow against vehicles because most of us do not have garages. No bobcats were brought in to remove the piles of ice/snow.
- The library needs security guards never should have let them go.
- The library system, resources, and programming are great! It would be amazing for more people to know about what’s available. Also would love to see more small businesses thrive in Arlington, there are a lot of chains (at least in Clarendon/Ballston areas). Thank you for asking for feedback and for all that you do!
- The library, parks and rec are great resources!
- The litter around restaurants, businesses, etc. is horrible. There are not enough garbage bins around those areas. Restaurants/businesses should be responsible for the trash, etc. outside their buildings or be fined, etc. and still have it cleaned up. The double parking along the Wilson corridor between N. Glebe up to 10th Street is awful - due to ride share and food delivery vehicles as well as drivers who don't follow rules, etc. and double park when picking up food orders etc. Sidewalks, especially those with brick inlays need to be repaired so accidents such as tripping/falling don't happen. Homelessness and street begging, etc. needs to be enforced.

- The maintenance of diamond fields is horrible. The communication between DPR and Diamond leagues is also horrible. We pay a lot in user fees but don't see anything in return. DPR doesn't even follow the MOU it signed with partner leagues.
- The management of South Carlin Springs Road from route 50 to Columbia pike is shameful.
- The medical bills are alarming. It would be helpful if somebody does something as not all can afford this expensive basic need
- The Missing Middle initiative has damaged community trust - and the County's lawsuit is a waste of taxpayer money. Initially the County promoted this as a way to increase affordable housing, but that wasn't close reality. It became clear that the initiative was a way for the County to expand the tax base by increasing density. County leaders contributed to the portrayal of false dichotomies that pitted renters against owners, older residents against new residents, those who valued trees against those who championed diversity. All false choices. There has to be a better way to make informed policy that welcomes modest growth as well as preserves the quality of life what makes Arlington special. Stop wasting money on lawsuits and put creative minds to work on the real problems.
- The more Arlington allow developer to come in a build skyscrapers the less the average person can afford. We are pricing our seniors out of their homes, affordable housing no longer exist for those that need it, that's a joke. There is so much development going on in South Arlington it's sickening. Constant construction, every sold home seems to get knock down and replaced with a 3 story million dollar home. The home is so expensive they are used a AirBNBs. My nieces and nephews will never be able to afford to live here in Arlington. The salaries don't match the income it would take to live here like it once did. It's really sad. Unfortunately, once rent goes up it doesn't go down. We are going too fast. We're not managing our growth at all. There is little hope for our young adults to own a single family home in this area. Even condos are overpriced. They have to stay home with their parents and no have any children because homeownership and everyday expenses are going to be out of reach. So, so, sad. We are struggling now - wake up yall. You're selling us out. All this development is what's killing our county budget and wasteful spending. Now you want to shut down stuff. I have 2 disabled adult siblings that cannot find "affordable" housing. Their is nothing in the price range Arlington County offers. Our taxes are skyrocketing. We are the most expensive area to live in now days. Retirement doesn't pay enough to live here comfortably anymore. It's really sad and a hardship to many.
- The need to evaluate investment in county programs must be tempered with caution. There is growing resentment over purported needs which seem to require continuous long term funding (i.e. streetcars, etc.). Economic conditions must consider the longer term true costs of programs before they are initiated. While I support infrastructure investment, there seems to be a need to replace curbs, paving and sidewalks long before their useful life.

- The new trash collection service is inferior to the predecessor and there has been a decline in quality.
- The snow removal service left snow in front of our driveway.
- The new trash contractor is terrible! The county focuses too much on "extras" and not enough on basics such as police, fire, road/sidewalk maintenance, county services, etc. The tax to value ratio is too high especially for those with no kids. I hate that you can't visit the county for in person services, especially with construction - then why have the Courthouse building - sell it and give us a tax break. Development is skewed and way to rampant, we have abandoned all planning principles. The county enacts codes and rules they never enforce what a waste of time. I wish I never moved here and can't wait to leave and I tell everyone I know to get out! Arlington is a cesspool on the way to being like DC.
- The new trash management contractor's employees consistently spill trash and recycling items onto the street when emptying the bins into the truck. Every trash day, we have to pick up trash from the street after the trucks leave. Please fix this.
- The parking prices in the performance zones are usurious. I walk where I can, but am unable to bike currently because of health reasons, and don't have an hour to offer to use public transport to get to a dr appt. To have to pay $4.50 for parking for one hour is ridiculous. Something needs to be done about snow removal in the new world where plastic bollards are in place to protect bike lanes. I'm quite sure snow removal quality was impacted on many major Arlington thoroughfares because it was difficult to work around segregated bike lanes, e.g. N Quincy St. Also the rubber speed bumps are not made to weather snow removal, and should not be used. Finally, the sidewalk process is untransparent and undemocratic. I was fine with a sidewalk being added to my street, but we were given exactly 15 minutes for input at one meeting, and it was already a done deal at that point, and any suggestions offered by attendees were ignored. NOT the Arlington Way. (N Quebec St- Cherrydale)
- The Parks Department does not provide positive support of volunteers who make an effort to enhance parks and trees.
- The permitting process is a nightmare. For something as simple as replacing an existing fence, the permit approval takes a long time and is excessively conservative. Contractors for repairs/renovations all complain about the Arlington process as being long, excessive and adds to the cost and time of any project.
- The police are not enforcing pedestrian safety. I've almost been hit in crosswalk right in front of officers and they did nothing. I do think the arts, recreation and library programs are excellent and I'm glad we have them.
- The problem of double parking right around Ballston Quarter is getting ridiculous. People will park at the curb, then somebody comes along and parks beside them, and all of a sudden there's only one lane to drive in. It's a hazard to everybody.
- The progressive water rates are unfair to large families. We have a family of 6 in a 1500-sq ft house, but pay higher water rates than we would if we lived in three separate houses.

