LOCAL NEWS.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—The election for municipal officers in this city, yesterday passed off quietly and resulted in a great Conservative success. The Conservative candidate for Mayor, all five of the candidates for Aldermen and their entire Council ticket, with the exception of three members from the Fourth Ward, having been elected by large majorities. Their candidate for City Sergeant, though the regular nominee of the party—nominated by two primary elections—was defeated by a majority of three votes. The Fourth Ward which has always heretofore elected a straight Radical ticket by a large majority, reduced itself by electing S. C. Neale for Alderman, and C. H. Smith for Common Council, but unfortunately failed to elect Mr. J. B. Smoot, whose services would have been of great assistance to the new Board and advantagous to the city's interest. The following is a copy of the official vote:

THE FENCE CLUB.—This is the name of a recently organized club in the city. It is composed of many of the younger and more active members of the Republican party, with R. B. Hopkins as President, J. A. Branch vice-President and A. C. Butler Secretary. The object of the association is to support the best men for local offices, without regard to party. The result of the contest for Council, especially in the 4th Ward on yesterday, was a gratifying illustration of their efficiency, and we can only regret that the whole ticket was not elected. Robert Hopkins is also President of the 4th Ward Republican club, although he was known to have been in full sympathy with the purposes and objects of the "Fence Club," which he so consistently and effectually aided on yesterday.

THE VIRGINIA MIDLAND RAILROAD.—A writer in the Loudoun Enterprise says: "I know of no railroad in the United States which passes through a country so full of interest to an intelligent tourist as the Virginia Midland. From Alexandria to beyond Charlottesville it is historic ground, hallowed by associations and memories, bright with the light of heroic devotion to principle and to patriotism, and of buried genius which has illustrated and adorned nearly every page of the history of the Republic. The whole line of this road runs through the heart of "the Old Dominion," and a greater part of it through mountain scenery hardly surpassed, anywhere in the world, for bold and varied grandeur."

POLICE REPORT.—The following cases have been reported at police headquarters since yesterday afternoon: Matilda Lee, for abusing Susan Bryant, both colored, was recognized for a future examination. Warrants were issued for the arrest of five young men, charged with disorderly conduct at the old Court-house last night. A disturbance occurred yesterday afternoon at the corner of Queen and Patrick streets between two young men, neither of whom was hurt, and no one was arrested.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL EXCURSION.—The excursion of the M. E. Church Sunday-school on the steamer Mary Washington to Mt. Vernon Springs, yesterday, was a delightful affair to all who joined the party. The day was spent in boating, trips to Accotink and Mt. Vernon, and in rambles in the woods and along the river shore. The steamer returned in good time.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire about half past two o'clock this afternoon was caused by an incendiary attempt to fire the house adjoining the stable of the Hydraulion Fire Company on the north, lately occupied by Col. French, but now the property of Gen. Denver. The fire was kindled in the cellar immediately under the framed passageway connecting in front with the back building, and had communicated with that passageway before it was discovered. The fire department was speedily on the ground and the flames were extinguished before a greater loss than fifty dollars had been sustained.

ALMOST A FIRE.—Quite an excitement was created in the house of Justice Jos. Padgett, at the lower end of Prince street, last night. Mrs. Padgett felt something crawling on her bed, and arising, lighted an oil lamp to see what it was, but was so much flurried when she saw a centipede on her neck that she turned the lamp over and set fire to the bed clothing. The flames were extinguished before any damage had been done other than the destruction of some bed clothing and wearing apparel.

FAIRFAX COUNTY.—Persons who left Fairfax Court House this morning, report that the returns from nearly all the precincts had been received and indicated the election of J. H. Chichester, Independent, for Treasurer, and Jacob M. Thorn for Commissioner of revenue for the Northern District, over their conservative competitors R. F. Broadwater and J. W. Graham. F. D. Richardson conservative, is elected clerk and J. M. Love, Commonwealth's Attorney.

THE GREAT FALLS.—The Great Falls of the Potomac are visited by more people now than ever before. Large fishing parties from Washington, this city and the surrounding country can be seen along the shores on both sides of the river there almost daily, and they have fine sport, though no black bass have been caught there for the last three weeks.

PROPERTY SALE.—Green & Wise, auctioneers and real estate agents, sold to-day the two brick dwellings and lots on east side of Fairfax street, between Wolfe and Wilkes streets, belonging to the estate of Jno. L. Pascoe, dec'd., as follows: House No. 112, to G. W. Heisley, for $425, and house No. 114 to Noble Smith, for $425.

DREDGING.—The rapidity with which the docks of this city are filled up with mud is remarkable. Smoot's docks, which were cleaned out but a short time ago have already become so shallow that Dodge's dredging machine was again set to work this morning in making them deeper.

