

950 MONTGOMERY WORKERS GET JOBS

22 C. W. A. Projects Show Demand for Skilled Laborers.

By a Staff Correspondent of The Star.
ROCKVILLE, Md., December 9.—With more than 850 men and women already at work on 22 Civil Works Administration projects in Montgomery County, plans were ready today for launching at least six more projects early next week, with others in view for the near future.

The new projects are widening and grading Cedar lane near New Cut road; construction of a stone base on the Seven Locks road; construction of a stone base on the Duesess road; extension of Perry street in Rockville from Jefferson street to Maryland avenue; construction of a stone base for De-Selum avenue at George street in Gaithersburg; and raising of the sidewalk at Frederick and Diamond avenues in Gaithersburg.

Other projects not yet announced are being studied by the State and County Civil Works Administrations. Twenty-eight projects have received the approval or tentative approval of the State organization. Mrs. Walter E. Perry of the county administration explained that by tentative approval was meant that the State body had authorized start of work after an incomplete study.

George W. Davis, manager of the United States Re-employment Service for Montgomery County, said today that the greatest effort is being made to get persons to work on all authorized C. W. A. projects in a minimum of time. Thursday's pay roll—the latest—indicated 850 jobs were filled on 18 projects. Since then four more projects have been started, but no census of the number employed will be available until next Thursday when the pay rolls will be submitted.

While most of the jobs call for laborers, there are a number of demands for skilled mechanics. Mr. Davis stated. The civil works office also is trying to create projects for persons in clerical and professional classes. A number of openings exist for men experienced in survey work and for men trained in construction and sanitary projects.

The re-employment service to date has registered approximately 2,100 unemployed or partly employed persons and is endeavoring to complete the registration of all the county's unemployed by December 15.

Interviewers from the re-employment office will receive applications next week at the following times and places:

Monday, 8 a.m. at the Bethesda County Building and 2 p.m. at Glen Echo.
Tuesday, 8 a.m. at the Silver Spring County Building and 2 p.m. at the Sandy Spring fire house.
Wednesday, 8 a.m. at the Fairlands Garage and 2 p.m. at the Gaithersburg fire house.
Thursday, 8 a.m. at Damascus, 1 p.m. at Germantown and 3 p.m. at Bowie.

The C. W. A. project giving work to the most people is the leveling, grading and general clean-up in progress of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission property in Rock Creek Valley. Here approximately 200 men have found employment. The Planning Commission's quota in Montgomery County is 227 men. Two days ago it put 25 men to work in the Hyattsville district of Prince Georges County doing similar work.

Other C. W. A. projects in Montgomery include the following: Repairs of storm damage to roads in Silver Spring, grading and renovating at practically all schools in the county, building a retaining wall along Conduit road in Glen Echo, laying a gravel driveway between Rockville and Patuxent, constructing a stone base on the Sycamore Landing road, work as clerical assistants in the Public Health Office, construction work on the Dawsonville-Poolesville road, remodeling the interior of the old court house, work as clerical assistants in the C. W. A. headquarters and in the Welfare Board offices throughout the county; copying of records in the court house looking to a study of the county's slum districts, repairing Rockville sidewalks, surfacing and grading Rockville streets, diet and sanitation work in the public schools, widening and grading the Goldsboro road, widening the Coleville-Layhill road, constructing a stone base on the Gaithersburg-Goesen road, widening New Cut road between Glen and Travilah, constructing a stone base on the Glen-Travilah road and widening and improving the Layhill-Brookville pike at Norbeck.

DYKES' HOME ROBBED BY HUNGRY BURGLAR

Chicago Ball Player Discovers Wife Bound, Gagged and Blind- folded.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, December 9.—A burglar who said he was "hungry" stole $4 from the home of Jimmy Dykes, third baseman on the Chicago White Sox, last midnight after binding, gagging and blind-folding Mrs. Dykes.

Dykes found his wife, Mary, still bound and gagged in the sun parlor on the second floor of the house in suburban Oakmont, when he came home 2 hours later. The robber had fled through a window.

"I was too frightened even to scream," she said. "I was on the third floor of the house packing Jimmy's bag—he's going to Chicago tonight—and I heard a noise on the second floor."

"I went downstairs, thinking it was Jimmy, and in the darkness the man grabbed me from behind in the second floor corridor."

"He held me with one hand while he got some clothes, stockings and other things from a basket in the corridor. He placed a gag in my mouth and used a sheet to blindfold me. Then he bound my wrists and ankles with stockings."

Through it all the three Dykes children—Jimmy, Jr., 11; Charles, 7, and Mary, 4—slept soundly. Mrs. Dykes, a terror, barged intermittently through the evening.

After binding Mrs. Dykes, the robber told her he was hungry and wanted her money.

ARLINGTON BOARD MEMBER RESIGNS

Christopher B. Garrett Is Named to Post by Judge McCarthy.

By a Staff Correspondent of The Star.
ARLINGTON COURT HOUSE, Va., December 9.—Fred A. Gosnell, only Republican member of the County Board, resigned tonight and Judge Walter T. McCarthy of Circuit Court immediately announced the appointment of Christopher B. Garrett, a Democrat and former State official, as his successor.