QUESTION 25

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- The property and other taxes are far too high. Please reduce spending instead of added taxes and tax rates.
- The public engagement process seems to emphasize the appearance of engagement in a manner that supports what the staff or consultants want to do. It should be reexamined. The County Code needs to provide greater opportunities for transparency by including the staff agency responsible for maintaining each chapter (don't say the Manager's Office) and periodic reviews for revisions.
- The quality of bike trails going into Washington DC is getting worse (very bumpy in places) which discourages people from biking in (instead of driving)
- The questions are not neutral. Whoever created them is either incompetent or has a political agenda
- The rate of development needs to be increased to keep up with the growth. Residential development is still not enough to close the housing deficit and keep housing prices down.
* Better protection for pedestrians from turning vehicles on crosswalks on major roads, enforce yielding to pedestrians * More safety on Metro and in Metro stations
- The school closures this winter were embarrassing. There was no consistency in policy for days with and without school. communication about reasoning was non existent.
- The snow removal job in response to the January storm was extremely poor and unbelievably slow. The County's only plan seems to be to wait for it to melt.
- The snow removal on sidewalks or lack thereof allowing snowcrete to block sidewalks and small neighborhood roads for more than a week was disappointing.
- The snow removal this winter was horrendous, leaving 1.5 lanes open on major thoroughfares. The new recycling collector is terrible about collecting the blue bins. I've sent several complaints.
- The snow removal was a disaster this year. The county should have worked way past to remove the snow
- The speeding is out of control on Glebe Road south of Columbia Pike. Please enforce the limits. The stormwater management maintenance is excessive and burdensome for small HOAs ($3k+ in additional costs).
- The street sweeper is a waste of money. I didn't know we had one until recently. It does no good in our neighborhood because the cars are in the way and it doesn't pick up the leaves that have usually blown into the gutters and are rotting.
- The Survey does not talk about one of the bigger annoyances of me and many people I know – delivery drivers, such as Uber eats, and DoorDash, who are constantly parking in front of restaurants on busy roads. This causes backups. Also, too many bike lanes have taken away from driving and parking. I get that we want to be a bike, friendly town, but it is not real reality. Lastly, if the missing middle initiatives to allow multi family homes where there were previously single-family proceeds, there needs to be better safeguards against developers creating multi units that are all over $1 million. There should be a way for someone to buy a three bedroom home in Arlington for under $800K - the public policy needs to turn this into the incentive,

