SPLIT-TICKET VOTE IN PRINCE GEORGES AND MONTGOMERY LEAVES ELECTIONS IN DOUBT WITH INCOMPLETE RETURNS

One Republican Delegate Seems Assured in Montgomery.

HALF OF VOTE IS IN

Democratic Victory Indicated by but Very Slim Margin.

Election returns from 15 of Montgomery County's 24 precincts early this afternoon pointed to a Democratic victory by an exertmely slim margin.

All morning the result of the election hung in doubt, with the tide of victory seemingly going first to the Democrats, then to the Republicans and at last, back again to the Democrats, where political sharps figured it would stay.

Democrats Take Lead.

Figures from the 15 reported precincts gave an average Democratic majority of about 120 votes. The precincts yet to be heard from are Clarkesburg, the two Rockville precincts, Colesville, Bethesda, Chevy Chase, Barnesville, the first Wheaton precinct, and the sixth Wheaton precinct.

Figures of Democratic politicians give the Republicans 150 majority in both the sixth Wheaton precinct, which includes a portion of Takoma Park, and in Rockville. As against this they say that Clarksburg will give a Democratic majority of 100, Colesville 300, Barnesville 25 and first Wheaton 25, with Bethesda and Chevy Chase a stand-off.

The State ticket, led by Gov. Ritchie, was running almost 100 votes behind the Montgomery County candidates. Gov. Ritchie himself was leading Mayor William F. Broening, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, by only 27 votes in the county.

Lewis Running Ahead.

David J. Lewis, Democratic candidate for the House of Representatives in the sixth Maryland congressional district, was running ahead of Representative Frederick N. Zihlman, the Republican incumbent, by 551 votes, and Judge John S. Newman of the sixth judicial circuit, who is a candidate to succeed himself, was 497 votes ahead of Arthur D. Willard, his Republican opponent.

One Republican candidate seemed sure this afternoon of election. He is Walter H. Dawson, 29-year-old Rockville lawyer, who is running for the House of Delegates. Not only was he leading his ticket, but he was the high man of the 10 candidates for the Lower Legislative House, with 4,675 votes. George L. Edmunds, Democrat, came next with 4,661; Miss Lavinia Engle, third, with 4,648; Marvin Farrington, fourth, with 4,569, and Odorion W. Robey, fifth, with 4,559 votes. The five legislative candidates receiving the highest totals automatically go into office.

Judge John S. Newman of the sixth judicial circuit, who is seeking election, was 117 votes ahead of Arthur D. Willard, his Republican opponent.

Not since 1919, when the present Democratic County administration first was placed in power by the voters, has it had such a fight on its hands. The campaign has been made in an attack on one man by the Republicans and their progressive Democratic allies. Maj. E. Brooke Lee, county administration leader and chairman of the Maryland Democratic Campaign Advisory Committee, has been the almost sole object of their thrusts, and today's results can be taken as indicative of his hold and the hold of the organization which he leads on Montgomery County.

Walter W. Dawson, Republican candidate for the House of Delegates, appeared to have a better chance of election than any of his running mates. The eight precincts, the returns of which were tabulated this morning, showed him leading all other candidates for the Lower Legislative House with 2,257 votes, as against 2,252 for George L. Edmunds, his nearest Democratic opponent.

State's Attorney Battle.

One of the hardest fought battles for county office, that for State's attorney, was resulting in a slight lead for the Democratic candidate, Stedman Prescott, over his Republican opponent, F. Barnard Welsh, while the struggle for county commissioner from the fourth district, a closely contested section, was going to Frank H. Karn, Republican, by a small majority.

Only such Democratic candidates as Lacy Shaw for county commissioner from the fifth district, and Preston B. Ray for clerk of the Circuit Court, whose personal following is large, seemed sure of election.

The entire Democratic State ticket was running behind the Republicans, and it appeared likely late this morning that they would lose Montgomery County. The contest for Montgomery County's seat in the State Senate, always a center of much interest, was going in favor of Robert G. Hilton, a Democrat, by only 21 votes. Thomas M. Anderson, Republican candidate for the Senate, is but 28 years old, the youngest man on the ticket. Walter W. Dawson, who seems to be making the strongest Republican fight in the county, is but a year older.

Judge of Election Dies While Seated In Polling Place

Special Dispatch to The Star.