ARRESTED FOR FALSE SWEARING.—Richard F. Jackson, of Fairfax county, was held in $1,000 for a further appearance by the Police Court to-day, on the charge of falsely swearing before the Southern claims commission that he was the owner of a certain farm near the Chain bridge.

BLUE FISH.—Among the delicious fresh fish that are now brought to this market are blue fish, fresh from the waters of the Chesapeake. A fine lot of them packed in ice will reach here to-morrow morning on the steamer Jane Moseley, consigned to W. H. Travers & Bro.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Miss Mary Fendall, sister of Mr. Townshend Fendall of this city, met with a serious accident yesterday, at her home in Prince George's county Maryland. She fell down accidentally and fractured her thigh bone near the hip.

WONDERFUL ESCAPE.—The Clarke Courier says: "A small colt belonging to Mr. Washington Lewis fell into a well twenty feet deep, one day last week, and when taken out it was discovered to have sustained no other injury than a slight bruise on the back."

SETTLERS.—Two families from Pennsylvania arrived here this morning and passed on through for Rappahannock station, Midland railroad, near which place they had bought farms upon which they are to settle.

RICHMOND, Va., May 28.—Returns from the municipal and county elections, held yesterday, show Conservative victories, with large gains. The Holyoke Disaster.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., May 28.—Of course the intensest excitement prevailed last night in the streets of Holyoke centering opposite the church at which the fire occurred, and at the various points to which the burned were carried. Wild efforts were made by the people to rush pell mell into the burning building to rescue their friends, and it was with difficulty they were kept back. This was particularly the case with parents who had, on the first impulse, rushed from the church to save their own lives, but suddenly remembered they had left children behind to perish. Actual personal violence had to be used in several cases to keep women back. All about the streets men, women and children were wandering, piteously inquiring if their friends had been saved. One woman was positive that her husband had perished, and could only be quieted by the assurance from a friend that he had just been walking with him. One of the most touching cases was that of two little girls, about 12 years of age, who rushed for the entrance of the building while the fire was at its height, thinking to find their father and mother, who were within. They could only be restrained by an officer, who took them in his arms. Those engaged in pulling out bodies noticed that almost every woman had bracelets on the wrists, and had evidently worn their best for a special occasion. It is a disputed question whether both the front doors were available for escape. There are those who state positively that one of them was closed, and that it was impossible to open it on account of the crush. One man, it is asserted, went to the closed door, and flourishing a club, threatened violence to anyone who came near in order to get the crowd away, but without success. Others state as positively that both doors were open. The church society was established about seven years ago, and Father Dusfresne had been the only pastor. The parish included all the French Catholics, whose number is estimated at from 2,000 to 2,500 persons. The church was erected in 1870, and its dimensions were about 100 feet by 60, two stories, built entirely of pine, with galleries on the sides and north end about 25 feet wide. There were two doors in the north end and a vestibule, from which two doors opened in the body of the church. The galleries opened into the vestibule. At the rear end was another door, by which few persons escaped. Immediately upon the breaking out of the flames all the occupants of the galleries rushed to the east door and crowded so that they fell upon one another and choked up the doorways with their bodies piled in all ways seven or eight feet deep, and here most of the lives were lost. From this mass Chief Mullin rescued one young woman after taking off two dead bodies from above her. It was almost impossible to face the flames, and Chief Mullin and others had their clothes almost burned from them, and were badly burned themselves about the hands. In rear of the church was the priest's residence, which was also destroyed. The walls were pulled down after the fire was nearly put out. One woman jumped from the highest window down upon the front steps, breaking an arm, but she is not known to have been otherwise injured. A man, with two children in his arms, jumped from a window and escaped. One poor woman, enveloped in flames, shrieked out, "For God's sake save me," and she was dragged out by John Lynch.