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

- instead of an incentive for developers to turn one lot into three homes that are all $1.5 million.
- The survey seems somewhat biased, perhaps unintentionally, as some of the areas for which it is seeking a level of satisfaction can be read in opposite ways. Some initiatives I am not satisfied with because the county is doing/spending way too much on them. So while the level of services may be satisfying, the excesses are not.
- The taxes are high specially property tax. lower it and housing is expensive.
- The tracks (Yorktown track, W+L track) sometimes have people riding ebikes, bikes, scooter or dogs or strollers in spite of signage, please do a better job of enforcing the rules at the high school talks. Please do better with enforcing leash laws (dogs)
- The traffic signals along Langston Boulevard are frustrating. Pollard signal stops traffic along Langston when there are RARELY cars trying to exit Pollard onto Langston. Signals between Rosslyn and Spout Run run too long for cars getting onto Langston.
- The trails have wood bridges that are unsafe the wood is rotted, broken and in some cases one can easily trip.
- The trash situation is a disaster.
- The tree canopy is being systematically reduced and the County is complicit
- The VA loud exhaust law must be vigorously enforced daily! I don't see this happening! The loud exhaust noise detection cameras must be installed and utilized to eliminate the loud exhaust cars from the Arlington streets! Also, the noise emanating from WM trash pickup trucks is horrendous! The research needs to be done on how to reduce such noise! Also, the trash pickup should not occur before 8 am weekdays
- The water tastes awful. I've tried it throughout the county. The food scraps bins for apts aren't practical. I want to compost but the bins... I am not going to carry food waste down the sidewalk.
- The water tastes like algae. It's gross. I have called and they say its normal
- There are a lot of people using small residential streets as shortcuts to traffic lights. Also there are a lot of people driving the wrong way on smaller, one-way streets.
- There are a lot of public sidewalks in my neighborhood with bushes growing over them, blocking 1) the view to turn safely onto streets (e.g. Langston & N. Quantico & Washington & N. Quantico) and 2) for pedestrians to walk safely (e.g. Langston near Roosevelt). Thank you!
- There are a myriad of diverse programs and services the county provides and Arlington is a unique community in that there is a real good balance of things to do for families who reside here. It's important to protect and preserve these values and also maintain a posture of pro-business. In recent years, I have seen the county board increase taxes on a number of services, such as permitting fees and parks and recreation. Now, I see proposals of trying to increase costs on tennis court rentals of all things, and even closure of libraries, which impact the overall budget so minimally. We hope the county government listens to citizens, try to keep taxes low, find creative ways to reduce the maintenance on county-owned facilities and adopting latest tech trends for saving costs.
- There are a ton of empty retail spaces in Arlington, and a ton of local and beloved shops and restaurants have closed. I'm very unhappy that the county is not very friendly to local shops. I'm also disappointed that the county is choosing to close a library, a vital community resource, and instead prioritizing things like getting large corporations to move in. Funding libraries improves equity. Also, snow removal was awful this year. Roads were not treated and were inadequately plowed for over a week. Also, there is a dearth of single family homes in North Arlington. Tons of mansions are getting built, but what we really need are townhomes and affordable starter homes. I will likely need to move out of the county in order to buy a home.

- There are many Turkish speakers living in the areas and for non english speakers / there is no anything Turkish.
- There are so many things that are great in arlington county and for 33 years I have enjoyed living here. I am now comfortable with saying that the bad parts of the country are more than the good and I am ready to leave. The county has bent over backwards to help developers earn more money, but nothing to make that piece equitable or sustainable for residents. Yes, the county board members have said they want this place to be like New York and Japan Libby Garvey and Christian Dorsey. Matt de Ferranti is a tool with so little knowledge of the county, it's a shame. Getting rid of SFH under the banner of helping the poor was a lie. They county broke the law to make that happen and have spent millions defending it instead of just doing the impact reports as required. SFH is important to Arlington and letting it go will turn this place into a poor place to live with no citizen engagement.
- There are too many signs on our streets and too much writing on the pavement of the streets
- There continues to be a perceived lack of transparency in decision making and public communications, especially pertaining to development and redevelopment. Should concentrate of maintaining and using existing physical assets (rehab buildings instead of replacement).
- There has perhaps been too much emphasis on bikes and scooters, and zero emphasis for people (particularly seniors) who may like to go out for a stroll. I can't even walk along the paved path in my neighborhood park anymore without fear of being run into mowed down. Similarly, I very frequently see abandoned scooters on my street. Who is supposed to pick these up??
- There is a commercial operation at Walter Reed and S Pollard that is violating noise ordinance on weekends and affecting traffic safety and parking at park facilities and on the whole street.
- There is a huge wealth gap in Arlington. Focus on that. You have renters paying 3-4,500 for an apt. There are no dog parks for us in the ballston / va square area. You have homes for 2-3 million dollars. You are pushing out 30-50 year olds. And your police are racist and don't live in Arlington. I know- I'm a white woman in an interracial relationship who has been pulled over for grocery shopping in a snowstorm - the police asking my husband and I - who don't drink- how much have we been drinking. Do better
- There is a sense in many communities that the Board and the staff are not responsive to community concerns, because they have priorities of their own (e.g., housing densification) that compete with these concerns. These priorities are based on the misperception that more housing (which is largely upscale rather than affordable housing) means lower housing prices and rents.

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

Studies increasingly show that in an expensive, built out area like Arlington, deregulation of land use just leads to developers' building only larger homes (more remunerative to the County in terms of tax revenues) homes to replace decreasing commercial and federal revenue sources. Not less expensive homes, which are being torn down and replaced with unaffordable ones.

