ALEXANDRIA ORPHAN ASYLUM.—The annual meeting of the Alexandria Orphan Asylum was held Monday night at Liberty Hall, the Hon. Lewis McKenzie in the Chair, and Robert Jamieson and H. C. Slaymaker, Secretaries. The proceedings were opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. McAtee of the 1st Presbyterian Church. The attendance was small, and the Chair alluded to that fact and expressed his regret and mortification thereat, and, in the course of his remarks, called to mind the crowds which, in the good old times now past and gone, used to be present at the meetings, and mentioned the names of those who, in former years, took prominent parts in the proceedings. The reports were then presented and unanimously adopted:

SECRETARY'S REPORT:

Time, which works changes in institutions as well as in individuals, has wrought but little or none, during the past year, in the one whose cause will be plead to-night. The Managers of the Alexandria Orphan Asylum and Female Free School have much, very much, to encourage them in their labor of love. They have met monthly with a oneness of purpose, and harmony of feeling, devising and carrying out such measures as tended to the comfort of those entrusted to their care, and the good of the institution, aided by and relying on that great Being, who permits not a sparrow to fall without His notice. How much more then does He care for the Orphan.

In this year, as in the last, a vacant seat was found in the Board. Death had borne one of their number from her labor here to her reward above.

Thirteen (13) children are now in the Asylum. The managers desire the number to be increased, so that more might have the benefit of the judicious and pious training of the matron who for so long a period has faithfully discharged her duties. But one child left the Asylum during the past year, and she was restored to a reclaimed mother. Two were admitted.

The Free School opened on the first Monday in September, having two sessions daily, and a much larger attendance than for some years past. A committee of two visit the school and report the progress of the pupils at each meeting of the Board.

The managers, being very grateful for the liberality of the public in the past, feel assured that they have now only to leave the home of the orphan with it, and that it will be sustained.

A Quartette Club, composed of Messrs. Wirt, Witmer, Slaymaker and Hahr, then favored the audience, after which the Rev. Mr. Weddell, of Baltimore, delivered the address of the evening. The thirteen female orphans were seated on the stage with him, and their condition afforded him a theme upon which to make a very excellent and appropriate discourse of about a half hour's duration. The orphans then sang.

The Chair announced that subscriptions were in order, and that it required $20 to make a life-member of the Asylum Association: whereupon the Rev. Messrs. Weddell, McAtee, Bullock, McKim, Ryland, Kroes, Norton, Sparrow, Packard, Benson, Walker, Sprigg, Haynes, Bishops Johns and Whittle, Mrs. Ryland, Mrs. Geo. Bayne, Mrs. Buck Claggett, Hon. Lewis McKenzie, Gen. M. D. Corse, Gov. Walker, Lt. Gov. Marye, and Messrs. Chas. P. Shaw, E. F. Witmer, and C. R. Hooff were made life members. There was then more music by the club and another song by the children.

The thanks of the audience were, on motion, given to the Rev. Mr. Weddell, to the Chair, Secretaries, and to the Quartette Club, and also to Mr. Hugh Latham for having the orphans brought to the meeting in one of his omnibuses.

The Chair stated that the Hon. S. S. Cox, of New York, had been invited and would, at an early day, deliver his lecture on Spain in this city for the benefit of the Asylum, and that he hoped upon that occasion a large audience would greet the lecturer. He also suggested that the next annual meeting be held in one of the churches. The children then sang again, and the meeting adjourned, the receipts having amounted to $508.

LOCAL BREVITIES.—That the Gazette is one of the necessary institutions of Alexandria is proved by the fact that the delay of three hours in its publication yesterday evening, occasioned by the length of the Governor's message, was the cause of considerable excitement throughout the city, and the office was besieged by seekers of the day's news.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 9—3 p. m.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, to-day, Mr. Ferry introduced a petition of the son of Mr. Davis Hatch, an American citizen now held in prison at St. Domingo, asking the intervention of the American government on his behalf. The memorial led to some discussion by Messrs. Ferry, Sumner, and others.

Mr. Trumbull from the Judiciary Committee said: "I am instructed by the Judiciary Committee to report the House bill for the admission of representatives from the State of Georgia, accompanied with the statement, that the conditions and provisions contained in the bill, except the first, are the same which were annexed to the bills for the admission of Virginia and Mississippi; and which the Senate has twice adopted. They therefore do not think it necessary that they should make any reference to those provisions."

Mr. Thayer asked if there was no minority report.

Mr. Trumbull replied that the report made was that of the majority. He hoped that the bill would be considered now. As to the provisions, the opinion of the committee was well known, but they agreed to acquiesce in the opinion of the Senate already pronounced. He moved to take up the bill.

Mr. Stewart objected.

The Senate then took up the funding bill.

Mr. Scott, of Penn., discussed the subject at length.