The latest dispatch to the Republican from Holyoke says it is not quite certain that all the bodies have been taken from the ruins. In the haste to get as many as possible from the building before it fell many were taken out a short distance, and it is possible that a few more may be taken from the debris.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., May 28—noon.—The bodies of fifty persons burned to death at Holyoke last night have been identified—in addition to these fifteen or twenty who were at once removed to their homes by their friends. Nearly seventy have died, and some forty more are more or less burned or otherwise injurned. The hero of the disaster was John Lynch, a brave fireman, who was first to respond to the alarm. He describes the scene when he reached the burning church as appalling. Wedged tight and immovable in the doorways was a dense mass of humanity from six to eight feet in height, none of them able to stand upright from the terrible pressure of the crowd behind; while upon and over them a sheet of fire rolled like a wave, streaming far out into the open air. Without a moment's pause to consider their danger Lynch and Chief Engineer Mullin rushed into the flames, spurred on by piteous cries, "For God's sake come and help us," and began pulling out bodies. A moment later and a well directed hydrant stream from the Mt. Holyoke hose struck the brave rescuers, and immediately saved them from being burned alive. The first persons drawn out were burning, but they passed directly through the stream of water, and the flames, which were devouring them, were extinguished. Some of the poor creatures fell fainting on a long flight of wooden steps leading down to the street, and few were able to walk, though with considerable effort. By this time the entire fire department had arrived and worked with such energy and will that when the fire was extinguished charred wooden walls were standing and were pulled down by the hook and ladder men in order that the search for bodies might be made. Only a very few moments comparatively elapsed after the water struck the building before the fire was out, but the destruction to life during that brief period of time was terrible. Some sprang from gallery windows, and were seriously injured, and one person appeared at the window completely wrapt in flames, and after tottering there an instant fell to the ground dead and unrecognizable. Hundreds of men went to work as soon as opportunity offered to search for bodies, and a force of police was organized to keep back the large crowd which had gathered. The work of extricating bodies was sad indeed, and the greater number of them were found in the fatal entry way burned, some of them, to a crisp. The body of one woman was found in the seat she had occupied, the clothing entirely burned off. A fleshy woman, weighing some 180 lbs., was dragged screaming from the mass. She was carried a short distance from the church and placed on the grass, while flesh actually peeled off her back. In a moment she fell over dead. Scenes last night and to-day in the school house basement where the bodies of the dead were carried, were heart-rending in the extreme. Stumps of limbs burned to a crisp, protruded from under sheets, and as the face cloth was lifted from heads, the scarred and blackened remains were disclosed. In some instances the features were distorted as though extreme agony had been suffered before death ensued. But many looked calm as though smothered, yet they were all blackened with smoke. Some were burned beyond the possibility of identification, nothing remaining but the trunks of the body. A coroner's jury was summoned to day, but the excitement continues so intense that it was judged best not to attempt the taking of evidence and the inquest was adjourned till Monday.

Personal.

CINCINNATI, May 28.—The Commercial has the following dispatch from Detroit: On Monday H. H. Holt, Lieutentant Governor of this State, was severely caned by Mr. Trott, a prominent citizen of Muskegon, for an alleged insult offered to his (Trott's) wife. Mr. Holt published a card, reciting that while standing in the doorway of his office, talking with Mrs. Trott, he leaned forward as if to kiss her, at the same time placing his hand upon her shoulder. She removed his hand and immediately left him. He regarded the matter at the time as a joke and thought no more of it. Holt was considerably cut by the cane. Trott afterwards procured a pistol, and was, with some difficulty, restrained from shooting Holt.

PESTS.—Reports are in circulation that the grasshoppers are invading portions of Loudoun. This report we are prepared to say is false, and there is nothing as yet indicating the approach of the species of hoppers that caused such destruction in Kansas last year. The potato bug is certainly here, and into business on a large scale. We hear that these bugs are not confining themselves to the potato, but are trying their hand on the tomato.—Loudoun Enterprise.

COMMON COUNCIL.

At an adjourned meeting of the Common Council, held May 27, 1875, there were present: George R. Shinn, esq., President, and Messrs. Wood, Moore, Hopkins, Eichberg, McKenzie, Broders, Harlow, Risheill, Schofield, Hughes and Lucas.

A bill entitled an act to appropriate the city revenue for the year ending May 31, 1876, read and ordered to lie over and be printed at the meeting held May 18, 1875, was called up.

Mr. McKenzie moved to amend by striking out $5,000 for repairing streets and inserting $2,500, which was lost by the following vote: Ayes, Messrs. Moore and McKenzie—2. Noes, Messrs. Wood, Eichberg, Hopkins, Broders, Harlow, Schofield, Risheill, Lucas, Hughes and Mr. President—10.

Mr. McKenzie moved to amend by striking out the line appropriating $500 for Market House expenses, and his motion was carried.

Mr. McKenzie moved to still further amend by inserting the following as an additional section, viz:

Be it further enacted, That it shall not be lawful for the Auditor to issue his warrant for any amount in excess of the several appropriations aforesaid, and it shall be his duty at the first meeting of the City Council to notify them if the appropriations are exhausted and thereafter, until both Boards authorize an appropriation, no warrants shall be drawn beyond the amount herewith appropriated.

On motion of Mr. Harlow the consideration of the line appropriating $61,500 for interest on the public debt was passed

The remaining lines of the bill were then approved, and the meeting adjourned till the night of Monday next, the 31st instant.