- There is no place in the County for boy and girl Scouts to camp. Scouts MUST leave the County for camping spaces. Out of state parkers are not registering their cars in the County.
- There needs to be more attention to fixed and low income residents, especially seniors. There are very few options for them in Arlington. Culpepper Gardens should have kept the assisted living program with money from the county and the state. Also I perceive that the county or board is more interest in enticing large companies and people with large salaries to Arlington. We are a middle class community but this community is losing its support.
- There seems to be a need for more aquatic programs and camps. Create more availability, create more commercial parking areas. A lot of worker van's parked in neighborhoods.
- There should be public housing authority if offering housing assistance to the public and incentives to the shareholders.
- These questions were written in a way that "dissatisfied" can be interpreted as the opposite of my view. From County Board actions, Arlington clearly does not care about resident opinions, or quality of life here. There are too many car-charging stations taking up spaces, streets keep being narrowed (Arlington is very "anti-car" even though some, like me, MUST drive.) There are FAR too many rats--not even mentioned in this survey--pest people tell me Arlington is 2nd only to DC in this entire region for rats. Developers don't meet codes and have no ill effects, the very old infrastructure is not proactively addressed, yet the county can spend time and money on renaming streets, planting trees but not caring for them, so they die, and creating faux brick crosswalks.
- Things that could be better: police response times (we had an intruder 2 months ago and the cops never came though we dialed 911), the deer are out of control, the potholes on VDOT bridges are terrible impacting our quality of life, sidewalks in the summer are frequently blocked by overgrowth from residents' yards and need to be cited and/or cut back by the county, loud mufflers on cars need to be addressed especially along the 66 corridor, and litter along sidewalks in commercial areas and on county owned land (parks, green space next to highways and off ramps) is a constant problem.
- This is one of the better run Counties I've lived in but efforts to manage growth are not taking into account water supply for the long term.
- This questionnaire is far to long to expect thoughtful answers
- This survey crashed twice on my iPhone within the past half hour. I give up.
- This survey is too long
- This survey is too long Butt I am filling it out to support Cherrydale Library
- This year for the Winter Storm, Arlington county took a long time in cleaning the streets and sidewalks. That needs to be a priority every WINTER. Very hard for families to park on the streets, walk, etc because the snow was kept in the ground for weeks and weeks after the winter storm!

- Times are financially hard for a lot of us. Cut the pork. Do not raise property taxes until the economy improves. Clarify the missing middle ordinance to apply only to designated commercial or multi use areas.
- To elaborate on code enforcement, my experience is in reference to single family dwellings - both those left behind to rot by distant owners and those being renovated that have very untidy building sites. Have a drive on 26th St South for plenty exemplars.
- To many bicycle accommodations. Confusing marking on streets. Pedestrians seem to be able to do anything they want.
- Too many red-light cameras. Would appreciate noise enforcement of commercial areas surrounding River Place and time of trash removal is too loud/early
- Too much bicycle infrastructure, too much dog infrastructure, too few mature trees, too little parking.
- Too much County overreach, spending, fees and taxes. Housing is not a County function.
- Too much focus on Diversity / Equity at the expense of overall quality.
- Too much focus on young demographics in development - not very inclusive at all.
- Too much money wasted on bike lanes and road reconfiguration that cause traffic problems and jam up car flow out of the county
- Traffic and parking enforcement need to be higher priorities in all areas and especially central corridors
- Traffic calming remains a mysterious process that appears disjointed and haphazard. Not comfortable the county has any real plan beyond avoiding NCAs and disgruntled residents. A holistic (shock and awe) approach to residential neighborhoods adjoining the Rosslyn-Ballston corridor is long overdue.
- Traffic enforcement seem to not exist. Drivers know this and do what they want.
- Traffic planning sucks. Too many white sticks everywhere, tight curbs, and no clue where you're supposed to go as a driver
- Trash, recycling + yard waste collection are abominable
- Unnecessary money they are spending, bicycle laws and car laws. Bicycles are causing lots of problems and give them tickets when they break the laws.
- Upzone everything! Increase the supply of housing and invest in walkable neighborhoods! Think of all the tax revenue you could collect! I would love the privilege of an Arlington County property tax bill that comes with ownership, but there is not enough housing available to make that realistic here.
- Very dissatisfied with the budget for this year; the Bancroft Center is a huge benefit to all. Not just the gymnastics program - but those fields are amazing. And the building is used as a voting station. Why take aim at South Arlington? Take something from North Arlington instead. I'm also completely fed up with the county permitting process. It needs to be streamlined. If DoD can do it, surely our county can do better.

