refused to concede defeat to Republican Joel J. T. Broyhili in Northern Virginia's Tenth District Congressional race today and claimed he won the race by 32 votes. Final figures reported to newspapers, press associations, radio and TV stations from each precinct in the District last night and this morning gave Mr. Broyhili more than a 300 vote margin over his Democratic opponent. "According to figures received over the telephone at my campaign headquarters last night from all precincts in the Tenth District, the vote was 33,120 for Campbell to 33,001 for Broyhili," Mr. Campbell claimed in a statement made at 8 p.m. when the last precinct reported. "I am awaiting final confirmation of the tally before making any further statement. But I am confident that when the returns have been fully checked I will have won the election to Congress from the Tenth District," he asserted. Mr. Campbell said he and his workers had found what he called "some irregularities at the polls in Fairfax County" which he said "we are investigating." He declined to elaborate until the returns were checked. Commissioners of election and clerks of the state courts in the four Tenth District jurisdictions are not expected to certify the returns for several days. Precinct judges in the four jurisdictions, Alexandria, Falls Church, Arlington and Fairfax, began turning in their sealed packages of votes to the clerks today. All returns are unofficial until certified by the commissioners and the clerks. Differences in figures reported by Mr. Campbell and those reported to the press and radio occurred in Fairfax and Arlington Counties. Mr. Campbell claimed a 561 margin over Mr. Broyhili in Arlington compared to a 311 vote victory which the Arlington Daily Sun, Alexandria Gazette and other papers gave him. In Fairfax County, the only one of the jurisdictions which Mr. Campbell lost, he claimed defeat by 649 votes compared with a 752 vote defeat reported to the press. Tabulations in Alexandria were the same as those reported to the press. Totals from Falls Church given reporters gave Mr. Campbell two more votes than his own figures.

Rowzee, Buchholz Kimel, Detwiler Win Board Seats Arlington's Non-Partisans failed in yesterday's election to regain a single seat of the majority they lost on the Arlington County Board September 10, when the Virginia Supreme Court ruled against federal employees serving on the board. Chief reason for their defeat was the new Arlington Independent Movement, supported by both the Democratic and Republican parties of the county. The three AIM candidates, Alvin F. Kimel, Mrs. Leone B. Buchholz and Dr. Robert H. Detwiler, scored substantial victories over their Non-Partisan opponents in the race for the three vacated board seats. But even in the race in which the two parties each had candidates, the Non-Partisans lost, with Republican George M. Rowzee, Jr., Washington bank official, narrowly defeating Non-Partisan Ivan A. Booker by 64 votes. In this contest for the seat to be vacated by board chairman Alfred E. Frisble, a Democrat, at the expiration of his four-year term December 31, votes were cast as follows: Mr. Rowzee, 11,440; Doctor Booker, 11,376; Wesley M. Cooper, Democrat, 6,542, and Jacob C. Bechtel, Independent Republican, 1,678. The highest number of votes polled by any candidate went to Dr. Detwiler, a pediatrician, who received 10,780 votes to 13,357 for his Non-Partisan opponent, Mrs. Ruth O. Cox, who sought to fill the seat vacated by her husband, former board chairman Robert W. Cox. The term expires at the end of next year. AIM candidate Kimel, a furniture dealer, received 19,077 votes to 13,292 for William J. DeMik. Mr. Kimel has three years to serve on the board. Mrs. Buchholz, president of the Arlington Organized Women Voters defeated Mrs. Martha Gammon, 18,409 to 13,898 in the race for the two-year term. The three AIM victors in this special election to fill the vacated seats will take office probably by the end of this week, as soon as election returns are certified. Fifth member of the County Board is Republican Robert A. Peck. After January 1 the Democrats who only a few years ago held such a strong hold on the board, will be without a single representative of their own on that body. The board will be made up of two Republicans and three Independents.

Broyhill Margin In County Saves Him From Defeat By PAUL I. HOPE Fairfax County more than doubled its previous record vote yesterday when it gave General Eisenhower a big majority and provided the margin of victory for Tenth District Republican Congressional candidate Toel T. Broyhill, according to unofficial returns. In giving the Republican presidential nominee almost a 2 to 1 margin, county voters cast nearly 21,500 ballots. The previous vote record, in this year's Democratic Primary, was approximately 10,000. For the second time in recent years the county went Republican in both the presidential and congressional races. In 1948, Dewey for president and the late Tyrell Krum for Congress carried the county, although both lost when returns from other jurisdictions were counted. Eisenhower carried 28 of 29 precincts, with only Clifton in rural Lee District going for Gov. Stevenson. With totals for each of the six magisterial Districts safely in the Republican presidential column. Eisenhower recorded a county total of 18,014 to Stevenson's 8,822. A scattered few votes were cast for Hass, Ittobes and Hallman. Although the Congressional race between Broyhill and Democrat Edmund was close, the county gave the Republican the boost he needed to take the Tenth District House seat. Broyhill polled a total of 9,478 to 8,726 for his opponent, according to unofficial returns. The other three jurisdictions in the Tenth District gave Campbell a slight margin. Campbell today announced he has figures showing he won the race and is awaiting official returns before making any further statement. According to the unofficial returns, Broyhill captured 20 of the 29 precincts. Campbell took eight precincts and tied his opponent in one. In the magisterial district totals, Campbell led in only one district, heavily populated Falls Church District where he polled 8,070 to Broyhill's 3,001. Eisenhower's victory in Fairfax County, like that in the rest of the state, was in large part due to most state organization Democrats tepid endorsement of Stevenson. With the exception of the anti-organization forces, county Democrats gave little active support to the Democratic presidential ticket. Democratic Senator Byrd's failure to endorse Stevenson was given credit by county leaders for swaying a large number of votes to the Republican column.