WELLINGTON, Va., November 5.—William Peyton Larkin, prominent farmer of Prince William County, died here yesterday while sitting in the polling place where he was one of the judges of election. Mr. Larkin had not felt well for several days, but arose at his usual hour on Tuesday morning and went to the polls, where he was stricken with a heart attack while talking with the other election officials and died instantly.

Mr. Larkin was a brother of James R. Larkin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, who died in Manassas on October 17, and had been prominent in county activities for many years. He was born in Lynchburg, Va., on February 21, 1869, and had been a resident of this county since 1890.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Lucy Adams Larkin; two sons, Peyton of Manassas and Lucien of Wellington; five daughters, Mrs. W. S. Brower (Elizabeth) of Catharpin, Mrs. Paul Bieber (Lucy) of Washington, D. C.; Misses Natalie, Lucretia and Maud of Wellington; a brother, Norvel Larkin, Manassas, and two sisters, Mrs. C. M. Larkin and Mrs. J. T. Ashford, Manassas.

Funeral rites will be conducted at Trinity Episcopal Church, Manassas, on Thursday, November 6, at 3 p.m., with Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, rector, officiating. Burial will be in the Manassas Cemetery.

Early G. O. P. Trend in Prince Georges Changes in Late Returns.

12 PRECINCTS REPORT

Results in Many Cases Leave Issue in Doubt.

A strong Republican trend evident in the early returns in Prince Georges County was counteracted as the later districts sent in their results, leaving the issue in many cases still in doubt.

Republican leads in the race for county commissionership and the House of Delegates were cut down and it was doubtful which party would control those bodies. Election to those positions is often decided by a handful of votes in the county.

The race for judge of the Orphans' Court also was a neck-and-neck affair. Representative Stephen W. Gambrill, Democratic candidate for re-election to Congress, was running well ahead of A. Kingsley Love, Republican.

The Democratic State ticket, headed by Gov. Ritchie, also kept ahead.

The election of W. Curtis Hopkins, Republican candidate for sheriff, appeared assured, he being ahead of James W. Rogers, Democratic opponent, in practically all of the districts heard from, including such Democratic strongholds as the first precinct of Hyattsville.

Register Ahead.

William T. Davis, Republican register of wills, who is running for re-election, was leading the county ticket.

State Senator Lansdale G. Sasscer, Democrat, who also is running for re-election, appeared certain of victory, having a comfortable margin over William R. Smallwood, Republican, even in the Republican districts heard from.

Summerfield D. Hall, Democrat, seeking re-election as clerk of the Circuit Court, also appeared a sure winner, having a lead over John H. Fetty, Republican mayor of Laurel, in seven of the eight districts reported.

Alan Bowie, Democratic candidate for State's attorney, was a few votes behind Albert R. Hassell, Republican, in the early returns.

Brice Bowie, Democrat, and William A. Duval, Republican, were staging a neck and neck race with Bowie having a slight advantage for county treasurer.

Republicans appear to have a majority of the seats on the Board of County Commissioners and in the House of Delegates.

Commissioner Vote.

The total county commissioner vote from the first 8 precincts reporting this morning gave the following:

O. W. Phair, Democrat, 1,984.
Frank Small, jr., Republican, 1,865.
George N. Bowen, Republican, 1,884.
Walter M. Grimes, Democrat, 1,803.
Robert E. Brown, Democrat, 1,789.
Francis H. Crown, Democrat, 1,534.
William H. Duvall, Republican, 1,724.
Charles A. Ryon, Republican, 1,736.
Mrs. Mary W. Browning, Democrat, 1,555.
William A. Middleton, Republican, 1,638.

The precincts upon which these totals were based were Zansville, Marlboro, second precincts; Spaldings, first precinct; Laurel, third precinct; Hyattsville, and Lanham and Aquasco.

EIGHTH DISTRICT IS WON BY SMITH BY VOTE OF 4 TO 1

Alexandria Congressional Candidate Heads All of Democratic Ticket.

GLASS ALSO EASY VICTOR, BUT FALLS BEHIND JUDGE

Latter Carries Home Town by 10 to 1 and Runs Ahead in All Precincts.

By a Staff Correspondent of The Star.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., November 5.—Sweeping each of the 10 counties and Alexandria City, Judge Howard W. Smith, Democrat, of this city, was yesterday elected to the House of Representatives from the eighth congressional district over Dr. F. M. Brooks, Republican, of Fairfax County, and John M. Daniel, independent, of Stafford County. Judge Smith's total vote was more than four times that of the two other candidates, and marked the complete return to the normal Democratic sway in this district which was upset when the State and this section went Republican in the 1928 election.

