TRADES COUNCIL MEETS

Hold Open Assemblage Last Night—Addresses by Prominent Officials.

The Alexandria Trades Council held an open meeting in their hall in the Alexandria National Bank Building last night.

The regular order of business was dispensed with and Mr. Hoffman, of Richmond, international organizer of the Brewery Workers' Union, was invited to give a few remarks on the State-wide Prohibition issue.

Mr. Hoffman said: "I am glad to be here. It gives me great pleasure to be with you tonight and to see so many intelligent and honest faces in which I can read a determination to weigh all matters of importance intelligently. I want to say a few words to you in regard to the great and important question that is confronting the citizens and toilers of this state—the question of State-wide Prohibition. The question has been brought to your attention as a prohibition fight but gentlemen it is not a prohibition fight but a labor fight."

Why do I say that. I will ask you, gentlemen, is there anything in the act to be voted on that will prohibit intoxicants from being shipped into our state?

Would it decrease the consumption of intoxicant beverages?

On the other hand would it not increase the consumption?

Look up the statistics of any State that has tried it and see if it don't bear me out.

I will show you that this fight will not only throw the saloonkeeper, the brewery workers and the bartenders out of employment, but men from each and every craft as you will see. We will take the bricklayer.

Now there is in contemplation in Newport News, should the state vote in favor of local option, a building to cost $50,000, another building in Richmond to cost the same amount which would mean a loss of $100,000 worth of work to the carpenters who would do the wood working, the painter who has to do the painting, as well as the bricklayer.

Then we will take the machinist who builds all of our machines, thousands of dollars worth every year.

The wagon maker who makes all of the vehicles that are used in delivering the product, the wagon painter who paints and letters all the wagons, the harness maker who makes all the harness for us the blacksmith who shoes all of our horses, the farmer who raises all of our corn, wheat, barley, and hops, the ice plants where hundreds of thousands of tons of ice are used throughout the state, saloons and hotels, the glass bottle blowers, one of the main industries of this city.

See the number of people who will be thrown out of work from this last industry alone.

I can point out to you that every trade will be affected and when you effect the working trades you affect the merchant because if you have no good money you cannot buy.

Now gentlemen do you believe me when I tell you that this is not prohibition fight but a labor fight.

I want to tell you that 95 per cent of the brewing workers are organized throughout the United States and they are all voters, men who pay their poll taxes and keep themselves qualified at all times, to take an active part in the cities and countries warfare. We believe that any man who makes his living in any community should help to defray the expense of such community.

No man can become a member of the brewery workers unless he is a qualified voter.

Such are the class of men the Anti-Saloon League desires to destroy along with their families.

Brothers, are you going to stand idly by and see us go down.

The brewery workers have been affiliated with the American Federation of Labor since its formation.

We are affiliated with each central body and State federation and always keep ourselves in good standing with them all.

Whenever any local hall appealed to us, either for moral or financial assistance, we have always come to the rescue without asking the reasons. Now we are here, not asking for financial assistance but your moral support to stand by us, shoulder to shoulder, and save the lively hood of thousands of men with families in this state.

NEW CHAPTERS IN FIGHT

Labor Organizations of City Manifest Interest in Proposed New Highway.

New chapters were added yesterday to the story of the fight that is being made for and against the route selected for the Mt. Vernon Boulevard between Alexandria and Washington. Much to the surprise of all the parties interested, the Alexandria Trades Council, at a meeting last night, adopted a set of resolutions calling upon Representative C. C. Carlin to use his endeavors to have the money appropriated by the government divided between the two routes. The subject was brought to the attention of the trades council by P. J. Conlon, vice-president of the International Machinists' Association and a committee composed of Lawrence Millan, J. K. Sparrow, Roy Nevett, David Larkin and F. Padgett were appointed to confer with Mr. Carlin on the subject.

A meeting of the Jefferson District Citizens' Association was held last night at the Mt. Vernon Avenue schoolhouse and resolutions were adopted approving the route from Arlington to Alexandria via Hume Springs and Potomac, as selected by the Department of Agriculture. The meeting was presided over by James McCuen and Frank E. Heishley acted as secretary. Speeches were made by Robert S. Hume, Walter U. Varney, O. C. Beall, C. A. Strauss, John Gary and Jacob Corl.

The resolutions indorse and commend Logan Waller Page, chief of the Good Roads Department, Department of Agriculture; his assistants and the Board of Supervisors of Alexandria for their good offices in behalf of the movement. They also pledge any assistance that may be in their power to help them consummate the proposed work.

Among other things it is set forth in the resolution that: "The proposed route passes through a prosperous and home-owning community of taxpayers and voters by first passing through the sub-division of Virginia Highlands, thence along the historic Fort Morgan road overlooking the city of Washington, thence through the incorporated town of Potomac, comprising the sub-divisions of St. Elmo and Del Ray, thence along the Alexandria and Washington turnpike entering the historic city of Alexandria on Washington street, in which is located Christ Church and many other places of historic interest; and

"Whereas, in our opinion at least nine-tenths of the taxpayers and voters of Alexandria County are in favor of building the above-described highway to be known as Mount Vernon Avenue, and also heartily indorse the action of Logan Waller Page, chief of the good roads department, and our honorable Board of Supervisors in the ways, means and plans which they have adopted and used in consummating the building of the above highway."

Copies will be sent to Mr. Page and also to the Board of Supervisors of Alexandria County.

The committee of the Jefferson District Good Roads Association, which is opposing the route via Potomac, had a conference yesterday with Representative Carlin at his office in Washington and plans were outlined for the construction of a road from Hume Springs to Rosemont independent of the route for the Mt. Vernon Boulevard. The proposed road would be two miles in length and would cost $20,000, the cost to be borne by the Supervisors of Alexandria County, the property owners along the route and the United States government. Supervisor Edward Duncan, representing the county, promised to use his best efforts to have the county pay their part of the expense.
