THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:—"Gen. Butler, it seems, has a very good reason for not pressing his civil rights bill, and that is the intimation coming from the President that he would certainly veto it in its present form. He would press it if he could be assured of a two-thirds vote, on the idea that its passage by such a vote might have some effect upon the President's action. The Republicans who would rather not be recorded on the bill are well satisfied that it should go by default. The colored people here are indignant, however, and have called upon Judge Hoar to know why he does not press it. They told him plainly that Mr. Sumner left it to him as a sacred legacy, and they ask him to fulfil his duty as executor. Judge Hoar replies that at present there is no hope of success and bids his colored friends to bide their time hopefully."

REMOVAL OF SOLICITOR BANFIELD.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore American says: "It may be stated with certainty that the resignation of Solicitor Banfield, of the Treasury Department, was requested. As is well known, that both the Secretary and the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury place upon that officer the responsibility of the Sanborn contracts, and in this opinion President Grant concurs. The removal, although a part of the former endeavor of Messrs. Richardson and Sawyer to shift their responsibility, will meet with general approbation, not unmixed with fear lest this be put forward as the scape-goat for all the short-comings of the Treasury Department, and be the pretext for holding on to Secretary Richardson."

In the Southern Presbyterian Assembly, yesterday, the topic was "our relations to the Northern Assembly." Three propositions are pending; the first presented, to appoint an uninstructed committee to confer with a Northern committee, not on the subject of organic union, but friendly relations and fraternal correspondence; second, declining to appoint a committee, but stating a readiness to receive and send fraternal delegates; third, refusing correspondence or conference, until the Northern Assembly shall explicitly rescind its action concerning the Southern Assembly. The sentiment of the Assembly is largely in favor of the first proposition. Debate was continued all day.

The British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has, within the last few weeks, made a formal demand upon the Spanish Government for an acknowledgement of the wrong done in the case of the Virginius, asking for compensation to the relatives of the victims who were subjects of Great Britain. He adds that he has not heretofore pressed the matter, in view of the grave troubles in which Spain was involved, but he trusts that now there will be no further delay on the part of that Government.

The New York Evening Post has a paragraph to the effect that Mr. Geo. W. Childs, whose attention has been attracted by statements of the neglect in which the grave of Edgar Allen Poe has so long been suffered to remain, has taken measures to erect, at his own expense, a suitable monument over it, and that it is desirable that the money which has been contributed from other sources for the purpose shall be kept as a fund to preserve the monument and grave in proper order.

Ex-Gov. Fayette McMullin, is irrepressible. He is making a strong bid for a seat in Congress, promising, among other things, to give two thousand dollars of his annual salary as Congressman, to religious and other benevolent objects in his District, including the Blacksburg College. Besides, the Governor promises that if he is "allowed to walk over the course" he will never turn up again, but leave the turf forever to younger men.

The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company have made arrangements, to go into operation June 1st, for an additional through train daily (Sunday excepted) between Richmond and Baltimore. The time between Richmond and Washington will be only four hours and twenty minutes; between Richmond and Baltimore six hours.

A dispatch from New Orleans yesterday says: "A duel was fought on the Melaire Ridge to-day between two Creoles—Guillotte and Pezeros. The weapons were pistols, distance ten paces, fire at will, and advance. Guillotte fired at the word of command, shooting Pezeros through the side, near the heart."

Wm. D. Clagett, esq., one of the oldest, if not the oldest resident of Upper Marlboro', Md., died recently, aged about ninety years. In the war of 1812-14, he served as a lieutenant, and participated in all the memorable events that transpired around Washington at that time.

The Episcopal Convention of the Diocese of Maryland, which has been in session in Washington, adjourned yesterday. The noteworthy topic of discussion was that of Ritualism, to which the sentiment of the body was evidently opposed.

The Southern Historical Society has invited Hon. R. M. T. Hunter to deliver an address before it on such subject as he may select. It is understood that Mr. Hunter will accept.