- Very upset with the determination of closing gymnastic recreation without asking
- Waitlists are long for gymnastics, swimming and 55+ classes
- Wary of the new residential parking system. How will we know that someone should not be parking in a zoned area without the stickers?
- Way too much attention paid to bike lanes and pedestrians; little or none to drivers. Pedestrians and bikers in Arlington are either not aware of traffic laws, or deliberately flout them. There is a lack of consideration for Arlington residents that need cars to get around, and are unable to bike or walk everywhere. And don't get me started on scooters. Not only are they dangerous, but they look ridiculous and people riding them look and behave like children. No awareness or consideration for their safety and the safety of their neighbors.
- We all care very much what happens to the former Walgreens at Spout Run. Police Dept cuts are NOT okay. The drugs/teens/crime/trash problem at the end of N. Nelson St where it meets Custis Trail is an ongoing problem. We desperately need a speed bump or stop sign at Nelson St and 19 St N. intersection. The employees of Cherrydale Rehab speed excessively and fly down the hill and just this week (again) almost ran over my biking kid. I've tried to get the county to engage but keep getting told it's a different department/organization. Who is dealing with Cherrydale Rehab?? Your snow "removal" was atrocious this winter. Nelson never sees a plow no matter the # of days. Clearly the plan is pray for sun and wait for melting, which is NOT a plan
- We are a diverse and opinionated county. You manage to make a community and a home we love.
- We are extremely unhappy with: how the Gateway tree debacle was handled in Lyon Park; snow removal after recent show/ice. It was challenging but very bad compared to other neighboring areas; and MOST disappointing is dismal mail service. We sometimes have mail/packages in Informed Delivery that are NEVER received. Reports filed are never followed up on.
- We are really sad to hear that gymnastics at Barcroft is being canceled. Need free pre-k!
- We are very upset by the proposed property tax increase recently advertised. Our county excels at wasting taxpayer dollars. I answered "neutral" on many of the questions because i disagree with the underlying premise of the statements--because I disagree with how the county is using our tax dollars to implement policy that I disagree with and so many of these policies result in a budget that is unsustainable--putting very real strain on middle and lower income families and single residents in our county who don't want to be forced to take a government handout just to make ends meet. While there are many wealthy residents in our county who can easily absorb the proposed tax rate hike, there many more who can't. Why is it acceptable for hard working Arlingtonians to have to "tighten our belts", look for ways to reduce spending, in order to pay more for many services that we don't use and have no say over--but the County Board can keep overspending and demand more and more from the taxpayers??? There has been a lot of talk about "affordability" in our local and state government--but the real question is "affordable for whom"? Certainly not for the those in the middle and lower income brackets, as more and more taxes removes more and more of our disposable income--which is what helps to make the over-all economy thrive. We are asking for fiscal restraint and better money management. This county can do SO much better.

- We extensively use the park and rec programs: aquatics, gymnastics and judo. I think they are a super "plus" for the county. We extensively use the library services as well. I have a profound appreciation for the library services! I think that this is a very good place for living.
- We have an abandoned house across the street for over 20 years on S. Highland. do something
- We have an airbnb issue in the County. It is not safe or regulated + dangerous.
- We have lived here since 1983 and have grown increasingly disappointed with Arlington governance and services. People made fun of "The Arlington Way" of the Ellen Bozman and Mary Margaret Whipple days, but there was something to it.
- We have nice public spaces / parks / etc. Please maintain them as they age.
- We have noticed a marked drop in the quality of DHS employees and services in the last several years. We urge county leaders to preserve green spaces and trees and place/enforce restrictions on gargantuan houses that seem to know no zoning bounds. We don't need more high rise apartment buildings and population density. Enough. Preserve all the library outlets that the county has please. These little libraries do so much do bind communities together.
- We have resources to get drugs out of APS. Drugs are widely available in all High Schools this has to stop!
- We love our Arlington Gymnastics program, which both of our children attend. The boys program is nationally recognized, and the girls program is an incredible alternative to the extraordinarily expensive private gyms in the area for kids who are in rec and competition. Please save our program!
- We love our library centers , parks & rec, I wish long bridge was affordable - we're above the reduction cut offs, just. I wish you offered personal training.
- We love the parks and rec programs and the libraries
- We moved to Arlington for the schools but want to stay for the parks & rec program / resources. Also public works & utilities are great. Wish housing was more affordable & we'd never leave!
- We need a better way to elect county board members, with defined districts for each member, not all at-large. Also, Arlington County should replace the former Metrobus 4A/S service running from Seven Corners to Rosslyn and back, eliminated during the pandemic and never resumed. It is very inconvenient for people who depended on it to reach a Metro station. Can Arlington bus service replace the old 4A/S service, at least 4 or 5 times a day? Or lobby Metro to reinstate the service?
- We need a housing commissioner and a mayor badly
- We need more building. Missing middle is a drop in the ocean. Upzone everywhere! Also, more time on the ped crossing & Hayes at 15th.
- We need more options for food assistance, especially for those without or limited transportation (elderly, disabled)
- We need more shelters and programs for the county. Whether it's for the homeless or low income

