

Citizens Protest To School Official

Circumstances Of Resignation Are Questioned

Another flurry in Arlington's school strife bobbed up yesterday as a delegation of Arlington Forest and Buckingham Village residents descended on the county school superintendent's office to protest the "forced resignation" of a Kate Walker Barrett school teacher.

The group of nine, led by the Rev. Harry G. Balthus of Arlington Forest Methodist Church, demanded explanation of reports that "pressure" had been brought against the teacher for refusal to contribute to a fund being raised by the Arlington Education Association.

The fund is for the purpose of mailing out letters to parents in an A. E. A. appeal against a change in the present method of selecting Arlington school board members.

The teacher, Mrs. J. W. Hill, did not attend the A. E. A. meeting when 50-cent contributions were asked of all teachers, and is reported to have objected to such payment when it was suggested the next day.

In a reported verbal clash with the school principal, Miss Hattie Hanks, Mrs. Hill orally submitted her resignation and asked how soon she could be relieved.

Miss Hanks informed the teacher that under the rules it would be a month before she could be relieved, but that she would check with the school superintendent's office. When Mrs. Hill failed to report for her second grade classes yesterday morning, however, the school was able to provide an immediate replacement.

Mrs. Hill, according to the delegation, interpreted the immediate replacement to mean that she was being fired.

No letter of resignation has been mailed by the teacher, who declined to make a statement relative to the incident.

Assistant School Superintendent Charles J. Walsh denied that any pressure had been put on Mrs. Hill to resign. He showed the group a carbon copy of a letter mailed to the teacher hoping that she would reconsider her intention to resign "for the best interests of the school."

School officials obtained an apartment for Mrs. Hill several months ago when she was reportedly dissatisfied with local conditions. Specific mention of this assistance was made in Superintendent Kemp's letter to the teacher in which he also said that he "would be only too happy to confer with you and try to help get matters straightened out."

Australia Fights Wild Horse Plague

ADELAIDE, South Australia (A.P.)—Brumbies (wild horses) are causing so much damage to big cattle stations in Central Australia that one cattle owner has advocated the use of strafing planes to cut down the herds.

E. A. Brooks, owner of two cattle stations in the northern area of South Australia, said airplanes could reach haunts of brumbies inaccessible to hunters using horses.

In several areas thousands of brumbies have been shot "without overcoming the problem, and there are just as many to be dealt with," cattlemen say.

Ted Pratt, a pastoral inspector, says brumbies multiplied rapidly during the war when .303 service rifles used for shooting them were called in by the government.

'Speed Tax' Starts At 40 Miles An Hour

HARTFORD, Conn. (A.P.)—Motorists who habitually operate their cars at high speeds are paying a heavy "speed tax" as well as risking their lives, the Aetna Life Affiliated says.

An increase in speed from 40 to 60 miles an hour will increase gasoline consumption 50 percent, tire wear 350 percent and oil consumption 400 per cent. Tire wear and gasoline and oil consumption increase comparatively slowly at speeds up to 40 miles an hour, but they all increase sharply at this point, making higher speeds extremely wasteful of rubber, gasoline and oil.

Campaign To Get Out Vote On Referendum May 27 Termed 'Too Little, Too Late' Move

The campaign of the Arlington citizens' committee for school improvement to get out the vote May 27 in favor of its school platforms was characterized today by Charles O. Pratt, president of the Greater Arlington Association, as a "too little—too late" move.

Pratt predicted that the special election on the "vital issue of keeping the county schools free from politics" will witness a turn out at the polls of "less than half of the members of the Arlington Civic Federation and similar organizations to which the Citizens' Committee has turned for futile support."

He claimed that many of those "who prefer to refrain from voting here in order to maintain spurious voting residence in other states for their own selfish interests" are certain to be found in the ranks of the Committee and its supporters.

He pointed out that while there are approximately 54,000 Arlington residents eligible to qualify for voting privileges, only about 58 per cent are currently qualified by reason of having paid poll taxes.

Still fewer will be eligible to vote in the special election May 27 since they must have paid poll taxes before last December 10. Only 10,600 voted in the last general elections.

"With the future of Arlington at stake," Pratt said, "we insist that everyone eligible to vote express himself, regardless of the position favored, and that those who have not considered it worthwhile to vote in Arlington join the ranks of voting citizens who believe in Arlington."

Truman's Mother Suffers Set-Back

President Called To Bedside; Flies To Missouri Home

WASHINGTON (A.P.)—President Truman is flying to Grandview, Missouri, in response to word that his 94-year-old mother has suffered a setback. She has been recovering from a broken hip. President Truman was called to the bedside by his brother and sister, Vivian and Mary Jane, who spent an all-night vigil with their ailing mother.

The President took off in the Presidential airplane early this morning. It is a trip of about four and a-half hours. Mr. Truman flew to Grandview only last Sunday for a Mother's Day visit.

The sudden departure of the President was announced today by one of the White House secretaries, Eben Ayers.

At Grandview, Miss Mary Jane Truman told newsmen: "Mother is resting comfortably now, but she is quite ill so I decided to call the President to Grandview." Miss Truman referred further questions to General Graham.

And he said her condition is "very serious." The physician added that Mrs. Truman "is suffering from a tired heart."

The U. S. government in its duties of protecting the health of the citizens asked that the packets be destroyed, claiming that they contained a substance consisting essentially of salt, ground buckwheat hulls, starch material and ground pepper, substituting in whole or part for pure black pepper.

House Group Cuts Navy's Budget

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The House Appropriations Committee has wielded its thrift axe on another Government department.

The committee has recommended a cut of almost 10 per cent in Navy funds for the fiscal year of 1948, a reduction of $378-million from the amount asked by President Truman.

The budget slice could force a personnel reduction of as many as 40,000 officers and men and would definitely force a reduction of thousands of the Navy Department's civilian personnel.

In explaining its action, the committee says the cuts have been made because the Navy Department from appropriations made in previous years. However, one committee member says that an approximate reduction of seven per cent in Navy and Marine officers and men might be necessary if the committee appropriations cut is accepted by Congress. The bill is scheduled to come before the House next Tuesday.