The Petersburg papers are jubilant over the Conservative triumph achieved in that city on Thursday, and well may they rejoice.

The Warren Sentinel is printed this week on straw-colored paper—and though presenting an antique appearance, look well.

The Parliament of Great Britain and Ireland and the Legislature of Newfoundland having passed all the laws required on their part to give effect to what are known as the fishery clauses of the treaty of Washington, the President of the United States makes proclamation to that effect.

Rev. W. Wheat, long associated with the Staunton Episcopal Seminary, will in all probability be the head of the new school in Winchester.

The Amherst Enterprise says that Capt. Whitehead, M. C., expressed the opinion while home last Saturday that the Civil Rights bill will not pass the House of Representatives.

The stage drivers of New York who struck for higher wages have been entirely defeated. The companies have succeeded in again placing all their omnibuses upon Broadway.

Nearly all the leading journals in the country favor the completion of the Washington National Monument.

NEWS OF THE DAY

"To show the very age and body of the Times"

The ninth census shows that there are only three States in the Union wherin the colored people have a majority, and only two where, on a square division of the races at the polls, the negro majority is large enough to be fairly counted upon. The States in which there are colored majorities are Louisiana, where their preponderance is 2.145; South Carolina, where it is 126,147; and Mississippi, where it is 61,305. In all the other former slaveholding States the whites have a majority.

Henry G. Crowell, who has been superintending the distribution of the Louisiana relief fund in behalf of Boston subscribers, returned from New Orleans yesterday. He says the stories of destitution have not been in the least exaggerated, and that the sufferers will need all the money that can be raised for them. The system of distribution he speaks of in high terms of praise.

The spring meeting of the Maryland Jockey Club, at Pimlico course, closed yesterday. During the four days' racing the weather was fair and pleasant, but the attendance comparatively small. The sport was somewhat marred by a serious injury to the famous steeple-chaser Milesian, which may possibly take the horse off the turf for the future.

The receipts of internal revenue for the month ending yesterday were more than eleven and a quarter millions of dollars.

FOREIGN NEWS.

PARIS, May 29.—The Left Centre held a meeting to-day to consider means of opposing the Bonapartists. M. Favre advocated an alliance with the Right Centre, so that the organization of the Septennate might be completed, the electoral laws passed, and dissolution of the Assembly then voted. He considered the elections would be more moderate if held under a settled Government. The meeting adjourned until Monday, when final action will be taken as to the course to be pursued.

The Committee of the Assembly having the subject under consideration, unanimously approve the postal convention, between France and the United States, but have decided to hear the statements of the Duke de Cazes and the Postal Director, before making their report to the Assembly.

The Roman Catholic pilgrims from the United States, who landed from the steamer Pereire, arrived in this city yesterday and were received by the Archbishop of Paris, who delivered an allocution and gave them his blessing. They departed this morning for Rome, intending to visit the shrines at Lourdes and Paray le Monial on the way.

It is said that Prince Hoheulohe, the German Embassador, will request President MacMahon to prevent Ultramontane demonstrations, which tend to increase the bad feeling between France and Germany.

Several hundred pilgrims have left Marseilles for Paray-le Monial. The American pilgrims did not leave Paris to-day as reported. They remain here until Monday, and then proceed to Lourdes.

ROME, May 29.—The Voz di Verita confirms the reports of the Pope's recovery from illness.

Cardinal Vancielli Casoni is dead.

The Italian Parliament will probably be dissolved in August. The Deputies of the Left will then issue an address to the nation.

It is thought the Pope will sanction the participatioa of Catholics in the next general election.

The Presbyterian General Assembly and the Crusaders.