- We need more synthetic turf fields, redevelop the buck site
- We need programs that support workers in the area. Workers like all the delivery drivers on mopeds. Maintenance, sanitation, cleaners, so many hard working people with limited resources.
- We need speed bumps in Penrose - 6th St South
- We need to do more to help those who need it, to create more affordable housing, get more EVs and electrified houses and apartments and fund it by increasing property taxes, wealth taxes, and ensuring big businesses contribute more to the community financially and otherwise
- We need to save money!
- We need to update the Comprehensive Plan so that Arlington can have more density and more growth and be more prepared for the future.
- We received no response to our service request.
- We should be able to have more people with disabilities employed in Arlington
- We very much appreciate the county's efforts to provide services and opportunities for all our residents. We believe that should include attention to equity and inclusiveness in all things - but not as a stand alone mission. Also, we are not in favor of promoting Arlington as a destination and increasing housing without increasing other related services like space in schools and parking. The ebikes and scooters have been a nuisance - it would be great if there were designated locations for people to leave them so they aren't leaving them in front of people's homes or blocking trails or sidewalks.
- We'd like the county to be more fiscally accountable. Don't waste money. Don't overspend. Keep the programs and facilities open that matter to residents and eliminate wasteful spending instead.
- What is being done to get rid of gentrification? What is being done to increase wages and lower the cost of living? What's being done to fix potholes?
- When I lived at Lyon Place in Clarendon noise regulations were not properly managed nor enforced.
- When it comes to the snow removal both this year and last year, I was disappointed as I used the snow removal form, and still snow was not removed. I'm in Cherrydale on Langston blvd, and I feel that not only in snow removal, but the fact that there is no post office, none of the compost bins, and even talk of closing down the Cherrydale library that this is an area that is almost forgotten and not cared about as much as other parts of Arlington.
- When the county asks for feedback the county needs to actually listen rather than simply ignoring. This is in regards to the traffic circle at Military and Nelly Custis - what a complete waste of money; the Madison Center renovation - does it really need to be closed for a year?; and there was no snow removal enforcement of neighbors who never shoveled during the most recent snow storm
- When the grass grows in the area at the middle of the intersection of Langston, Military and Quincy, it can create a traffic hazard, particularly for westbound cars turning onto Cherry Hill.

- Road. Taller grass in that area obstructs the view of oncoming (Eastbound) traffic. It would be helpful if that area was either mowed more regularly or otherwise prevented from growing tall.
- While I support the current government structure of Arlington County and still feel our county is pretty well managed, my experience over the years has been that the county's staff leadership and their teams have become less responsive to residents and less interested in resident input. I have had to go to County Board members to get help when in the past, just going to a staff member would have addressed the issue. It is problematic that while the County talks a lot about diversity, there is no diversity at the deputy/asst county managers and director level in the County. Other than the APS superintendent--which is separate from County government leadership--there is not even one Latino in a position of authority in Arlington County government. That indicates a lack of effort by County leadership when you consider that 16% of the County is Latino. I appreciate that there are surveys such as this one but would like to see more accountability and transparency in Arlington's government, along with high quality practical services. The new trash collection contractors are terrible--they must have been the cheapest bid because they don't have equipment that lifts the bins; their workers do this and everyone on our street has had a bad experience with broken bins and pieces of trash left on the streets. This had not been the case with the previous contractor. Also, while this winter was a huge challenge, I don't think the county did a good job of plowing the streets. So many of us had labored over our driveways just to have a wall of ice and snow block us in by the snow plow, which came once and then was never seen again. I do give very high ratings to the library especially, for its programs, information and ease of checking out books. However, there is not enough parking at Central Library. In general, Arlington keeps taking away parking spaces for bike lanes which is not good planning as our population is aging--this is not an approach that prioritizes the needs of families with small children, people who are elderly or have disabilities or health problems. Parking is terrible throughout the county and it feels as if county government thinks everyone should just hop on a bike. I love Arlington but I do see some of these same issues just never get resolved which makes me feel that no one is actually listening and cares. The County has done a good job of communicating about the need to reduce the deer population, which was really challenging.
 - While I understand there are infrastructure limitations, I found it unacceptable that Arlington county, in the most recent historic snow-ice storm, plowed streets in such a way that shifted the burden of ice removal to people who owned vehicles. On my street, the plows had cleared the streets by plowing in front of all of the parked vehicles. Subsequently, the snow turned to "snowcrete" and was only removable with hours of hard work from residents. Again, I understand it was an anomalous situation and that there was limited plowing resources and the priority was to plow the streets. And, I know multiple people who had to pay to have their vehicles cleared out due to physical disabilities or challenges. As the climate continues to change, such extreme events will become more and more common; I highly suggest the County consider emergency preparedness, any needs to upgrade or purchase more plows, and ways to improve equipment and snow/ice removal processes so that this does not become a repeat occurrence.