Glass Easy Victor.

Senator Carter Glass, incumbent, of Lynchburg, Va., also easily carried the district, but his majority over J. Cloyd Byars, independent, of Arlington County, and Joe C. Morgan, Socialist, of Fairfax County, was not as great as that of Smith. Glass' total was about three times that of the other two candidates.

Judge Smith succeeds the veteran Representative R. Walton Moore of Fairfax County, who was not a candidate for re-election at this time. While his victory in the general election was comparatively easy and was never in doubt, he had to survive a hot five-cornered fight in the party for the nomination when the primary was held in August.

The completeness of Judge Smith's victory is seen in the fact that he carried Arlington County, normally Republican, by a majority of almost 4-to-1, polling 2,282 votes to 636 for Dr. Brooks. Smith also easily carried Fairfax County, home of the Republican candidate, getting 1,742 votes in that section to 852 for Dr. Brooks.

10 to 1 in Alexandria.

This city, home of the candidate, gave him a majority of almost 10 to 1, with Smith getting 2,021 votes to 222 for Brooks and 15 for Daniel. Smith's home precinct, the fifth, here gave him 401 votes out of 440 counted after 10 had been thrown out as incorrectly marked.

Election Day Rainy.

Election day was marked by inclement weather, which held down the vote in outlying districts. The vote here, however, was 2,299, which was slightly greater than expected, many braving the rain and wind to cast a complimentary vote for their fellow-townsman Judge Smith. Arlington County cast a heavy vote, but this was largely due to the county change of government issue which brought the voters to the polls.

Fauquier County went almost 10 to 1 for Judge Smith, the winning candidate getting 1,030 votes to 105 for Dr. Brooks. Prince William County gave Smith 917 and Brooks 91, while Loudoun County totals showed Smith with 1,137 and Brooks with 261. Culpeper County totals were: Smith, 527; Brooks, 130.

The fact that Glass fell considerably behind his fellow Democratic candidate is attributed to the fact that both Byars and Morgan, who opposed him, are residents of this district. Quite a number, however, cast "plunker" votes for Smith, scratching the entire portion of the ticket dealing with the senatorial election.

Two hours after the polls closed, at 5:05 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Dr. Brooks called Judge Smith on the telephone and congratulated him on his victory. Smith remained at his office here until late last night, compiling the vote from the various sections of the district and receiving many congratulations from his friends.

ARLINGTON VOTES FOR MANAGER RULE IN COUNTY OFFICES

Approves Change in Form of Government, but Two Precincts Registering No.

BOARD IS TO BE CHOSEN AT LARGE IN DISTRICT

Electorate Decides in Favor of New Management by 2 to 1—Provisions of Act.

BY LESTER N. INSKEEP,
Staff Correspondent of The Star.

ARLINGTON COUNTY COURT HOUSE, Va., November 5.—With but two of the 11 precincts in the county voting "no," Arlington County voters yesterday elected to do away with the present form of government, consisting of a board of supervisors of three members, and adopt the more modern county manager form, with a commission of five members elected at large.

By this action Arlington County takes the lead in a general tendency in the State toward more modern forms of government, being the first county in the State to take advantage of this privilege which was given all of the counties by the new Constitution.

Vote 2 to 1 for Change.

The vote for a change was double that of the vote for a retention of the present form, but the vote for the county manager form over the commission, or modified form, the other alternative, was nearly five to one.

One of the bitterest fights of the campaign was centered about the abolition of the magisterial districts and the election of the members of the new commission at large, the members of the present board of county supervisors, Capt. Crandal Mackay, Clarence R. Ahalt and other prominent men in the county opposing such action on the grounds that it was a severe blow to the Democratic form of government. This fight also was lost by the opponents, although they were successful in four of the precincts, namely—Arlington, Ballston, Cherrydale and Virginia Highlands, the first two being in Arlington district, the third in Washington district and the fourth in Jefferson district.

Under the new form of government all of the administrative affairs of the county are to be carried out by a county manager who will be selected by and operate under the commission of five members to be elected at large. The salary of the county manager will be set by the new board. The salaries of the five members of the board are set at $600 yearly each, as against the $1,200 each that is being paid the members of the present board.

Manager to Make Appointments.

All administrative officers and employes of the county are to be appointed by the county manager except heads of departments, named by the board, and officers whose election at the polls is now required by law. The board may tell the county manager what it wants done but may not interfere with his methods of accomplishment as long as they meet with the legal requirements.