Gosnell's resignation came as a distinct surprise to all but a few personal friends who had been advised that his recent appointment to a position in the Department of Commerce made the continuance of his service on the board inadvisable.

Due to his wide experience in this work over a period of years prior to his resignation from a similar position a short time ago, Gosnell has been appointed chief statistician, Census of Distribution of the Department of Commerce.

Second to Resign.
His is the second resignation from the board since the new form of government took effect two years ago, the first being that of John C. Gail of Aurora Hills.

In announcing his resignation Gosnell issued the following statement: "Owing to the fact that I have accepted a Government position which will require all of my time and attention I cannot give the people of Arlington County the service on the board that is required. The installation of the sewerage system is going to require a great deal of time and thought and since I will not be in a position to do so I must give way to some one who can."

"I appreciate the opportunity that the people of Arlington County have given me to serve them. I also appreciate their loyal support and pledge myself to do all that is within my power for the betterment of the county and the interests of the people of the county."

Has Been Active Member.
During his membership on the board Gosnell has been one of the most active members and has been an ardent advocate of Arlington County's participation in the various administration recovery programs.

Gosnell's active participation in the fight to have Arlington County vote re-entry into the secondary system of highways is expected to be carried on by Garrett, who stated tonight that he voted against the county's withdrawal in the first place and has not changed his opinion that the roads can be better maintained by the State than the county.

A resident of Country Club Hills, Garrett will be an active representative of the same section served by Gosnell, although board members are elected at large.

Garrett, who is a member of the law firm of Barbour, Keith, McCandlish & Garnett of Fairfax and Washington, the same firm of which Secretary of State R. Walton Moore is a member when he is not holding public office, has a long record of public service in the State.

Was Assistant Attorney General.
From 1914 to 1916 he served as assistant attorney general under John Garland Pollard, who now is Governor, and while occupying this position was appointed chief counsel for the Tax Commission. From that position he was appointed to the chairmanship of the State Corporation Commission, in which position he served until 1918.

In that year he was made chairman of the Board of Contract Adjustment of the United States Army, with the rank of lieutenant colonel, where he remained until his resignation in 1919. At the present time he is a member of the Board of Visitors of the University of Virginia.

'KEEP PRISONER,' SAYS GOVERNOR TO JUDGE

Florida Executive Wires Rebuke to Jurist in Extradition Case.

By the Associated Press.
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., December 9.—The efforts of Judge Alfred O. Erickson of Chicago to prevent extradition of James A. Larue to Florida as an escaped convict drew from Gov. Dave Sholtz tonight a telegraphed message that "if you want to keep him . . . that's your privilege."

In a telegram to Judge Erickson, the Governor said the Florida prison "is filled with criminals from other States, and not Floridians," and he added: "If you have any Floridians in prison up there, I would be willing to trade you for them, giving four to one."

Larue, who escaped while serving a five-year sentence for robbery in Cook County charged at his extradition hearing before Judge Erickson that he was mistreated in Florida prison camps. The judge promised to "very break" in his effort to escape return to finish his sentence, of which he has served four months.

Gov. Sholtz's telegram to Judge Erickson, in part, follows: "The records show Larue is an habitual criminal, a man of many aliases who has been arrested for violation of the Dyer act (motor theft) from Ohio, and at the time of his arrest was wanted in Escanaba, Mich."

"I have no objection to his extradition because the Florida law requires it, and because I thought society at large should be protected against him. I shall make no further effort to have him returned here."

IRISH GOVERNMENT ACTS TO QUASH BLUE SHIRTS

Seize Commandant Cronin, Na- tional Secretary of Young Ireland Party.

By the Associated Press.
DUBLIN, Irish Free State, December 9.—The Free State government moved rapidly today to quash the outlawed blue shirt organization with the seizure of Comdt. Cronin, the national secretary of the Young Ireland party, and the closing of the party's headquarters.

Civic guards vied with the police and warned proprietors not to manufacture any more blue shirts—the distinguishing mark of thousands of followers of Gen. O'Duffy.

A similar warning was issued against presenting membership cards, receipt books and notices for the Young Ireland Association, the junior branch of the United Ireland party.