QUESTION 25

- While undoubtedly helpful in some respects, this survey will not adequately capture what many struggling households think about their interaction with County government -- too long requiring too much time, etc. Considerable qualitative work is needed in underserved communities to get a true picture. Otherwise, the most well-off residents will dominate the evaluation here.
- Whomever hired Bates should be fired.
- Why did you buy E-Waste, that they can't recycle (Turbin from Blade) and displayed as art? Waste of County money. Could have been used to keep library open.
- Why do I get the run around when I try to call a department? People are in a meeting or working from home ?
- Why don't the people not the board decide on zoning?
- Why is Arlington not having a real missing middle housing policy? Why is Arlington letting developers build apartments costing over $1 million and letting destroy houses worth less than $1 million? How are multiplex units protecting the environment? Why is the government deciding to cut so many trees without consulting the citizens?
- Why is there no question about the Sheriff's Office. I see Deputies in the community and helping me/ keeping me safe in the courthouse. They do important work behind the scenes to help people. Please value the Sheriff's Office Staff.
- Wires on utility poles ought to be MUCH neater! They are sloppy & unsightly.
- Wish there was better traffic enforcement with stop signs etc. Walking has gotten very scary. My mother is blind people speed and almost hit her running red lights, stop signs
- Wish there was metro in south Arlington and wish for more service for ART 75. Arlington is filled with diversity and has been a wonderful place to raise our family.
- With regards to the police enforcing traffic rules, as a frequent walker, the cyclists are the ones who have come closest to running me over and not yielding to pedestrians. If we're going to add bike lanes to all of our major roads then maybe it's time the police start enforcing traffic rules with the cyclists.
- With the change in rules allowing middle density housing in areas previously zoned for single family homes, you are allowing too much density in those areas.
- With the taxes that we pay to the county we should never be in a position where student are out of school for a week due to a snow storm. it is completely unacceptable that all other schools in the area were able to get up and going and APS was closed for over a week. our street was not plowed until 4 days past the storm. even having had advance notice to the storm.
- Woodbury Park at Courthouse is overcharging incorrect rents to some of the HCV participants who have federal housing vouchers. Also, some of the HCV recipients do not have working toilets. Please have the county's HCV division do a systematic review of these two ongoing situations and discrepancies with the HCV recipients. We have a situation at the Rosslyn metro station where the signage inside the station has not been functional over the past three years. There is a game of finger pointing between subcontractors and governmental agencies. Please also look into that situation.

- Work days M-F (work days only) increase hugely shuttle to metro. 6-9 AM 3-7 PM
- Would be more representative if each neighborhood in the county had 1-2 reps on an advisory committee to the county board (or even board itself). Development is happening too quickly and smothering Arlington's historical ambience (too many big, ugly houses going up). Please be more informative and transparent of how decisions are being made here in Arlington. Thank you!
- Would like more community fairs / festivals
- Would love to see better traffic safety enforcement. I see so many violations of speed limits and traffic rules throughout the county that make roads unsafe for all users.
- You are driving businesses away with communist policies. Stop the woke policies, the era of woke insanity is over. Stop spending money on woke causes and raising taxes.
- You ask if we are satisfied with stuff. But you don't ask why. If I am dissatisfied, it isn't necessarily because there needs to be more. It might be I am dissatisfied because I think Arlco is wasting money on excess. The number one problem I have with Arl right now is the TERRIBLE traffic enforcement. It is like playing roulette to walk or bike or even drive on our streets. I hear people joke "Oh don't worry, Arl does not enforce traffic laws." In my neighborhood it is dangerous to walk. We are a thru street. We have no sidewalk. We have wide residential roads. Which Bike Arl has published info on causes speeding. I am asking for the smallest thing possible: paint the parking lanes to push traffic into the middle of the road - so pedestrians who must walk in the road can walk in the parking lanes. 30 years I have been asking. We have gotten NOTHING to mitigate traffic. Oh I correct myself. After a girl got hit by a car, we got a stop sign that everyone ignores. The solution to Arlco's budget issue is to STOP SPENDING MONEY. You have a massively wealthy real estate and personal property base - with a strong economy - that generates robust tax revenue. You have enough revenue. Spend it wisely. Stop raising taxes. Why do I feel like Arlco's system of govt is broken? Because on a daily basis I have my life threatened by cars. And years and years of advocacy by cyclists and pedestrians and similar people - yields almost nothing. The Intersection of Doom remains the Intersection of Doom. You create maps where you acknowledge you have traffic problems. But you don't fix the problems. I have been here long enough to see my road rebuilt entirely - several times. But no matter how much I ask, I can't get you to design it to be safer.
- You could fund the entire Arlington county budget by aggressively ticketing double parking along the Clarendon corridor. Also, a lot of equity ground work the county does is undercut by a handful of super shitty things the county does.
- You don't enforce regulations that require homeowners to shovel snow from their sidewalks. People shovel only what they need for their own use, which frequently does not include most or all of the sidewalk area, and leave hazardous conditions for pedestrians. The regulations are not rigorous and the penalties are insufficient to reform wealthy scofflaws. Make the regulations more rigorous and the penalties larger, and enforce all of it.
- You guys suck. The whole county is run for the benefit of crypto Maoist scum who make up the hollowed out skin suit of the Democrat Party. Services suck. Leadership is incompetent.