THREE NEW BOARD MEMBERS—Their faces wreathed in victory smiles, this Arlington Independent Movement trio is shown last night at the Daily Sun office, standing by a blackboard on which election returns that spelled victory for them were recorded. Alvin F. Kimel, left, Mrs. Leone B. Buchholz and Dr. Robert H. Detwiler will take office on the Arlington County Board within a few days, replacing three members removed from office by a court ruling against federal employees serving in county and state offices in Virginia. PRESIDENT-ELECT EISENHOWER

City Charter For Arlington Soundly Beaten Arlington voters yesterday overwhelmingly defeated a proposal to change the county into a city. With a record 36,673 voters casting their ballots in the general elections in the county, 27,523 opposed Incorporation, while only 3,540 favored it. Voters followed the recommendation of their Citizens Study Commission on Local Government, appointed by the County Board which pointed out (hat as a city, Arlington would lose about $750,000 in state and federal road funds. The commission also said there are defects in the proposed Arlington City Charter, approved by the 1946 Virginia General Assembly. Under special legislation by the Virginia State Legislature, Arlington's county government already has many features of a city government. The Study Commission recommended several changes in the charter in recommending against incorporation at this time. While turning down the incorporation proposal, the Arlington voters decided to make three changes in their county government. They voted to give the county manager power to appoint department heads and to make his tenure indefinite. Previously the County Board appointed department heads and the county manager was hired by annual contract. The present contract of County Manager A. T. Lundberg expires December 31. The vote for indefinite tenure was 19,024 to an 11,069, while the change in appointment of department heads won by 18,597 to 11,162.

Establishment of a Department Of Real Estate Assessments was favored by Arlington voters 17,795 to 11,348. The County Board now may establish this department immediately by ordinance or resolution. It will relieve the commissioner of revenue of assessment duties.

Services Friday For Mrs. Jane G. Lane Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Gorham Lane, who died yesterday at Circle Terrace Hospital, will be held Friday at 2 p.m. from the Wheatley Funeral Home, with Dr. Cliff R. Johnson, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church officiating. The Martha Washington Chapter No. 42, Order of Eastern Star, f will hold services Thursday at S p.m. in the funeral home. Mrs. Lane, wife of the late Leslie G. Lane, resided at 3141 S. Stafford St., Arlington. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Harry W. Bendall of Falls Church, and Mrs. Helen Crowe of Lakewood, Ohio; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Stillwell of Alexandria and Mrs. Anna Weeks of Concord, Calif.; six grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

BULLETIN Three Negro prisoner* at the D. C. Workhouse »t Lorton in Fairfax County were killed this morning in a cavein in a gravel pit at the Workhouse. Donald R.

Clemmer, superintendent of the Workhouse, said a landslide in the pit engulfed the three men. Names of the victims have not yet been disclosed.

AB&W Line On Rush-Hour Service Only * The strike-bound A.B.&W. Transit Company today limited its operations to only rush-hour services while awaiting the arrival tomorrow of 45 State Highway Department employees ready to help man the bus fleet, Charles A. Ryburn, an investigator of the State Corporation Commission, the agency operating the lines since last Saturday, said today that the lines will be restored to about 45 per cent normal rushhour service by Monday. The new, drivers, after arriving tomorrow, will undergo a short orientation before moving into harness the first of next week. Meanwhile service has been limited to the following hours: 6 to 10 am. and 2 to 7 p.m., Monday through Saturday. There will be no evening service and no service at ail on Sundays. Ryburn said the move was necessary to best utilise the few drivers and supervisors now operating 50 of the fleet's 192 buses. The commission investigator said the curtailment would continue for the duration of the strike. The striking bus drivers and mecanics union and the A.B. & W. company today maintained their respective "stand pat" attitudes on demands and terms.

The company offer remains at 23-cent-per hour pay raise on a three year contract. The union is asking for 28 cents. The impasse, which climaxed in Governor Battle's seizure of the tines early Saturday morning, continues as the strike entered its fifth day today.