ST. LOUIS, MO., May 29.—In the Presbyterian General Assembly, this morning, an overture from the Rock River Illinois Presbytery was presented, which desired the Assembly to tell them if St. Paul's language concerning the preaching and praying of women should be interpreted literally, and whether it applies to the praying of women at the weekly prayer meetings. Dr. Crosby, from the committee on overtures, said, "Yes, excepting special cases to be decided by the pastor," but many voices cried "no, no." Judge Drake said if the scriptures spoke plainly and unequivocably on the subject forbidding women to speak or pray, then the answer should be no. If they do not, then it should be an emphatic "yes." [Applause.]

Dr. Aikman thought women should not speak or pray in public.

Dr. Bliss, of Troy, N. Y., thought the women were the "greatest power in the Church—in fact, the right hand of it." [Loud applause from the assembly and the galleries.]

Several speeches were made pro and con, and demonstrations of applause and disapproval were frequent and hearty. Finally the matter was referred to a committee of seven of the presbytery.

Mr. Lawrence, of New York, wanted an expression of the assembly on the question of total abstinence, which led to another discussion, and the subject was placed on the docket.

BREACH OF PROMISE.—In the Circuit Court of Prince Edward, Judge Asa Dickinson presiding, last week, was heard a novel case to Virginia Courts, viz: A suit for a breach of promise. It seems that in December last, Calvin Bliss, a wealthy old man from the North, aged 71, who, since the war, has settled in Prince Edward, proposed marriage to a handsome widow, Mrs. Robinson, of Farmville, about thirty years old, and promised to settle upon her one-third of his real estate, and in addition, $1,500 in cash, to be paid at his death, if she would marry him. She consented and the wardrobe of each party was gotten up, Bliss furnishing the bridal robe, a handsome silk. The guests were invited; the supper prepared; but lo! and behold! when the appointed day and hour had arrived, 4 o'clock p. m., January 29th, 1875, Bliss did not come to time, deterred, it is said, from keeping his promise by the violent opposition of his grown children. Through her attorneys, Mrs. Robinson brought an action for breach of marriage contract, and claimed ten thousand dollars damages. The trial occupied the Court for some twelve hours, and was witnessed by a vast concourse from all parts of the county. The widow and Bliss were both closely examined, and the developments were rich in the extreme. The jury brought in a verdict of damages to the amount of three thousand three hundred dollars.

THE CITY SCHOOL BOARD.

THE QUESTION OF MIXED SCHOOLS.

The Board met last night in the chamber of the Board of Aldermen, (the school office being used as a dressing room by the ladies of the Masonic festival,) present: E. Snowden, jr., esq., Chairman, Messrs. Addison, S. F. Beach, Burke, Hopkins, Neale, Whittlesey and the Superintendent of Schools.

The minutes of the last regular and a subsequent called meeting were read and approved.

Edmund F. Witmer, esq., appointed by the Board of Education a trustee of Public Schools from Snowden District, vice Wm. F. Carne, esq., removed from the district, being in attendance, was duly sworn, by the Superintendent, and took his seat as a member of the Board.

Mr. Burke, from the Committee on Finance and Accounts, reported the consummation of the purchase of Bradley's Building, and the sale of the $5 500 of the city stock at 68½ cts. the proceeds, with the $1,400 appropriated from the treasury having been used in paying $5,000 on the building, which, with a note of $1,000 due Sept. 1st, and one of $1.000 due Oct. 1st, and one of $5.000. due five years hence, made up the price of the purchase. A balance of $167.37 remained, which would be used in paying expenses of transfer, insurance, &c. He also gave a statement of the insurance effected, to the extent of $10,000, as ordered by the Board. On motion the report was accepted. He also reported the bill of Albert Stuart, for examining title and drawing deed, $25; which on motion of Mr. S. F. Beach, was ordered to be paid, on condition that Mr. Stuart make an abstract of title. Also the bills of G. E French for Stationery, &c., $52.71, and an account of T. J. Mehaffey & Co., for coal furnished, showing a ballance of $37.50, both of which were ordered to be paid.