Please share anything else you would like Arlington County Government to know.

Infrastructure is a joke and you treat your constituents like a combination of serfs and a general piggy bank for your idiotic and wasteful spending. Your services are disgraceful and again, you treat taxpayers like shit. You have jacked up taxes and made zero discernible improvements. I used to love this place and thought it was a great place to raise a family. Now I just want to leave as soon as practicable and I doubt my children will stay here after they leave for college.

- You have to enforce the traffic laws if you want people to feel safe walking around - not once in a while, frequently
- You need to ask the reasons for dissatisfaction here. Your new trash removal service has gotten better, but it's much noisier than the last company, less consistent, and like the last company often dumps stuff on the street and leaves the cans in the wrong place. On parks, stop messing with them. You've taken our parks and turned almost all of them into kids' playgrounds. Those are really noisy yet you cut down all the trees that served as noise berms before and they aren't useful to the rest of us anymore. Nor do they seem to be improved any from before for anyone; it appears to be just another way to reward developers and make a ton of disruption to the residents. On housing, Arlington used to be an affordable bedroom community. You've turned it into another place only for rich people. Those of us who've lived here a long time can't afford to move, and if we do you just allow all housing to be demolished and too expensive housing to replace it. You also tear down years of foliage every time you allow a new house to be built. You don't maintain trees on the county strip in front of houses -- when they get sick or die we have to deal with the constant leaf problem. On roads, you've put so many impediments on them nobody can get around on them without nearly running into something, not cars and not bikes. Remove all impediments and humps, and just leave it alone -- we didn't have a problem. Now you just can't get anywhere which pushes people to ride or drive too fast when they can actually move. Put back turn right on red and get rid of half the stop signs and signals you've put up. Again, there was no problem here. You'll never erase all accidents as long as humans are involved, and probably won't when it's all robots. It's maddening. As to small businesses, you don't support them at all. Most are owned by people now who own a bunch of them, especially mediocre restaurants that no longer stay open late at night. We used to have lots of fun places and good food but you drove them out. You let our one coop grocery go bust by giving Whole Foods incentives to come here. You've made Arlington so expensive most of our trusted local businesses are gone. It seems the main reason you now exist is to get money in your pockets or campaign funds from developers. It's not longer run for the people who live here. As to noise, if you're always tearing up perfectly good roads and constantly building or demolishing things it's never ever quiet anymore. Never. It used to be a really quiet place to live. This is Arlington; it'll never be Old Town or DC. Don't try to make it be that because time proves it isn't that. Leave us alone except when it's necessary and stop making work where it's not needed; that's why your budget is off and you keep having to raise our property taxes -- for what looks like make-work for developers.
- You need to improve affordability. Small businesses are closing left and right, rent has skyrocketed. It would be a shame for Arlington to lose character and community due to individuals and small businesses having to move due to inflated costs.

- You need to make developers or property owners responsible for ALL the stormwater runoff caused by their soil disturbance, impermeable surface, harm to mature trees, everything they do that increases stormwater flow to other properties. You have a superb stormwater management team, but you need to stop making people pay thousands of dollars for stormwater problems caused by what's done on somebody else's property. Also, I worry about the old stormwater drains in peoples backyards, and believe the County should regularly check that part of our stormwater management system to ensure it works well. (2) you should never approve a project without ensuring the neighbors directly affected have been properly consulted and their views carefully considered, (3) you lied in your snow response announcement saying you had a partnership with civic associations and people interested in volunteering to help people unable to physically clear snow should contact their civic association. Desperate people wasted their time contacting our civic association for help, when the County had never said anything to the civic association. Be like Alexandria and have Volunteer Arlington coordinate "snow buddies" to help elderly and disabled people with snow removal. Don't publicly lie about some coordination you have never done with a civic association. (4) the schools need to ensure children whose parents do not read English receive help from the school to do homework, complete assignments, read and write every day. You need summer school programs and after school programs with the school providing transportation for every child who is behind in reading and writing and lacks parents or guardians fluent in English. I would pay for such a program and would rather see programs for more affluent and educated people in Arlington cut so we can save these children by doing everything we can to get them up to grade level in reading and writing. Thank you
- You really need to focus on core services and CUT taxes. It is not an affordable place to live and the only way it will be is for YOU to focus on best use of taxpayer money and cutting 'nice to haves'
- You really need to improve trash and recycling services.
- You spend too much and the taxes are too high. Money for art is BS. Who are you, some wealthy Italian city state? Pretentious. Also, if people want their kids to take gymnastics why do ai subsidize it with my taxes? WTF? End sanctuary status.
- You've developed neighborhoods like Crystal City and Ballston, but parking is horrible in those locations.
- Your survey have built in bias and i dislike participating because of the bias
- Your taxes are too high