It will be the duty of the county manager to prepare the budget, which is required under the act under which the change was made. The budget becomes effective upon approval of the board or without that approval if it is not acted upon within two months after submission by the county manager.

The outstanding results of the change, in the opinion of its sponsors, are the putting of the county on a business basis, the county manager plan being patterned after the administration of successful business houses; the financial reform, including the budget and the report to be filed by the county manager setting up in detail the expenditures for each item of public work in the county; the fact that the election at large of commissioners gives each individual taxpayer five representatives instead of one as at present, it being claimed that abolition of the magisterial districts unifies the county with respect to future development.

Members of the new commission will be elected at the general county elections next year and will take office on January 1, 1932. At this same election a judge for a county court, as provided by another special act of the General Assembly, will also be selected.

Robert N. Anderson, chairman of the special committee of the Arlington County Civic Federation in charge of the campaign, today issued a statement, expressing appreciation for the support received.

Smith Leads Ticket.

The greatest number of votes given any one candidate in Arlington County were received by Judge Smith, he having received a total of 2,282. Other totals are: Glass, 1,948; Byars, 836; Morgan, 181; Brooks, 636; Daniels, 104.

The following is a tabulation of the vote in Arlington County by precincts:

Arlington—Glass, 199; Byars, 160; Morgan, 36; Smith, 315; Brooks, 73; Daniels, 11.

Ballston—Glass, 212; Byars, 98; Morgan, 24; Smith, 253; Brooks, 81; Daniels, 11.

Teacher Escapes Death as Hunter's Bullet Hits Nose

Special Dispatch to The Star.

JANE LEW, W. Va., November 5.—A hunter's bullet pierced the nose of Miss Jennie Walters, 21, school teacher at the Grass Run School, as she was walking along a path while on her way to school. Should she have taken another step before the crack of the gun she would have been fatally injured, it is believed. She told the officers who made the investigation that the man, whose name she did not learn, was not responsible for the affair, as he did not see her until he heard her screams.

A year ago Miss Walters suffered a broken nose when the car in which she was riding to her school was wrecked. She is a daughter of Jack Walters of Glenville.

DEMOCRATS TAKE STATE ASSEMBLY

Majorities as Heavy as in 1929 Session Forecast by Returns.

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, November 5.—Returns from nearly half the State's polling places indicated today that the Democrats would control the next General Assembly, which convenes in January, with majorities at least as heavy as in the 1929 session.

Most of the counties where fights for control of delegation were hottest were included in the early returns, and few overturns were looked for from those late to count the remaining ballots.

With most of the vote in in Baltimore City County, indications were that Democratic representation in the city delegation of 32 out of 36 would be maintained. Five of the six State Senators appeared safe for the Democrats, as two years ago.

The Democratic city Senators with apparently safe leads were John E. Bouse, incumbent; George Arnold Frick, Benjamin H. McKindless, Thurman C. Atkinson and James T. Kennedy.

The last ballots to be counted were expected to settle the close contest in the fourth senatorial district between E. Milton Altfeld, Democrat, and Paul Berman, Republican.

In Baltimore County, David G. McIntosh, jr., Democratic candidate for re-election to the Senate, was 707 votes ahead of J. Purdon Wright, Republican, with 35 of the 112 polling places reporting.

RAIN CURTAILS VOTE IN PRINCE WILLIAM

Democrats Are Returned Winners by Substantial Majorities in County.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

MANASSAS, Va., November 5.—Efforts of the political leaders of Prince William County to get out a large vote were balked to a large extent by a constant downpour, the first steady rain in this section since June, and something like 300 voters less than went to the polls in the primary rolled up a majority for the Democratic candidates. The total vote cast was 1,029 as compared with 1,325 last August, and 2,450 in the presidential election.

The vote by precinct was as follows:

Manassas—For United States Senator, Carter Glass, 232; Byars, 31; Morgan, 6. For House of Representatives, Howard W. Smith, Democrat, 249; Dr. F. M. Brooks, Republican, 44. Aden—Glass, 19; Claude M. Byars, 7; Smith, 20; Brooks, 8. Brentsville—Glass, 33; Byars, 7; Smith, 47; Brooks, 5.

Nokesville—Glass, 102; Byars, none; Smith, 127; Brooks, 5. Greenwich—Glass, 26; Byars, 5; Smith, 31; Brooks, 3. Catharpin—Glass, 30; Byars, 1; Smith, 30; Brooks, 1. Waterfall—Glass, 12; Byars, none; Smith, 12; Brooks, 1.