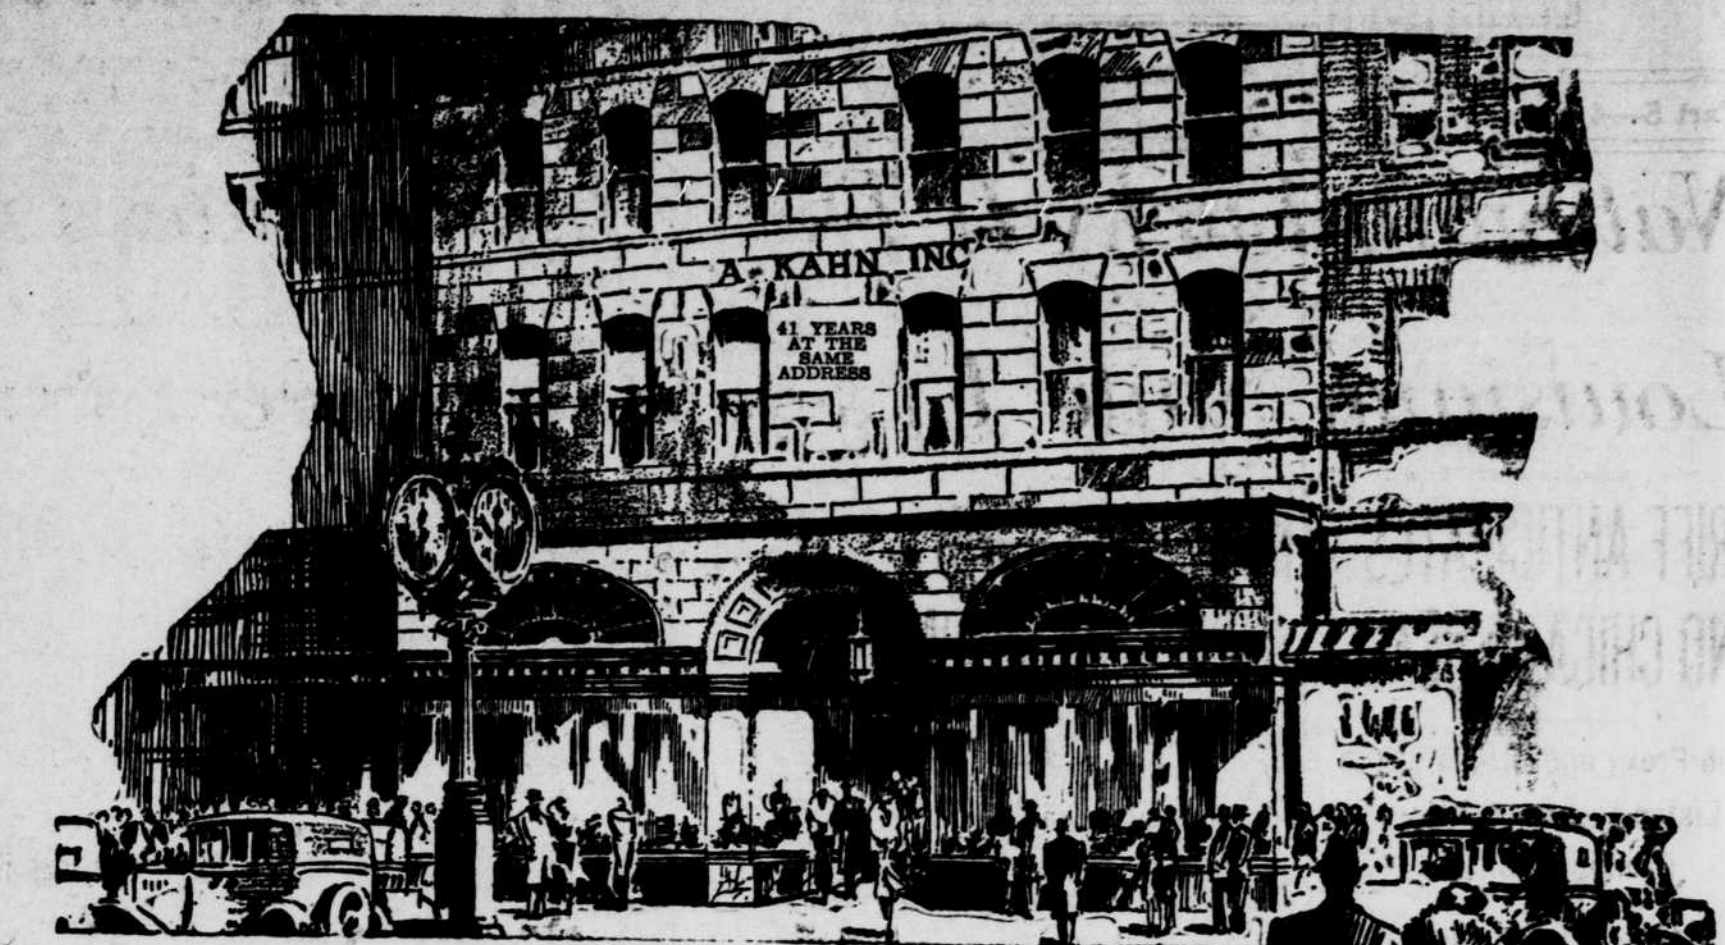

Leaders of the latter body, which opposes President Eamon de Valera, declared they would continue to defy the ban against blue shirts and maintained that such garments were not illegal.

Cronin was touring Donegal with Gen. O'Duffy when he was arrested in Bundoran and held for questioning pending instructions from Dublin.

Evades Jail by Castor Oil.

PHILADELPHIA (P).—Arrested for drunkenness, Albert Reynolds was given the choice of 10 days in jail or drinking lectures out of the purgative. He agreed. "You're a better man than I am," conceded Magistrate David A. Triester as he discharged the prisoner.