Nip, Tuck Struggle For Both Houses

Record Ballot Gives General Win In State By JOHN F. DAFFRON

RICHMOND, Vfl. <M—A record vote of at least 600,000 gave Gen. j Dwight D. Eisenhower a surprise lopsided victory in traditionally! Democratic Virginia yesterday. Three Republican candidates for Congress rode to victory on the steamroller that flattened the national Democratic ticket in the state for the first time since Herbert Hoover did it in 1928. The Democratic loser in the closest and last to be decided race in the new Northern Virginia lOtn district said he would contest the outcome. Sen. Harry F. Byrd, whose Democratic political organization was outwardly split on presidential preferences, declined to endorse the national party ticket. With all but 30 of the state's 1795 precincts reported, the count was: Eisenhower 345,425; Stevenson 268,461. Byrd had no major party opposition and easily won re-election to the Senate over two minor party candidates. Tn the Sixth. Republican Richard Poff unseated Rep. Clarence Burton (D) by some 2.500 votes. William Wampler, Republican, making his first try for public office, defeated State Sen. M.. M. Tong of Wise, for the House seat now' held by Rep. Thomas Fugate (D). In the 10th, Republican Joel T. Broyhill won a narrow victory over Democrat Edmund D. Campbell. Rep. J. Vaughan Gary (D) of the Third defeated Republican Walter Gambill. Rep. Burr P. Harrison of Winchester had no serious opposition from Republican Glenn Ruebush of Harrisonburg and won handily. So did Rep. Howard Smith of the Eighth. Four other Democratic Congressmen—E. J. Robeson Jr. of the First, Porter Hardy Jr. of the Second, Watkins M. Abbitt of the Fourth and Thomas B. Stanley of the Fifth—were re-elected without opposition. A constitutional amendment to permit Virginia to contribute to regional education projects jointly with other states was given better than two to one approval on the basis of returns from 1100 precincts. Similarly. State Senator A. E. S. Stephens of Isle of Wight won the race for lieutenant governor over independent Republican Robert Waitt Jr. of Richmond. Slightly more than two thirds of the state's polling places pave Stephens about 175,000 to Waitt's 89,500. In special elections held to fill vacancies in the legislature, John H, Temple. Petersburg Democrat, won a four-way race to succeed Benjamin L. Campbell in the senate from the Petersburg-Dinwid-die district. Lawrence H. Hoover, Democrat, defeated Republican Charles E. Earman Jr. for the Rockingham - Harrisonburg house scat left vacant early this year by the death of Delegate J. O. Stickley fD>. Papulous Arlington County, in the metropolitan Washington area of Northern Virginia, said pretty emphatically it didn't want to become a city. The vote on the idea was yes 3540, no 27,523.

r Landslide Vote Fails To Supply Safe Majority HELENA (UP)— Sen. Zales N. Ecton (R Mont.) conceded defeat to his Democratic opponent, Rep. Mike Mansfield, who was leading 102,520 to 96,611 at 12:30 p.m.,

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. smashed all voting records today as he won the presidency in a sprawling landslide that. left control of Congress teetering in the balance between Republicans and Democrats. Republicans had a slight edge in the struggle to organize the two houses and thus control their committees. But there was nothing of certainty in the outcome despite the general's more than 5,000,000 popular vote advantage over Stevenson. The fight was so close that the Senate might wind up Republican and the House Democratic, or vice versa. Or both houses could go to the Republicans or to the Democrats. Absentee ballots, or an independent vote, might settle the issue in either house. By JACK BELL Associated Press Staff Writer America thundered its liking for Ike today with a crashing avalanche of votes that gave Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower the presidency but fell short of guaranteeing him a Republican-controlled Congress. The general buried Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson under a landslide that ripped open the once-solid South and shattered the Democrats' 20-year hold on the White House. Stevenson lost his own state of Illinois and appeared likely to wind up with only nine Dixie and border states having a total of 89 electoral votes. Eisenhower had clinched or was leading in 39 states with 429 electoral votes, 163 more than the 266 needed for election. But while the voters liked Ike in emphatic terms, they were somewhat less certain it was "time for a change" in the Congress the Democrats have dominated for the last four years. Control of both the House and Senate remained in doubt. But the 62-year-old warriorstatesman had a personal mandate from the voters matching in volume that given Herbert Hoover, his last Republican predecessor in 1928. and rivalling some of those for Franklin D. Roosevelt. The informal Republican-South-ern Democrats coalition which has dictated Congressional action on legislation was strengthened by' the Eisenhower victory and the general could expect from it support for the program he laid out in his campaign "crusade." House control apparently hinged on the outcome in a half dozen or more districts created by reapportionment of voting strength. There was a distinct possibility that heavy absentee balloting might affect the outcome of the House control battle Winners in four races in Washington state, for instance, might be determined by absentee votes, of which there were an estimated 90,000. The Senate contest was Just as tight. Republicans had gained a net of one seat and needed to win four of nine undecided races to seat 48 Republicans in addition to Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who i turned independent and supported ' Stevenson.