BALTIMORE AGAINST DAYLIGHT SAVING

Votes 72,622 to 45,107 Against Proposal to Set Clocks Ahead.

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, November 5.—Sentiment as expressed in yesterday's election in Baltimore City was heavily against a proposal to put the city government formally on daylight-saving time.

Returns from 465 out of 672 precincts gave 72,622 votes in opposition to the amendment and 45,107 for it.

The city last year unofficially was on daylight-saving time from April to October, setting the clocks up one hour during this period. The amendment got on the ballot only after a contest over its legality.

ALEXANDRIA WATER CHARGE INCREASES FILED IN RICHMOND

Commerce Chamber Studying Justification for New Schedules.

SOME RATES 40 PER CENT HIGHER THAN AT PRESENT

Fight by Trade Body Indicated if Survey Shows They Are Not Warranted.

BY HOWARD M. BAGGETT,
Staff Correspondent of The Star.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., November 5.—A schedule of proposed increases in water rates here has been filed by the Alexandria Water Co. with the State Corporation Commission at Richmond. If the increased rates are allowed and no protest is made to the commission they will become effective February 1, 1931. A complete survey of the justification for the rate increases is now being made by the local Chamber of Commerce and that organization has announced that it will fight the increases if the survey shows they are not justified.

No definite stand has been taken by City Council in connection with the matter, although reports were published some time ago that the Water Co. was to seek the rate increases. Vice Mayor Edmund F. Ticer, however, stated yesterday that he expected the council to take steps to resist the increases.

Increase About 40 Per Cent.

The proposed increase it has been estimated will amount to $78,000 annually, with meter rate increases about 40 per cent and the increase in the minimum flat rate almost the same percentage. The present minimum flat rate charge is $12, while the new schedule calls for a rate of $16.80 for that service.

When the matter of the rate increases was proposed some weeks ago the Water Co. presented three proposals whereby it would receive additional income. It asked City Council to pay for water used in fighting fires, which is now furnished free under the franchise the company holds, provided additional measures to insure proper water pressure for fire fighting were provided, with no increase in rates to consumers; the installation of the above cited additions to the system, with the consumers bearing the rate increases, or no additions to the water system with smaller increases in general consumers' rates.

City council at that time intimated that it would not entertain the proposal that the city pay for water used in firefighting, as the company was required to furnish this free of charge by the franchise it held from the city. The increases now asked therefore are taken as the additional income the company wishes from consumers without any plans for furnishing additional water for fire protection.

Rates to Be Compared.

The Chamber of Commerce survey, which has been under way for the past few weeks, is said by members engaged in the work to go into every phase of whether any rate increases are justified. A comparison of a large number of cities, both of Virginia and other States, is being made by the committee, and an attempt is being made at a valuation of the water company.

Pyramiding of capital investment by the purchase of local public service companies at fancy prices by large corporations has been cited by Vice Mayor Ticer in connection with the increases in rates asked by the Alexandria Water Co., which was purchased about 16 months ago by the American Waterworks & Electric Co. of New York. Ticer claims that the company is now seeking to earn a return on the basis of the price of $302 per share which was paid for it and not on the basis of true valuation and costs of furnishing water.

Must Be Advertised.

The new rates will have to be advertised four consecutive weeks prior to the effective date, and if any protest is made the case is set down for a hearing by the commission and all parties interested given an opportunity to present their side of the question.

The new rate schedule fixes a minimum charge of $16.80 per year for all private dwellings, stores, offices and other buildings having one water fixture only and not threaded for hose connections. This rate would be effective pending the installation of meters. Charges for additional fixtures would be as follows: Each water closet, $5.60 per annum; each bath tub, $5.60 per annum; each set laundry tub, $3.50 per annum; for each set wash basin, $2.10 per annum, and for each hose connection, $4.20 per annum.

The schedule provides a ready-to-serve charge and meter rates where water is supplied by meter measurements for reasonably continuous use, for which each customer shall be required to pay. Ready-to-serve charges run from $4.20 per year or 35 cents per month for a ⅝-inch meter to $50.40 per year or $4.20 per month for a 6-inch meter.

Minimum Charge Fixed.