Mr. Hopkins, from the Committee on School Houses and Furniture, reported the employment of B. F. Price, esq., as architect for the alteration of the Peabody School Building, and the erection of a staircase, &c., which were absolutely necessary for the proper use of the schools removed from Prince street and elsewhere. In view of the probable passage of the Civil Rights Bill, he asked the judgment of the Board as to the propriety of proceeding further.

An informal discussion then arose concerning the probable effects of the passage of that bill, and the Superintendent being called upon for his opinion as to the effects, said that he had no doubt that it would result in the instant destruction of the public schools. All those who were now sending their children to the colored schools were, he thought, satisfied, and would keep them there, but there were many who had been misled by the alleged superiority of the white teachers formerly employed by the Freedmen's Aid Societies of the North, a superiority which the result of his examination of many of those pupils had failed to convince him, and some of these would, he had no doubt, instantly apply for the admission of their children to the white schools. The colored teachers and their friends, were, of course, opposed to the school feature of the bill, if to no other, as they knew colored teachers would not be employed to teach mixed schools, even if such schools could be forced on the people. He had noticed in one of the papers, just as he came to the meeting, that Rev. Dr. Sears, than whom no man was a beteer judge, had predicted the entire ruin of the school system throughout the South, if the bill passed, and had urged the religious denomination of which he was a member, to take steps to meet the deficiency by establishing schools, and he, the Superintendent, thought that the only chance for any public education at all would be by establtshing schools under the auspices of the various churches. The Washington School could, he hoped, be supported on a reduced scale by a society; it would be a pity to let it be be destroyed after eighty-nine years of usefulness since its establishment by Washington. He had no doubt of the purpose, on the part of those who were resolved to destroy our present educational system, to force upon us that which had been proposed in the last Congress; the giving of authority to the President of the United States to appoint, in any State, which had, in his judgment, no sufficient school system, commissioners in each county, with power to establish schools, and levy the necessary tax for their support. There were, at the North; many hundreds of persons who had taught in the South under the auspicies of the Freedmen's Bureau and various societies, who would be very glad to come back and make their living out of us, under the auspicies of the commissioners so appointed, and the Board could see how strong was the influence they and their friends could wield in favor of the destruction of our present system. It behooved us, therefore to be very discreet in our action, as any precipitancy might bring great evils upon us. It would be better probably to support schools, nominally mixed, really colored, as they would be, for a short time, than to put ourselves again at the mercy of adventurers. He did not consider any action necessary with regard to the Peabody Building, at this time, as the committee was unanimous in the determination to do nothing more until the question of mixed schools was settled. There might be, however, some trouble given by mischievous persons, this session, if the Civil Rights Bill should pass, and in order to prevent that he offered an amendment to the 9th By-Law, as follows: "No permit shall be issued, however, after the first day of May, in any school year," explaining that several Northern and Western cities had such a rule, which was intended to prevent children entering at a period too late to learn anything of value, and thus embarrassing the teachers. The amendment was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Neale then had read informally, a resolution appointing a committee to present to Congress a remonstrance against the mixed school feature of the Civil Rights Bill. He would not press it unless it met the unanimous approbation of the Board, but he understood that School Boards throughout the South, generally, were taking that course.

Mr. Addison said that he would have no objection to the resolution if he thought its passage would be useful; he feared, however, that our remonstrance would have no effect whatever.

Mr. Hopkins said that whatever might be the action of this Board, he was sure the City Council would not appropriate anything for public schools should the Civil Rights Bill pass in its present form. Perhaps they could be forced to furnish the money, but from what he knew of the temper of the members, nothing would be done voluntarily in that direction.