In the House of Representatives, a resolution granting to the widow of the late Secretary Stanton one year's salary of a Judge of the Supreme Court of the U. S. was introduced, but went over under objection.

The House is now considering the bill for the construction of the air line railroad from New York to Washington.

Interesting particulars of the Loss of the Oneida.

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—The following are interesting extracts of a private letter from Surgeon James Suddards of the Oneida, dated Yokohama, January 31: "We left Yokohama at 5 p. m., on the 25th. At 6:45 we were run into by the Bombay on the starboard quarter, the whole of which was carried away. She struck us full with her sharp iron, and cut everything as with a chisel. The wheel, steering gear, spanker boom, and gaff and poop cabin were all carried away, and in fifteen minutes she sank in fourteen fathoms of water, and out of a personnel of twenty-five officers and 150 men, nine officers and fifty-four men are left to tell the tale. The ward-room dinner was just finished at the moment of the collision. It seemed to me as if the whole side of the ship was coming bodily in on the dinner table.

We all rushed on decked immediately and everything was in the greatest confusion. As I stepped over the hatch combing, I saw a large steamer just clearing us. She was hailed by our executive officer, and requested to stay by us, but as far as I could judge they steamed away as fast as they could go. I walked aft on the quarter deck, and saw that everything was smashed to pieces. I then looked over the quarter and saw the extent of the damage. I believed then that the ship would go down in two minutes, and rapidly concluded that every one must look out for himself, as I realized the position. I noticed that the ward room boat, which hung at the port quarter, was manned by twelve, or fourteen men. I jumped on the rail and asked if an officer was in the boat. The men said no, and seeing who I was they said jump in doctor, and seizing hold of me, two or three of them dragged me into the boat. I at once took charge, ordering a man at each fall to lower when ordered. Having first cut all the fastenings with knives we staid thus until within 3 or 4 minutes of the ship going down. During this time the boatswain and two or three men got into the boat, making the whole number seventeen. We were still hanging at the davits when the ship began to roll in that peculiar way which precedes foundering and the boat was dashed against the side of the ship, threatening to dash her in pieces. I looked on deck and saw no one abaft the mainmast, and gave orders to lower away and hang by the falls. After her fall got jammed and had to be cut with a knife. Had we been three minutes longer at the davits, it would have been too late, as she went down like a shot, and the suction after starting would have carried our boat down with the wreck. I may mention here that when the boat was brought up to Idaho she nearly sank alongside, and on examination it was found that seven pieces were broken on the starboard side, and one of the planks was knocked an inch out of place. This must have been done by the side of the ship, and convinces that we could not have saved any more in our boat, as she would have filled and gone down with a heavier load.

As the coxswain cut the fall, a junk was seen close by under sail. We started for her, intending to bring her along-side, if possible, and save life. Being under sail, however, and going free, she rapidly left us, and in about two or three minutes we gave it up, and turning to go back to the ship, found that she had disappeared. We pulled to where we thought she had been, but seeing and hearing nothing finally headed for the shore and landed, about 8:30. I at once went up to a Japanese house, engaged three guides and started off for Yokohama, 25 or 30 miles distant. We crossed five mountains on the way, and had the most fatiguing tramp you can imagine. We arrived all safe at 4 o'clock on the morning of the 25th.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Season and its Dangers.

The human body is chiefly composed of tissues and fibres as sensitive to every change in the condition of the atmosphere as the most delicate electrometer, or the quicksilver in a barometer tube.

The stomach, the skin, the nerves, the lungs, and the excretory organs are especially liable to be affected by these variations, and the best defence against their disastrous tendency is to keep the digestive machinery, which feeds and nourishes the whole system, in good working order.

If the stomach is weak or disordered neither the blood nor the bile can be in a healthy state, and upon the fitness of these two important fluids for the offices assigned to them by nature and the regularity of their flow, health in a great measure depends.

When the air is heavily laden with chilling vapors, as it often is at this season of the year, the digestion should be an object of peculiar care. If it is weak and languid, the whole physical structure will be enervated. If it is vigorous, the entire organization will be strong to resist the untoward and depressing influence of a damp and vitiated atmosphere.

A pure and powerful tonic is therefore especially needed as a safeguard against the diseases most common in the spring, and Hostetter's Stomach Bitters being the most wholesome and potent medicine of the class at present known, a course of it is particularly advisable at this period of the year. The stomach will thereby be toned and strengthened, the liver and bowels regulated, the nervous system braced up, and nature put in a state of active defence against the miasma which superinduces intermittent and remittent fevers, rheumatism, nervous debility, headache, hypochrondia and other complaints which are apt to assail the untoned and unfortified organizations. The body is strengthened without exciting the brain, and consequently no unpleasant reaction follows its reviving and revovating operation. mh 7-eo1w