In addition to the ready-to-serve charge the minimum charge for water service is set by the schedule at $1.40 per month by meter measurement, with which the consumer would be entitled to 3,333⅓ gallons of water during the month. For the first 10,000 gallons per month or part thereof the schedule sets the rate at 42 cents per 1,000 gallons; for the next 10,000 gallons, 35 cents per 1,000; next 20,000 gallons, 28 cents per 1,000; for the next 40,000 gallons, 21 cents per 1,000; for the next 80,000 gallons, 17 cents per 1,000; for the next 160,000 gallons, 14 cents per 1,000, and all over 320,000 gallons per month at 11 cents per 1,000 gallons.

FAIRFAX COUNTY RETURNS TO FOLD

Votes Democratic Again After Absence From Party for Two Years.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

FAIRFAX, Va., November 5.—Fairfax County, the prodigal son of Northern Virginia, yesterday returned to the arms of democracy after an absence of two years. Although the vote was light, not equaling that cast in the Democratic primary in August, the county returned a majority of approximately 900 for both Carter Glass and Judge Smith. Twenty-three out of 25 precincts gave 1,626 votes for Glass, 585 for Byars, 114 for Morgan, contenders for the Senate seat; 1,742 votes for Smith, 852 for Dr. Brooks and 14 for John Daniel, for the House of Representatives. The 699 votes for Byars and Morgan were interpreted not so much as votes for the men themselves, who are not well known in the county, although Morgan lives at Accotink, as a gesture of protest against Glass.

The small vote was attributed partly to the weather, but more largely to the general apathy which has prevailed since the bitterly fought August primary. It had been generally conceded that Smith would carry the district, but Republicans in Fairfax County, with their eyes on the effect of this vote on next year's local elections, made a determined effort to poll a large vote here.

Vote by Precincts.

The vote by precincts follows:

Falls Church district: Falls Church precinct—Glass, 173; Byars, 72; Morgan, 11; Smith, 165; Brooks, 99; Daniel, 3. Annandale precinct—Glass, 56; Byars, 18; Morgan, 7; Smith, 59; Brooks, 24. West End precinct—Glass, 50; Byars, 8; Smith, 53; Brooks, 13.

Providence district: Fairfax precinct—Glass, 199; Byars, 61; Morgan, 7; Smith, 190; Brooks, 102; Walton Moore, 1. Vienna precinct—Glass, 119; Byars, 135; Morgan, 12; Smith, 136; Brooks, 148. Langley precinct—Glass, 193; Byars, 81; Morgan, 9; Smith, 215; Brooks, 73; Daniel, 2. Lick precinct—Glass, 53; Byars, 26; Morgan, 3; Smith, 56; Brooks, 29.

Dranesville district: Forestville precinct—Glass, 61; Byars, 33; Morgan, 6; Smith, 72; Brooks, 29; Daniel, 1. Herndon precinct—Glass, 149; Byars, 64; Smith, 175; Brooks, 50. Town Votes Bond Issue.

The town of Fairfax voted a bond issue not to exceed $50,000 to install a municipal water system, by a vote of 137 to 33. The mayor will call a special meeting of the town council to decide whether to ask for bids on the plans prepared last year by an engineering company of Atlanta, Ga., with the additions to the system included in the bond issue petition, or to have the county engineer, F. N. Larking, draw up a new set of plans and specifications on which to ask for bids. Work will be pushed as fast as possible to meet the existing emergency.

CONSTITUTION VOTE REMAINS IN DOUBT

Returns From Maryland Counties Indicate Opposition to Calling Convention.

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, November 5.—The fate of the Constitutional amendment authorizing a change in the State treasurer's functions and the referendum on calling a constitutional convention, voted on in yesterday's Maryland election, remained in doubt today as adverse returns trickled in from the counties.

A considerable lead for both proposals was piled up in the city, but almost without exception the returns from counties showed opposition sentiment.

With 465 polling places out of 672 reporting in the city, the vote for the treasury amendment stood 52,542 favorable and 26,183 in opposition; for the constitutional convention 51,357, against 26,261.

The city voted approximately 6 to 1 in favor of construction projects involving a total expenditure of $16,000,000.

The projects are $10,000 for port development; $2,500,000 for completion of the municipal airports; $2,000,000 for paving and grade crossing elimination, and $1,500,000 for additional school facilities for crippled and handicapped children.

WARDMAN HEARING POSTPONED TODAY

Testimony to Be Received Next Wednesday—Stockholders' Meeting Is Put Off.