Mr. Snowden (Mr. Burke in the chair,) agreed with the Superintendent that great care was necessary in acting on this question. He felt sure, however, that the General Assembly would find some means of stopping the State appropriation, and if the city refused its quota the Board would not have the question to meet, as without money no schools could be sustained. He would be very sorry to have to dismiss any of the teachers, but it would, in that case, be unavoidable. Several of the colored teachers had spoken with him on the subject, and he believed them to be sincerely opposed to the measure. He would take occasion, in this connection, to say that those teachers were, in his judgment, very well qualified persons, and that they had always treated him in his intercourse with them in a most polite and respectful manner. He was inclined, however, to take a more hopeful view of the matter than others; a gentleman thought to be in the confidence of the President had expressed the opinion that the bill would be vetoed if passed, and Gen. Hunton did not think it could be forced through the House this session.

Mr. Neale then withdrew his resolution.

The Superintendent consulted the Board as to examinations for the current year. He wished some deffinite rule on the subject; last year he had been required to re-examine the teachers, and had refused license to two, yet they had been re-elected. He knew them to be good teachers for the lowest grade, and was glad the Board had re-elected them, but its action looked a little inconsistent.

Mr. S F. Beach said he could see no use in re-examining persons whose qualifications were already known, and on his motion, after some conversation on the subject, it was Ordered, That no re-examination of teachers be required, except for promotion to higher grades.

The Superintendent laid before the Board the resignation of Miss Jennie K. Shay as a teacher, and suggested leaving the vacancy unfilled, as he thought it would be profitable to make some transfers among the teachers, and to have a new examination before electing any new teacher. We could get first grade teachers, and none but second grade ones were now eligible for election.

On motion of Mr. Hopkins, Miss Shay's resignation was accepted, and, on motion of Mr. Witmer, who read an application from the lady, the Superintendent was authorized to continue Miss Julia Eveleth as substitute teacher in charge of Lee School No. 4, until July 1st.

On motion of Mr. S. F. Beach, it was ordered that the white schools be examined on the 29th and the colored on the 30th of June, and that the session end on the last named day.

The Superintendent stated that it was the opinion of Mr. Albert Stuart that the Board, to authenticate deeds, &c., made by its authority, should have a corporate seal, whereupon the Superintendent and Messrs. S. F. Beach and Neale were appointed to procure one.

On motion of the Superintendent, authority was given him to have the usual Cards of Honor printed, and the sum of $35 was appropriated to pay Miss Eveleth's salary for the month of June.

The Board then adjourned.

HAYMARKET, May 29.—The following list gives the official count for township officers for Gainesville Township, at the election held yesterday: Supervisor, Crawford Cushing, 261; Assessor, J. Y. Jordan, 280; Justice of the Peace, Edmund Berkley, 218; Constable, James McDonough, 5; Nelson Elliott, 45.

There was no opposition except for the places of Collector and Constable. In the latter case Mr. McDonough, who formerly filled that office satisfactorily, declined to serve again, the emoluments being little or nothing, and not suspecting what has occurred, the whites failed to place one of their number on the ticket for that office. Seeing which, a certain colored school master of this neighborhood who bosses the colored votes, succeeded, secretly, in placing the name of Nelson Elliott on a sufficient number of ballots to elect that party to office. Not a whisper of such a thing reached our ears until the ballot boxes were opened at sunset. Another lesson for the white man. Of course this thing will amount to nothing except as a lesson, as Nelson Elliott is totally unfit for any office in the gift of his people.

Congress.

In the Senate, yesterday, a memorial was presented from the freedmen residing among the Chickasaw and Choctaw Indians setting forth that they are still slaves except in name. The House bill repealing moieties was reported from the Finance Committee, with an amendment providing a method by which books and papers of merchants whom the Government may proceed against can be seized. A committee of conference on the Currency bill was agreed to, the Senate first deciding by vote to adhere to the amendments which it made to the bill. The committee on commerce reported adversely upon the bill to incorporate the Inland and Seaboard Coasting Company of the District of Columbia. The bill to authorize the Baltimore and Ohio railroad to construct a branch road and change the location of its depot was amended, providing that the whole of the branch road to be constructed shou'd be laid outside of the city of Washington; the bill passed. A number of personal relief bills were passed, and the Senate adjourned till Monday.