By a Staff Correspondent of The Star.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., November 5.—Failure of auditors employed by both sides to complete the audit of the books of the Wardman Mortgage & Discount Corporation in time for hearing of additional testimony scheduled for today in Corporation Court before Judge William P. Wools, caused postponement of the case until next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

The meeting of the stockholders of the corporation, which was set for next Wednesday at noon, following postponement from October 20, has again been postponed by agreement between Attorney Harry F. Kennedy for the plaintiffs and Gardner L. Boothe, statutory agent for the corporation. No definite date for this meeting has been set.

The appointment of a receiver for the corporation and a court injunction restraining the meeting of the stockholders are the points at issue.

JAILED ON CHECK CHARGE

Cherrydale Man Given Six Months by Alexandria Court.

By a Staff Correspondent of The Star.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., November 5.—Aaron J. Payne, 35, of 86 Preston avenue, Cherrydale, Va., was sentenced to six months in jail by Judge William S. Snow in Police Court today on a charge of passing worthless checks here.

Payne was arrested Monday by Motorcycle Patrolman Snoots, following a chase through several miles of the city. He was trailed, police say, through the numbers of his automobile, obtained when he is alleged to have passed the checks several days ago.

QUAIL HUNTER KILLS COMPANION IN BRUSH

Charles Van Sickle of Summerfield, Md., Accidental Victim of Friend's Gun.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

GRANTSVILLE, Md., November 5.—Charles Van Sickle, 43, of Somerfield, on the National Highway, about 15 miles above Grantsville, was accidentally killed yesterday when shot by Monroe W. Kreger, one of the best known men of Uniontown, Pa.

The two were hunting quail in the rear of the Van Sickle home. Van Sickle was hidden from view and when one of the birds flew up to a height of several feet, Kreger fired. The body of Van Sickle fell in the underbrush. He died about 10 minutes later in the Van Sickle home.

MONTGOMERY TEACHERS TAKE SCHOOL CENSUS

Children Up to 19 Years Old Being Enumerated in County—Required by Educational Regulations.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

ROCKVILLE, Md., November 5.—As required by a State educational regulation every two years, the public school teachers of Montgomery County are engaged in taking a census of all children in the county up to and including those of 19 years of age, the white teachers doing the work among the white children and the colored teachers doing the work among the colored children.

The information is used for a number of purposes. Part of the State public school funds is distributed among the various counties according to the number of children reported; it aids the county board of education in planning school facilities for the future; it enables the teachers to have information about the children and their environments, which is helpful in the class rooms, and it brings about a better understanding between the schools and their respective communities.

The work, which is being done under the direction of Edwin W. Broome, county superintendent of schools, started on Monday and must be completed by the end of next week.

Kingsford-Smith Honored.

CANBERRA, Australia, November 5 (AP).—The defense ministry announced today that the title of honorary air commodore had been conferred on Wing Comdr. Charles Kingsford-Smith, long-distance aviator who recently flew from England to Australia in less than 10 days.

MRS. CRISWELL DEAD

Special Dispatch to The Star.

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., November 5.—Mrs. Eliza Virginia Criswell, 77, widow of John R. Criswell, a member of one of this county's oldest and best known families, died at her home near North Mountain Tuesday after a week's illness.

She was born in the Spring Mills section of the county, a Miss Ellis before marriage. She had successfully managed the family farm interests since the death of her husband 22 years ago. Surviving are an older brother, George D. Ellis, North Mountain, and two daughters, the Misses Mary and Elizabeth Criswell, at home. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at the home.

DEATH TRAP CLAIM FOR DAMAGE MADE

Motorist in Accident at Four Mile Run Tries to Collect at Alexandria.

By a Staff Correspondent of The Star.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., November 5.—The first known attempt to claim damages following an accident at the Four-Mile Run "death trap" on the Alexandria-Washington Highway, just north of the city line, was made here yesterday, when George Keeser of Jersey City, N. J., who claims to have had $100 damage done to his auto when he hit the barricade last Saturday night, called on City Manager Wallace Lawrence with regard to the matter.

Keeser said that he had already been to State authorities at Richmond, and that their attitude had been that they were sorry, but that nothing could be done about the matter by them.

City Manager Lawrence told Keeser that as the barricade was in Arlington County and on a State highway, the accident did not happen in the city and no consideration could be given his claim here. Lawrence referred the man back to the State Highway Department.

Workmen today started the construction of the extended barricade, as proposed by J. C. Albright, district engineer of the State Highway Department, following a conference between local and Arlington County officials and the engineer Monday afternoon. A "narrow-bridge" sign has already been placed to the north of the barricade.

83-YEAR-OLD MAN GETS ANNUAL HUNT LICENSE

Samuel D. Barnes Believed to Be Oldest Hunter in Allegany, Uses Muzzle Loader

Special Dispatch to The Star.