In the House of Representatives the bill for the gradual reduction of the army was passed. Gen. Butler offered an amendment prohibiting the removal of the headquarters of the army from Washington, but it was rejected. A bill to remit the well known claim of George Chorpenning for compensation for mail transportation to the Court of Claims was reported, but sent back to the Judiciary Committee. The Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bill was taken up, and the House by large majorities refused to concur in almost every one of the many Senate amendments increasing salaries and creating new offices in the Civil Service. The House ordered a committee of conference on the bill. Mr. Swann, of Maryland, presented the memorial of the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore setting forth that the Baltimore and Ohio railroad was, before January 1, 1864, assessed an internal tax of $13.500; that the money was illegally assessed and paid erroneously out of the amount of annual interest due to the city of Baltimore by the company, and asking for the passage of an act to refund the amout with interest. The House then adjourned till Monday.

PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY ITEMS.—[From the Manassas Gazette.(—It is proposed by some of our citizen to have a Fourth of July Celebration at or near Manassas. Those friendly to it are invited to meet at the Township hall on Wednesday the 3d of June, for the purpose of making proper arrangements.

Rev. William I. Bain who was the popular pastor of the M. E. Church at Manassas for a long time, and now stationed in Sumerset county Md., has been presented a new buggy and harness costing upwards of $200 by the members of his congregation in Maryland.

The wheat, oats and grass crops, look fair for a large yield, and the corn planted is standing well. The fruit crop though it may not be a large one, will be of good quality, and sufficient for the local demand.

The races that are to take place on Thursday and Friday the 4th and 5th of June, over the new Manassas Course, promise to be quite an interesting season with the sporting fraternity. The track though new, is in excellent condition.

The ladies will prepare a supper, and strawberry festival at the new Episcopal Church building in Manassas, on the evenings of Thursday and Friday the 4th and 5th of June.

Hon. James B. Sener succeeded last Friday in passing the appropriation through the House of Representatives to pay the "Bradley School House claim.

Mr. I. C. Opeal of Alexandria will address the children's Meeting at the M. E. church on Sunday.

Richard M. Weir has sold the vacant lot on the corner of Battle and Church streets to Geo. C. Round for $115.00.

FAIRFAX COUNTY ITEMS.—[From the Fairfax News.]—A rumor has reached here—which is believed to be reliable—to the effect that a very wealthy English company have purchased the property and water power at the Big Falls of the Potomac river, with a view to the establishment of vast manufacturing works and improvements at that point.

An election for "path master," or, as the benighted are wont to call it, overseer of roads, in district No. 2, was held at the Court House here on Monday last, which resulted as follows: For B. Canfield. 5 votes; for Elida Watkins, 4 votes—majority for Canfield. 1.

We understand that the prospect for a wheat crop was never better than now, and the same may be said of hay. Mr. A. Broadwater has a field of wheat that is worth going some distance to see; it is pronounced to be very superior.

We understand that Mr. Amos Fox received through the post-office here yesterday a petition, signed by 60 names, from Falls Church, asking him to keep off with his "saloon."

MIXED SCHOOLS.—The New York Times prints an excellent editorial article on the subject of mixed schools. It urges with great clearness and force the wisdom of permitting the people to work out this problem for themselves, especially as all parties in the South heartily support the doctrine of free schools for all the children of the proper school age, white and colored, and make no discrimination against the latter in favor of the former, although the pecuniary burden falls most heavily on the white people of the Southern States, and, moreover, because the colored people of the South have not, in any case where they have the majority, attempted to establish, or appeared to desire, mixed schools.

It is feared by the most thoughtful Republicans of the Southern States that the attempt to compel mixed schools by a Congressional act may destory the system of public schools altogether in several of the Southern States.—Washington Chronicle.