CUMBERLAND, Md., November 5.—Samuel D. Barnes, 83, farmer of Little Orleans, this county, the noted deer hunter of Green Ridge, obtained his annual hunting license yesterday. He has been a hunter for 70 years.

He told County Clerk Lloyd L. Shaffer he expected to get his deer as usual this season and a few wild turkeys besides. He said he was going out with a party of younger men and he knew where the "deer crossings" were.

He has a famous muzzle-loader for small game and also a modern rifle. He is thought to be the oldest hunter in Allegany County. He recalls when game was so plentiful in his mountain haunts, then reached by trails, that it was literally a sportsman's paradise.

COLLEGE GIVES VERSES TO POLLARD UNDER CUSTOM DATING TO 1693

William and Mary Presents Poem in Original Latin, in Accordance With Royal Charter.

By the Associated Press.

RICHMOND, Va., November 5.—An ancient custom was revived today when the College of William and Mary presented copies of original Latin verses to the Governor of Virginia.

The ceremony took place in accordance with article 17 of the royal charter granted by King William and Queen Mary to the college on May 8, 1693. The article provides that the college for rights granted shall deliver "on every fifth day of November two copies of Latin verses yearly, at the house of our Governor, or Lieutenant Governor, of Virginia, for the time being, forever in full discharge, acquittance and satisfaction of all quitrents, services customs, dues and burdens whatsoever, due or to be due to us, or our successors, for the said 20,000 acres of land, by the laws or customs of England or Virgina."

The presentation was made to Gov. Pollard, who, while serving as Governor of the State, is on leave of absence from his position as dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship at the College of William and Mary. The ceremonies were held in the House of Delegates Hall of the Capitol.

The poem presented to Gov. Pollard today was composed by Prof. E. M. Counsell, a member of the faculty of the Department of Ancient Languages, of which Dr. Wagener is head, during the session 1929-1930. Prof. Counsell now is pursuing study in McGill University, Montreal. It was written in the meter known as the Elegiac Districh and the theme was treated in the Ovidian style. The meter was the same as that used in the poems presented to Gov. Dunmore in 1772 and 1773. Prof. Counsell was graduated at Oxford. He is an Englishman.

The translation of the poem follows:

Presented and dedicated to the Right Honorable John Garland Pollard, Governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia, by the president, faculty and students of the College of King and Queen William and Mary in Virginia, in accordance with the provisions of the ancient charter of the college, November 5, 1930.

Oh happy Virginia, which has deigned to intrust thy safety to such a man. No royal office, no fierce greed for power entices him from the love he bears his dear native land. In truth, he is a citizen and as a citizen he governs with impartial yoke. To his fellow citizens he administers justice with upright lips. A second Tully is here; like him versed in the law. To him also dost thou look as thy protector, dear mother state. But do you, our guardian, follow the illustrious example of an older age. May you, too, be "father of your country."

Let not, however, these achievements, though great, content you. Pursue a farther goal and strive to excel the glory of men of old. Under your leadership may the golden age return to your people. May the virtue and the righteousness of the father soon return. May peace and justice again walk in a happy land and may the temples of war keep their gates fast closed. He who guided the ship of state through dark waves to the longed-for shore has himself given into your hands the helm. May He point the course to you. May He teach the winds which threaten; where rocks lie hid; what dangers of the sea there are.

May heaven protect you and with favoring breezes bring you back again to the halls of learning and the aeonian grove. For the band of scholars and of the Muses is sad, seized with longing for your return.

What gifts were given under a King to their Governors by our fathers; the same now are given, honorable sir, to you. Yet, as no servile race, but as one which knows not how to endure a foreign yoke, do we renew this practice of our forefathers. Receive then these tokens of our love, however small they are, and do not scorn the zeal of your people.

WASHINGTON AS MASON BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

Fredericksburg Lodge Celebrates Anniversary of Admission of First President Into Order.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., November 5.—The Fredericksburg Lodge of Masons celebrated the 178th Masonic birthday anniversary of George Washington, who was initiated, passed and raised in the local lodge, with ceremonies in the Elks' Home here.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. William McDougall of Alexandria, and other addresses were made by Mayor Jere M. H. Willis and Karl Ulman, worshipful master of Fredericksburg Lodge.

The Masons of this city have preserved the Bible on which Washington took oath and numerous other mementos of the first President's association with the local lodge.
